CONGRESS SWINGS TO TAX CUT

PARLEY ON WAR IN CHINA URGES PEACE AND DIES

Failure Admitted by 19 Nations.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Nov. 24.—The nine power treaty conference on Japan's undeclared war against China closed up this afternoon adopting a declaration of principles. The declaration condemned the use of armed forces in disputes between nations and appealed to China and Japan to stop fighting.

In effect, the nineteen nations represented at the conference admitted they were powerless to stop the conflict. An economic boycott of Japan and direct aid to China has been considered. The United States, along with Great Britain, promoted the parley after President Roosevelt made his speech on war and peace in Chicago six weeks ago. In it he called for a "quarantine" of aggressor nations.

Davis Calls It a "Recess."

The conference was buried so far as any concerted action among the powers to uphold the treaty guaranteeing China's territorial integrity was concerned. However, Norman H. Davis, chief American delegate, reminded the other delegates they were only taking a recess. He further made it clear that the United States is not retreating from its exposed position in the far east.

"This recess," said Davis, "does not in any sense signify that the problem we have been considering is to be dropped or that our interest in its solution is to be in any way lessened.

"On the contrary, it rather makes it all the more important to continue earnestly and actively to seek every possible peaceable means for bringing about a cessation of hostilities and a constructive settlement. For myself I may say that with this end in view I am returning home for consultation with my government."

Achievements Are Outlined.

"Nothing has been lost and much has been gained through the fact of our having assembled, of having engaged in an exchange of views, and having exerted the efforts thus far made. On the basis of the exchange of views each of our respective governments will have a more accurate understanding of the problem which confronts us in common or those features of that problem which are of immediate and peculiar concern to it.

"Each and all of the governments here represented will be able to proceed with further shaping of policies in relation to the far eastern situation in the light of more complete knowledge of the difficulties and possibilities involved than was possessed by any of us before the conference began.

Points to Common Attitude.

"We have put on record and have made available to the world affirmations of a common view and declarations of a common attitude. We have enunciated the fundamental principles which, in their relations with one another, should contribute substantially toward molding sound and helpful world opinion and official thought."

The declaration of principles declares that the war in the far east and respect for treaties in general remain matters of concern to all members of the conference whether because of commitments under the nine power treaty, because of special interest in the far east, or because of their general interest in peace.

"The conference is convinced that force by itself can provide no just and lasting solution for disputes between nations," the document said.

"It continues to believe it would be to the immediate and ultimate interest of both parties to the present dispute [China and Japan] to avail themselves of the assistance of others in an effort to bring hostilities to an early end as a necessary preliminary

THANKSGIVING'S ORIGINS LIVE IN UNDYING STORY

"Our harvest being gotten in, our governor (Bradford) sent four men on fowling, so that we might, after a special manner, rejoice together after we had gathered the fruit of our labors. . . . By the goodness of God, we are so far from want, that we wish you partakers of our plenty."—A colonist's account of the First Thanksgiving.

Through a mellow haze that seemed to soften the ugly outlines of the Massachusetts colony, 55 men and women were preparing 316 years ago to observe the first Thanksgiving Day in the new world. From Burial Hill rose a puff of smoke, then a dull boom sounded, and those below bowed their heads in memory of the fellow colonists who had perished in the first bleak winter.

Down from the hill then marched Capt. Miles Standish and his oddly dressed army of 19. Their return broke the mood of meditation, and the colonists began the day's preparations joyfully, but with a spirit of humble thankfulness.

Edward Winslow, whose name stands third as a signer to the original compact in the little cabin of the Mayflower, vividly described the condition and feeling of the colony when he wrote to his friend, George Morton.

Reasons for Thanks.

Winslow, later to serve three times as governor of the colony, explained:

"We set the last spring some twenty acres of Indian corn and sowed some six acres of barley and peas, and according to the manner of the Indians, we manured our ground with herrings or rather shads, which we have in great abundance and take with great ease at our doors.

"Our corn did prove well; and, God be praised, we had a good increase of Indian corn and our barley indifferent good, but our peas not worth the gathering, for we feared they were too late down. . . .

"Our harvest being gotten in, our governor [Bradford] sent four men on fowling, so that we might, after a special manner, rejoice together after we had gathered the fruit of our labors.

"They four in one day killed as many fowl as, with a little help beside, served the company almost a week, at which time, amongst other recreations, we exercised our arms, many of the Indians coming among us, and among the rest their greatest king, Massasoit, with some ninety men, whom for three days we entertained and feasted, and they went out and killed five deer which they brought to the plantation, and bestowed on our governor, and on the captain, and on the others.

"And although it is not always so plentiful as it was at this time with us, yet by the goodness of God, we are so far from want that we wish you partakers of our plenty."

Standish Picks 4 Hunters.

The "four men sent on fowling" by Capt. Standish were Doty, Soule, Latham, and Billington. Of other things there were plenty, dumplings already made of barley flour, puddings of corn flour, pumpkin pies, grapes, plums, oysters, clams and home brewed ale. The walls of the cabins were hung with dried herbs

AS WE GIVE THANKS FOR THE YEAR'S BLESSINGS

Well, here we are again. The day we give thanks for the blessings we have had, not for those we are going to have.

We have much to be thankful for. We are not destroying billions of our wealth in war. Our boys are not dying on foreign battlefields.

Our other worries are slight compared to what this would be.

Our corn, wheat, potato, and cotton crops have broken records. The surpluses may disturb the economists, but not as much as a crop failure would disturb the rest of us.

Perhaps we should learn to eat more corn and thus cut down the surplus. Our forefathers lived on corn and were strong and virile. Nothing tastes better than cornmeal mush fried mush, and blackberry jam, or hominy and ham gravy.

With our tremendous cotton surplus we might wear cotton stockings instead of silk. Fifty million ladies switching from silk stockings to cotton would solve the cotton surplus problem. The stockings would be cheaper and warmer and almost as easy to look at.

There is still much unemployment, but no hunger, so far as we know.

Stocks have been very weak. Perhaps it was to be expected after a steady climb of three years. Either they made a mistake in climbing so fast or in sitting down so suddenly.

If you look at the stock quotations you will think the country is headed for disaster. If you look at the record breaking football crowds you will think perhaps all is not lost.

Which is the better barometer, the stock market or the football crowds?

Remember, nothing is ever perfect. There always will be dark spots as well as bright ones.

Be thankful for what we have and grateful that it is not worse.

1,300 Drivers on Greyhound Lines Strike

Union bus drivers employed by the Greyhound lines in sixteen states went on strike at one minute past midnight this morning when the federal government's efforts to avert the walkout collapsed. As union officials announced that 1,300 drivers had left their posts, Greyhound executives summoned reserve drivers who had been called in from furloughs and leaves to take the places of the strikers.

The strike affects eight divisions of the bus lines in the area east of the Mississippi river and north of the Ohio river and Norfolk, Va. West and northwest bound buses out of Chicago are not affected. Drivers who were at the wheel at midnight were instructed to stop their buses at the nearest station where passengers could obtain other transportation.

Hotel Meetings Held.

The walkout, which was called for Oct. 10, then postponed for further negotiations, was ordered at Cleveland, where union and company representatives met until a few minutes before midnight with John L. Conner, a labor department conciliator, who arrived by plane from Washington shortly after 8 p. m. The two groups occupied separate suites at the Hollenden hotel and Mr. Conner shuttled back and forth between them.

In one suite was Ivan Bowen, counsel for the lines, and in the other were S. R. Harvey, assistant president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, with whom the bus drivers are affiliated; J. A. Wolfe, president of lodge 773, the bus drivers' division of the brotherhood, and others.

Police Details Organized.

Capt. John Prendergast, chief of the uniformed police, spent the early hours of the night organizing special police details to guard Greyhound garages and stations here.

Reports from half a dozen of the larger cities during the early morning indicated it would be many hours before the full effect of the strike is known. Claims of the companies and the union were in conflict. There was minor violence in Cleveland.

Both east and west bound buses left Chicago on almost schedule from midnight to 1:30 a. m. Regular Greyhound drivers were at the wheels, officials said.

A CASE OF FOWL PLAY IS IN THE BAG, BUT THE SERGEANT BEEFS

It was Thanksgiving eve and Benjamin Leon had five chickens still to sell. He put the fowls in a coop on the sidewalk in front of his butcher shop at 3002 Harrison street, hoping their cheerful clatter over their corn would attract a customer in search of today's pièce de résistance.

It did. Leon looked up just in time to see two colored youths make off with the birds, coop and all.

In a few minutes there came another call to the Warren avenue station. It was Sergeant John Racek, squad leader. He had just arrested two colored boys, each with a bag. In the two bags were five live ducks, much incensed at such cavalier treatment. No, said the sergeant, they weren't chickens, they were ducks.

A call to Mr. Leon's butcher shop. No, said Mr. Leon, they weren't ducks, they were chickens.

The desk sergeant said okay, and the hell with both of 'em, he was going out and eat a steak.

Travels of Old Trunk Trap 3 Train Looters

An old steamer trunk that made repeated trips between Chicago and southern Illinois cities was revealed yesterday as the means through which two baggage men and an express messenger were trapped in thefts of men's and women's wearing apparel, valued at between $15,000 and $20,000, from express shipments.

The story of the trunk was told before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker, who held the three men to the federal grand jury on $2,500 bonds each.

All Are Veteran Employés.

The men are James Downs, 52 years old, 6223 Dorchester avenue, and Harry Twine, 45 years old, 1529 East 60th street, who have been employed for twenty-four and twenty-two years by the Illinois Central railroad, and Thomas Peifer, 49 years old, 1802 South 2d avenue, Maywood, who has worked for the Railway Express agency for twenty-seven years.

As the story was related by Lieut. James Kerr of the detective bureau cartage detail and Lieut. Albert Weldenhofer of the express agency's special police the men had evolved a complex stealing system during the last six years.

Downs and Twine worked on the run between Chicago and Centralia, and Peifer worked between Chicago and Cairo. On certain days Peifer and one of the others would be on the same run. Knowing this in advance, they would arrange to ship a trunk loaded with newspapers and magazines on their train. Between Chicago and Centralia they would empty the trunk and refill it with merchandise from express shipments.

Trunk Always Comes Home.

Generally the trunk would be put off at Centralia, and Downs or Twine would take the next train back to Chicago, bringing the trunk with him. It would then be sent to the home of one of the men. Sometimes the trunk would be sent to another point on the line, always addressed to one of the three men.

The frequent use of the same trunk was what aroused the suspicion of police and they watched it. As a result, about $500 worth of the stolen merchandise was found in the homes of the men, who confessed and named various receivers.

Briton Blasts U.S. 'Blunders' as World Peril

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Robert J. G. Boothby, Conservative member of parliament, startled the house of commons tonight with a vicious attack on President Roosevelt's economic policy.

Boothby, who for two days has been urging the British government to call on the American government to enter some arrangement with England about keeping a stabilized level of prices, charged that the Washington administration had perpetrated a series of "fantastic, willful blunders" which threaten the entire economic system of the world.

Spokesmen for Financial Groups.

Boothby, 37 years old, a former parliamentary secretary to Winston Churchill, has served in parliament since 1924. He is a wealthy stock broker and a member of the firm of Chase, Henderson and Tennant, said to have close connections with a large Wall street firm. His wife is the daughter of Lord Richard Cavendish.

Boothby's tirade came in the midst of an academic debate on socialism versus capitalism. With the Anglo-American trade pact project still a highlight here, Boothby announced the time has come for "plain speaking from this side of the Atlantic." He warned the members of parliament that if the American President continued his present policy, such a slump of prices would follow that there would be no trade left to agree about.

Hits Sabotage in Economics.

Boothby then went on:

"What is the use of making a trade agreement or attempting to cooperate with a government which seems determined to sabotage the economic system under which we live—without any alternative system put in its place?

"In the spring of this year the President of the United States of America suddenly announced that in his opinion commodity prices were too high although actually they were lower than the level of 1926 which hitherto had been his declared objective.

"He followed this by doing everything in his power to discourage investments in capital industries of the United States.

Confidence Shattered, He Says.

"Confidence, which is so much easier to undermine than to inspire, was absolutely shattered and this has led inevitably to acute deflation—deflation which involved a catastrophic fall not only in stock markets but in commodity prices and the industrial output.

"As a result of that, at a very critical moment, the underlying strength of democratic countries has been greatly diminished and the danger of war sensibly increased."

Boothby added that "whether we like it or not" Britain's economic fortunes are tied to those of the United States.

He urged that the British government, before making further efforts for a trade ageement with the United States, ask Mr. Roosevelt to state precisely what his intentions are and "whether he is prepared to coöperate in a genuine effort to restore the stability and prosperity of the world."

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—With industrial activity continuing to decline and the stock market continuing to sag, the Democratic movement to rescind immediately the Roosevelt punitive taxes on business threatened to assume stampede proportions today.

Aroused by the crisis, President Roosevelt rushed his favorite business emissary, Chairman Joseph P. Kennedy of the maritime commission, to Capitol hill to avert precipitate action in the direction of discrediting the Roosevelt soak the rich tax program.

Leaders Gain Support.

Senator Pat Harrison [D., Miss.], chairman of the senate finance committee, and Senator James F. Byrnes [D., S. C.], one time Roosevelt spokesman in the senate, had gained tremendous support for their plea that congress proceed forthwith at this session to modify radically, if not to repeal, the punitive tax on undistributed corporation profits.

Inasmuch as all tax measures, under the constitution, must originate in the house, senate and house Democrats advocating immediate tax relief brought great pressure to bear on the house leaders and the ways and means committee to bring in a special bill for reduction of business taxes immediately after disposition of the farm subsidy bill in the house next week. It was reported the house leaders were yielding.

Tries to Get Postponement.

Chairman Kennedy sought out Senators Harrison and Byrnes and tried to induce them to halt their drive for tax legislation at this session. He argued that immediate reduction of the taxes derived from undistributed profits and for capital gains would upset all calculations on the budget which the President will send to congress the first week in January. He pleaded for postponement of action until the regular session after the presentation of the budget.

While this was the ostensible motive for urging postponement of action, the real reason is said to be Mr. Roosevelt's fear that if the revision of business taxes is taken up at this session amid the clamor to aid business the result would be the outright repeal of the undistributed profits levy. Such repudiation of a major Roosevelt policy would damage Roosevelt prestige.

Hope to Save President's Face.

If, however, the revision of business taxes is held in abeyance until the general overhauling of the tax laws next session there will be a better chance of making a deal to save the President's face.

After Kennedy departed, Senator Harrison called in the experts to advise him whether the undistributed profits tax could be repealed without upsetting the budget. L. H. Parker of the congressional joint committee on internal revenue said it could; Undersecretary of the Treasury Roswell Magill said it couldn't.

An alternative to immediate revision at this session, which was discussed at the Capitol hill conference, was a resolution of congress or a statement by the President at once to assure business that the hampering taxes on industry will be lifted retroactively, that is applying to business operations of the 1937 calendar year.

Finds Administration Slipping.

and Roosevelt policies came from Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, leader of the successful fight against the President's effort to pack the Supreme court.

The Montana senator said in reply to a question that the administration has slipped materially in the country as a result of the court fight and of the business recession.

"It has slipped so much," he asserted, "that I am afraid that the pendulum may swing back to the reactionaries. That, in my judgment, would be disastrous for every one.

"The principal thing that congress and the administration can do is to assure all classes of people that we do not desire to destroy business and that we are not going to regiment the farmers against their will.

"The undistributed profits tax has injured small business and should be modified to that extent.

"The administration should assure the country that we are going to stop waste and extravagance in government wherever possible, and that while we are going to have legislation for necessary reforms, we are not going to delegate dictatorial powers to various departments."

GIRLS' ANNOYER SHOT BY POLICE IN HIGH SCHOOL

Eugene Ospheimer, 24 years old, 4449 North Troy street, was shot and possibly fatally wounded last night in the Carl Schurz High school building by Policeman George Lowing, from whom he attempted to escape after being arrested on the complaint of two girl students.

Lowing was on the first floor when he was informed by the girls, who had left a band concert to go to a lavatory on the second floor, that a man there had made improper advances to them. When the policeman went after him, Ospheimer fled to the third floor, where he was trapped and surrendered.

He was taken to the principal's office to await the arrival of a patrol wagon. When he fled past the policeman and dashed for the Addison street entrance Lowing followed and fired one shot. It struck the fugitive in the back.

MOTHER AND SON SHOT IN BATTLE WITH A ROBBER

Clarence Sedlack, 30 years old, and his mother, Mrs. Rose Sedlack, 50 years old, were shot and seriously wounded last night in a battle with a robber in their delicatessen at 1121 Madison street, Oak Park.

Sedlack was struck in the throat by a bullet and physicians at the Oak Park hospital said his chances for recovery were slight. Mrs. Sedlack was wounded in her left shoulder and left arm. She told the police that when the robber demanded money her son, who was preparing for bed in a room behind the store, heard the man and ran out in pajamas to give battle.

Seize Suspect in Holdup and Shooting at Theater

Police last night arrested Charles English, 2820 Lexington street, sought since witnesses identified him through a photograph as the bandit who on Monday night shot a doorman and a policeman in an attempted robbery of the State-Lake theater. English, who is 25 years old and has a minor police record, was arrested by Detectives John Mackey and John Collopy of the Marquette police.

HOUSE LAUGHS DOWN PLEA FOR WAGE DICTATION

Mirth Roils Mary Norton, but Vote Is Denied.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Representative Mary T. Norton [D., N. J.] drew laughter from house members today when she reminded them of their Thanksgiving dinners in her plea for the political regulation of hours and wages.

As chairman of the labor committee she urged the house members to sign a petition which would bring the so-called wages and hours bill to the floor for a vote. The administration-sponsored measure, which has been received coolly so far in the special session of congress, is being held up by the rules committee, due to the opposition of southern members.

"I do not see how any member of this house can enjoy his Thanksgiving dinner tomorrow if he fails to put his name to that petition," exhorted Mrs. Norton.

Bid for Support Unheeded.

"O, you gentlemen may scoff as you please," she shouted, "but how are you going to face your constituents and say that you refused the workers of America a living wage when you are living in every comfort?"

Mrs. Norton had offered revision of the scheme for political regulation of the bill as an inducement for support, but at the end of the day the petition had only 180 names, although the administration has 345 Democrats from which to draw the 218 signatures needed for her purpose.

Shift Dictatorial Powers.

The labor committee has decided, Mrs. Norton told the house, that if the bill ever comes to a vote, it will be amended to meet one of its major objections. Instead of vesting political control over wages and hours in the hands of a five man presidential board, she said, the authority would be given to an administrator under the wing of the department of labor.

But this appeal apparently was of no help to the bill. The absence of a stampede to the clerk's desk to sign the petition was taken as an indication that the opposition groups in the house are no more anxious to give new powers to Labor Secretary Frances Perkins, who is not overly popular, than they are to trust these new powers to a presidential board.

Narrow Street Parking Ban to Be Considered

At the suggestion of Ald. John A. Massen [48th] the city council yesterday authorized the trafic committee to investigate the possibility of allowing parking along only one curb on narrow streets where trafic is heavy. An increase in automobile registration and motor fuel consumption indicates, Ald. Massen said, that trafic congestion is increasing.

Faces Death Charge

HELEN LORETTA NETZEL.

Miss Helen Loretta Netzel, 28 years old, and two other persons were arraigned in Felony court yesterday on a charge of manslaughter growing out of the death Monday in Ravenswood hospital of Floyd Howell, 61 years old, 4821 North Christiana avenue. Howell told police he had been injured when John Karpen, 50 years old, threw him out of Miss Netzel's flat at 4434 Bernard street. Arraigned with Karpen and Miss Netzel was her roommate, Miss Jessie Newman. The case was continued to Dec. 7 pending the outcome of the inquest, Dec. 3.

EX-WIFE OF DUKE OF MANCHESTER MARRIED TO EARL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 24.—The duchess of Manchester, divorced wife of the ninth duke of Manchester, was married secretly today to the earl of Kintore in Scotland, the Evening News said. The bride is the former Helena Zimmerman, daughter of the late Eugene Zimmerman of Cincinnati, O.

The bridegroom, who will be 59 years old on Jan. 5, formerly was a captain of the Scots Guards. This was his first marriage. The earl's home, the seat of the earldom, is Keith Hall, Inverurie, Aberdeenshire, Scotland. He also has an apartment in London.

The duke of Manchester and Miss Zimmerman were married in 1900. They shocked conventional Londoners by slipping away to a Marylebone church for the ceremony without formal preparations. Their wedding left London society gaping. They were divorced in 1931.

HOUSE RECEIVES NEW COMPULSORY CROP MEASURE

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—While debate on the administration's scheme to regiment agriculture by pegging prices and subsidizing nonproduction proceeded before an apathetic senate, the house agriculture committee today reported a measure which emphasizes compulsion rather than bribes to accomplish production control.

Unlike the senate bill, the house measure contains no provisions for so-called voluntary contracts to reduce acreage and no provisions for subsidies to guarantee the farmer a parity price. Parity is defined by the department of agriculture as a price that will give the farmer a purchasing power in terms of non-agricultural commodities equivalent to his purchasing power from 1909 to 1914.

Follows Roosevelt Demand.

The house bill would merely continue the subsidy payments of the so-called soil conservation act, which are based on acreage diverted from soil depleting to soil conserving crops. In this respect, the bill adheres to President Roosevelt's demand that the farm program remain within the present budgetary provision of 500 million dollars a year, while the cost of the senate bill has been estimated as high as 1 billion dollars a year.

The compulsory production control features of the house bill are similar to those of the senate measure and would become operative when approved by two-thirds of the producing farmers in a referendum.

It is estimated that compulsion would be applied when the corn supply reached 2 billion 900 million bushels, when the wheat supply reached 1 billion 100 million bushels, and when the cotton supply reached 20,900,000 bales. Quotas then would be alloted to states and to individual farmers, and if they exceeded their marketing quotas growers would be fined 15 cents a bushel in the case of wheat or corn and 2 cents a pound in the case of cotton.

Penalties More Drastic.

The penalties of the senate bill are more drastic, being 75 per cent of the parity price for cotton and 50 per cent of the parity price for wheat and corn.

In the senate debate today, Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader, charged that the ambulatory hearings conducted by the agriculture committee during the recess of congress were packed by the American Farm Bureau federation, which is under the domination of Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace. The national grange and the farmers' union both oppose the administration bill, McNary declared.

Representative Scott W. Lucas, [D., Ill.] and others are organizing to change some of the corn control features of the bill to regiment agriculture. Although Lucas was a member of the agriculture subcommittee that drafted the bill, he said as it stands "it won't help any corn farmer." He has asked other representatives of corn growing areas to attend a meeting Friday to formulate a bloc to support amendments designed to reduce the corn marketing quotas proposed in the bill by at least 300 million bushels and to make loans mandatory.

COURT UPHOLDS RIGHT TO PUBLISH JURORS' NAMES

Ohio Ex-Editor Wins Fight for Press Freedom.

Columbus, O., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Freedom of the press to publish the names of grand jurors and of witnesses summoned to appear before grand juries was upheld today by the Ohio Supreme court. The high court refused to review the case in which the Appellate court cleared Walter Morrow, former editor of the Akron Times-Press, of contempt of court for publishing such names.

The editor was fined $50 by Common Pleas Judge Walter B. Wanamaker here last April 24 for publishing the names of the county grand jurors, witnesses, and a list of the cases in defiance of Wanamaker's order for strict secrecy on those matters. The judge contended there had been too much trying of lawsuits in newspapers instead of in courts, particularly in criminal cases.

Morrow insisted it was his function as editor to determine what news should be published.

The foreman of the grand jury was John S. Knight, editor of the Akron Beacon Journal. His newspaper also published the names of the grand jurors and witnesses, but Judge Wanamaker apparently was satisfied that the citation against Morrow would be sufficient to test the case.

Morrow appealed to the Appellate court, which reversed the contempt decision. The Supreme tribunal's refusal to review the case upheld the newspaper's right to make such publication.

MOUNTAIN SLIPS 4 INCHES MORE; CREWS READY

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Los Angeles' moving mountain slipped four inches in the last twenty-four hours, surveyors reported today. It was the longest slippage since the movement was noticed, and emergency crews from fire, police, and park departments stood ready for action in the event of a disaster.

Engineers who have been watching towering Buena Vista mountain found that in the last twelve hours a great slice of the peak settled a quarter of an inch and had moved three-eighths of an inch closer to the slide it is feared it may take into Riverside drive.

City engineers say they are powerless to stop the movement.

BUTCHER ROBBED OF $100.

Two armed boys, about 18 years old, entered the Hollywood meat market at 3344 Bryn Mawr avenue last night and robbed Ben Astrinsky, the owner, of $100. They escaped in a car driven by a third man.

A suit of clothes roomy enough to envelop three persons of average build was displayed yesterday by Edward Gordon & Co., tailors at 430 North Michigan avenue. The suit was made for Jack [Slim] Ziller of Fairbury, Ill., near Pontiac, who weighs nearly 450 pounds and is 6 feet 5 inches tall.

The suit, one of the largest ever made to order by a Chicago tailoring firm, contains more than 9½ yards of material. An ordinary suit needs about 3¼ yards. Ziller's waist measures 62½ inches and the width at the knee is 35 inches, which is a normal waist measure.

GIRL CLERK RUNS A PANTING CANDY BANDIT TO EARTH

After successfully robbing four loop candy stores in a week James O'Dea, 29 years old, entered a candy shop at 37 South Dearborn street last evening. He obtained $4.50 from the till, then ran out the door.

At that moment Mrs. Marie Krebs, 20 years old, 1519 North Long avenue, an extra clerk who was returning from dinner, saw him. Weighing 165 pounds, Mrs. Krebs does not claim to be a sprinter, but she chased him to a parking lot on Monroe street.

There Mrs. Krebs pursued O'Dea among the cars until he collapsed, gasping for breath. He was glad to surrender to a policeman.

MILITIA TRUCKS WILL SPEED IDLE INTO CANE FIELDS

Governor Calls on WPA to Release Men for Jobs.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Facilities of the National Guard and WPA were mobilized today to move all available workmen to Louisiana plantations, where the heaviest sugar cane crop on record is threatened because of a scarcity of harvesters.

While thousands of laborers are being supported by WPA and by direct relief, it was estimated that $6,000,000 worth of cane still is standing. The crop already has been menaced by a record breaking cold and a change to either warmer or rainy weather would cause great damage.

Governor Acts in Crisis.

The situation reached such a crisis that Gov. Richard W. Leche appealed to private industry to release all workers possible, and to the WPA to surrender its labor gangs so emergency crews of cutters may be sent into the fields. All cane is cut by hand.

Transportation equipment of the National Guard was mobilized to carry workers to places where most needed. Special trains were made up this afternoon to take laborers from New Orleans to the plantations. A call was issued for 5,000 men.

Several hundred colored workers were taken this morning from Baton Rouge into the cane fields of West Baton Rouge parish and other nearby sections. More loads of men were dispatched to the fields throughout the day.

Halt WPA Projects.

State WPA Administrator James H. Crutcher said he would call off work projects in New Orleans and elsewhere so workers could be sent out to cut cane.

Because of its thick growth, the cane came through the unprecedented cold spell in fairly good shape. The immediate peril is warmer or rainy weather. Warm weather would accentuate by fermentation any damage caused by the freeze. Rains would keep the men from the fields, probably until a more severe freeze.

A similar labor shortage exists in the delta cotton fields, but in a less acute degree because weather does not have such a damaging effect upon cotton.

RETURN ACCIDENT VERDICT.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of accident yesterday after investigating the death of Mrs. Annie Allen, 71 years old, a widow, who was fatally burned Tuesday in her home at 927 Forest avenue, Evanston.

UNION ORGANIZER IS SLAIN AS HE WALKS WITH WIFE

Two gunmen early this morning assassinated Fred C. Blacker, motion picture operator and union organizer, as he walked with his wife at 75th avenue and 62d place in Summit. Mrs. Blacker had spent the evening with her husband in the machine booth at a theater at 63d place and Archer avenue, Summit, where he is employed.

They were walking toward their home on 75th avenue when an automobile stopped at the curb and two men alighted, leaving a third at the wheel. One of the men shoved Mrs. Blacker aside and the other shot her husband through the body. As Blacker fell the gunman leaned over him and fired another shot through his head.

The victim, who was 42 years old, had been a union operator twenty-one years and several times had been involved in union troubles. Last May he was arrested in Fort Wayne in connection with a theater bombing. Three years ago he was slugged during union warfare in Kokomo. His wife, who is 38 years old, insisted that Blacker had not been involved in union affairs here and stated she knew of no enemies who might have ordered his death.

WOMAN HURT BY STREET CAR.

Mrs. Fay Levy, 40 years old, 1642 South Drake avenue, was seriously injured last night by a westbound 16th street car as she was crossing the street near St. Louis avenue. She was taken to Mount Sinai hospital.

PARLEY ON WAR IN CHINA FOLDS UP; PRAYS FOR PEACE

19 Nations Admit Failure to Stop Conflict.

to the achievement of a general and lasting settlement.

"It further believes a satisfactory settlement cannot be achieved by direct negotiations between the parties to the conflict alone."

Ostensibly the door remains open to consultations among western democracies toward working out a common attitude with regard to Japan. Even so, every delegate here admitted that any chance for sincere international coöperation has been killed for months, if not for years, by the mutual suspicions and counteraccusations this conference has engendered.

A last minute effort to exploit this situation was made by the British. They transmitted to Davis an invitation from Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Great Britain to visit London over the week-end to discuss the far eastern situation in view of the collapse of the conference.

Davis Rejects Bid.

As Premier Camille Chautemps and Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos of France will be in London next week, Davis' acceptance would have made it look like a serious effort to work out a united democratic front. The invitation was backed up with the hint that it would "create a most unfortunate impression" if Davis left Europe without having any further consultations.

As the British expected, the American delegate declined. He said that for personal reasons he felt obliged to take a short rest in some French resort before sailing for home Dec. 2. Naturally he transmitted the British invitation to Washington, D. C., but it is considered unlikely he will be instructed to go to London.

Despite all the optimistic words this afternoon, the future outlook of the conference is regarded by diplomats as negative as the past. Neither the British nor the Americans see any likelihood of a new situation arising which would cause two members of the conference to request that it be reconvened as provided by one paragraph of the declaration of principles.

In fact, the outlook is so dark from the Chinese point of view that their delegation simply gave up the fight. Dr. Wellington Koo, head of the Chinese delegation, accepted the declaration. He told the conference he approved the report in a "spirit of solidarity."

However, he urged the powers to exchange their views "actively and promptly" outside the conference and to consider the "necessity of common action in the form of positive aid to China and restrictive measures against the aggressor."

The only other critical remarks were made by the Dutch delegate, who spoke of the weakness of the declaration, though he accepted it, and by Count Luigi Aldrovandi-Marescotti, the Italian delegate, who voted against it.

The Italian said:

"I have made known my doubts as to the usefulness of this conference ever since the first meeting.

Take Another City

Japanese troops yesterday captured Huchow (indicated by arrow) in their drive toward Nanking, China's capital. Heavy line shows extent of Japanese gains west of Shanghai. Three hundred thousand Japanese troops were concentrated between Kiangyin and Wusih (shown by broken line). Lined portion indicates area controled by the Japanese.

3 JAP COLUMNS CAPTURE CITY IN PUSH ON NANKING

Nippon Bombing Planes Raid Capital.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Japanese press reports tonight said three Japanese columns had occupied Huchow on the south flank of the Nanking defenses. Chinese forces were reported to have been driven from the stronghold, to the rear of the main defense line bordering the southern shore of Lake Tai.

Japan's army, however, temporarily had suspended large scale operations to prepare intensively for a final drive on Nanking, China's evacuated capital.

Defense troops also were girding for an expected major clash between the Yangtze river and the Grand canal west of Shanghai. About 300,000 troops were reported massed between Kiangyin, the Yangtze anchor of the defense line, and Wusih, to the south.

Chinese May Surrender Nanking.

The belief grew, nevertheless, that the Chinese might surrender Nanking with only face saving rear guard action in order to spare the capital from destructive bombardment. Many Chinese government officials were understood to favor such a course which would protect hundreds of millions of dollars invested in new buildings and expensive highways.

A Japanese navy spokesman said bombing planes raided Nanking but that results were not known. Air attacks also were made on Chinese troop concentrations at Wutsin, Ihing, Wusih, and Kiangyin. Dispatches from Canton, South China port, said 100 civilians were feared killed in a half hour air raid.

Martial law was proclaimed in Tsingtao, Shantung province port, which Japanese naval forces apparently threatened. Official reports said 12 Japanese warships had been sighted about 12 miles south of the North China coastal city.

Fear Attack on Hangchow.

Precautions against feared Japanese naval attacks also were taken at Hangchow, chief port and provincial capital of Chekiang province, south of Shanghai.

Americans, other foreigners, and Chinese appealed jointly to the United States, British, and French consuls at Hangchow to urge Japan not to bombard that city, famous for its beauty and cultural institutions. Five Americans are among 29 foreigners in Hangchow which also is filled with wounded Chinese soldiers and Chinese noncombatant refugees.

Americans and other foreigners in Nanking asked both Chinese and Japanese officials to set aside a neutral zone in the capital similar to the area reserved in the Nantao district during the battle for Shanghai. The proposed area included the United States, Italian, and Japanese embassies and the new foreign residential quarter.

Japanese officials said they favored the principle of the plan, but that army officers would have to consider military factors involved.

President Asks Suffrage for Women of Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The women of Mexico advanced a step nearer suffrage tonight when the senate received a message from President Lazaro Cardenas asking that they be given full equality with men through revision of the constitution. This requires approval by two-thirds majorities in both houses of congress and ratification by a majority of the state legislatures. Cardenas also asked leglislation to give public employés the same rights enjoyed by labor under Mexican law except the right to strike. Disputes between the government and its employés would be settled by compulsory arbitration.

SOVIET ORDERS EFFICIENCY FOR A GREATER WAR

MOSCOW, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The appointment of a new vice commissar of defense and creation of an economic council were announced today.

The announcement came as Michail Kalinin, president of the soviet central executive committee, made a speech in which he said the soviet has emphasized the need of efficiency for the next "possible war," which would be on a larger scale than the world war.

E. A. Schadenko, former chief political commissar at the Kiev army headquarters, was appointed vice commissar of defense. Whether an additional post was created for him or he replaces R. A. Smirnov, who succeeded the late Gen. Jan Gamarnik, was not stated.

[Gamarnik died June 1. The government announced he killed himself after having been exposed as a traitor.]

BRITAIN, FRANCE WILL TALK OVER HITLER DEMANDS

Paris Leaders Invited to Come to London.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 24.—The visit which Viscount Halifax, lord president of the council in the British cabinet, made to Germany last week was of value in furthering the desire of both countries for closer mutual understanding. Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain delivered this message to the house of commons this afternoon.

Chamberlain announced that Premier Camille Chautemps and Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos of France had accepted a British invitation to come to London next Monday. The British and the French will talk over the situation confronting the two nations as a result of Reichsfuehrer Hitler's revelation that he wants freedom from French or British obstruction in his central European designs.

Chamberlain Avoids Query.

Geoffrey Mander, a Liberal, pressed Chamberlain for a more specific answer on whether the British have promised Hitler to give former German colonies back to him, but he got no reply. The prime minister's contention was that Halifax's talks with Hitler had been confidential and that no disclosures could be made at this time.

Maj. C. R. Attlee, leader of the Laborite opposition, sought to draw out Chamberlain with the question: "Are no details available because an agreement was made with the Germans?"

"There was no formal agreement, but it was understood the talks would remain confidential." the prime minister answered.

Question Ruled Out.

"Can the prime minister give assurance there is no foundation for the statement that the British government is considering giving Germany a free hand in Austria and Bohemia [Czechoslovakia] in exchange for the [German] demand for colonies?" Mander then asked.

The speaker ruled out the question. Chamberlain later said that no pledge had been given Germany.

Sued by Husband

MRS. THEODORE KROL. (VIRGINIA LEE CORBIN.)

Reconciled a year ago after a bitter court wrangle, Virginia Lee Corbin, blonde juvenile movie star of eleven years ago, and her husband, Theodore Krol, a broker, have arranged a permanent parting. This was learned yesterday when a divorce bill came to light. It was filed in Superior court on Oct. 29 by Krol, who lives at 4865 Magnolia avenue.

According to Krol's attorney, Simon Herr, Mrs. Krol will not contest the suit, which charges she struck her husband last May, and five days later kicked him. The couple separated immediately thereafter. Mrs. Krol, the attorney said, will also waive alimony and permit Krol to have custody of their children, Harold Philip, 5 years old, and Robert Lee 2½.

Last year Krol sued for divorce and his wife, who is now 25 years old, countered with a cross bill for separate maintenance. Both suits were later dropped.

FRANCE TRACES ROYALIST PLOT TO FLYING FORCE

Retired General Seized; Home Searched.

PARIS, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The government's search for plotters accused of conspiring to establish a royal dictatorship in France spread today to retired officers of the national defense force.

While Retired Naval Commander Joseph le Maresquier and Aviation Sergeant Cheron were held for questioning, Surete Nationale [secret police] agents searched the home of Retired Aviation General Edouard Duseigneur.

They took the general to headquarters for examination. He previously had been questioned concerning activities of les Cagoulards [the hooded ones] who are now believed by the authorities to have been linked with the dictatorship plot.

Promise Many New Arrests.

The air force long has been criticized as a stronghold for sympathizers with nationalist movements, such as Col. François de la Rocque's now banned Fascist Croix de Feu [Cross of Fire] organization.

The Surete did not disclose the results of the search of the general's apartment, but said there would be a large number of arrests within the next few days.

The government ordered the Surete to use all resources toc rush the secret revolutionary group which Minister of Interior Marx Dormoy announced last night had plotted to turn France into a dictatorship under a king. Police were making a nation-wide search for arms caches of the organization and to determine who were the leaders.

Operatives pored over plans seized yesterday in a Paris loan office in which agents said Eugene de l'Oncle, a prominent consulting engineer, was interested.

The Surete announced the name of the plotters' organization was "CSAR," the initials for "Comite Secret d'Action Revolutionnaire." An armband bearing a white fleur de lys on a blue background, the royalist emblem, was found along with documents revealing the name.

De l'Oncle left the country before the plot was exposed and an official order was issued for his detention if he should return.

Order De la Rocque to Trial.

The Court of Cassation, the highest court in France, today confirmed a lower court order for the trial of Col. de la Rocque and his aids on a charge of reconstituting the outlawed Croix de Feu as the French Social party.

Premier Camille Chautemps succeeded in ending another threat to his government by winning an agreement from most of the leftist deputies, except communists, on a compromise plan for pay increases for state employés. A total of $59,000,000 will be earmarked for pay increases and premiums for the government's workers. Political observers said that under the agreement Chautemps was assured of a comfortable majority despite the communists' opposition.

Envoy Davies Leaves Moscow for Visit in U. S.

MOSCOW, Nov. 24.—(AP)—United States Ambassador Joseph E. Davies left today to spend Christmas with his wife in Washington. He expects to return in January. He said Mrs. Davies has been ill with influenza and is unable to come to Moscow. The ambassador's daughter Emlen, a student at the University of Moscow, is remaining here.

1,200 SHELLS HIT MADRID DURING HOUR'S ATTACK

MADRID, Nov. 24.—(AP)—After more than a month of comparative quiet Madrid was battered for more than an hour tonight in one of the worst shellings of the civil war. Dozens of persons were believed killed in the furious artillery duel. All parts of the city were affected. More than 1,200 shell bursts were counted.

This deadly show came on the one night this year when the American government was represented here by a diplomatic officer. Walter Thurston, counselor of the American embassy, arrived today. He planned to remain for Thanksgiving.

Embassy officials left here last Thanksgiving day, after the removal of the Spanish government to Valencia. This week they will move again —this time to Barcelona, new seat of the Spanish government.

Half Inch on China's Shirt Hailed as Cotton Solution

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Senator Josh Lee [Dem., Okla.] said in the senate today that the cotton surplus problem would be solved if the 450,000,000 Chinese would lengthen their shirt tails half an inch.

MAYOR DEMANDS END TO DRINKING ON RELIEF MONEY

Way Must Be Found to Stop It, Says Kelly.

BY WILL O'NEIL.

Drunken reliefers spend for liquor money that is intended for food, clothing, and shelter. Those with families deprive their wives and children of the necessities which the Chicago Relief administration [CRA] intended should be purchased with the semi-monthly relief checks.

In some instances reliefers have been drinking when they call at the relief office for their checks. At times they are so drunk that they are told to go home and come back for the check after they sober up.

A Difficult Task.

Commissioner Leo M. Lyons of the CRA says he does not believe the relief authorities can solve the problem. He believes it is up to the law enforcing agencies of the city. At the same time, Lyons agrees with Chief John Prendergast of the uniformed police that an attempt to arrest all the drunken reliefers would clog the courts and put a heavy expense on the tax payers.

Mayor Kelly said relief authorities had better find a way to stop drunkenness or he will see that one is found for them. He was surprised when told that the CRA officials find the matter such a problem.

During THE TRIBUNE's investigation of the relief situation here and in other cities an investigator discovered that a large number, even though they may represent but a small percentage of the total number on relief, get drunk. Ths meant that the reliefers either were earning and spending on liquor money which could be used for their own support or were spending relief money for drink.

One District's Experience.

It was pay day in one of the twenty district relief offices in the city. The supervisor of the district said that hers is one of the worst in the city in respect to drunkenness.

"At least half of the men who come in here today will have been drinking," the supervisor said. "In some cases they are so drunk that we refuse to give them a check. We tell them to go home and come back when they are sober.

"What can we do about the others? If they are able to take care of themselves we give them the check. If we didn't give it to them we would be punishing the wives and children."

Desk Clerks Discuss Problems.

A district supervisor said that at least one meeting of the desk clerks who give out the checks had been held to discuss the drinking question. Many of the clerks, the district supervisor said, told of drunken reliefers coming into the relief offices.

In some instances in which the head of the family proves himself unfit to handle the relief money, commodity orders good only for groceries, rent, and other necessities are issued in place of the check. Lyons estimated that this is done in about 10 per cent of all of the relief cases, but not all of these orders are issued because of drunkenness.

Oppose Reduction in Aid.

The social workers oppose suggestions that the amount of the relief check be cut down because there is a drunkard in the family. They say that the father, in such an event, eats at the family table anyway and that the cutting down of the amount of money merely deprives the wife and children of food.

"Even when we used to pass out such things as flour and clothing from a warehouse we found that these articles were traded off or sold," Lyons said.

Veteran police officers in the West Madison street district laughed at the way in which money is given to some of the single men there. The officers said that some of the men were better off than they ever had been before; that they continued to live in the same manner as before, and spent the extra money on liquor.

Arrests Are Limited.

Chief Prendergast explained that drunken persons are not arrested unless they cause a public nuisance. He said:

"Whenever we can we try to see that a man reaches his home unless he has disturbed the peace. If we tried to arrest every intoxicated person we would clog the courts and force the expenditure of a great deal of money. We can't take a man into court on the charge that he staggered because the judge would just dismiss the case."

The chief suggested that relief authorities could find out how many reliefers are being arrested for drunkenness by checking the arrest files at the central police station. The police do not ask the person arrested whether he or she is on relief.

PROF. IPATIEFF TO BE HONORED TOMORROW AT BIRTHDAY BANQUET

Vladimir N. Ipatieff, professor of chemistry at Northwestern university, will be honored at a banquet in the Stevens hotel tomorrow—his 70th birthday. Dr. Ipatieff was born in Russia and was in charge of all chemical activities for that country in the war. He is now an American citizen and his discoveries are the basis of many industrial processes, particularly in the refining of petroleum and synthesis of hydrocarbons.

Prof. Ipatieff.

Leaders in the field of science, education, and business will gather at the banquet. Dr. Frank C. Whitmore, president of the American Chemical society and dean of chemistry and physics at Pennsylvania State college, will be among the speakers. Dr. Ipatieff's subject will be "In Retrospect" and in a symposium he will discuss "Catalysis . . . the Chemistry of the Future."

POWER MONOPOLY CALLED PWA AIM ON PLATTE RIVER

Scheme Revealed by Feud Between Projects.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

North Platte, Neb., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—The PWA projects on the Platte river in Nebraska appear to have emerged from cover as an effort toward a state-wide government monopoly of the power business in Nebraska, under federal control at Washington.

This is a background for the turmoil and trouble in the Sutherland power and irrigation project headquarters here, where there is open revolt against pressure from PWA. Two board directors have resigned—Harry Williams, president, and A. F. Buechler, a member.

Buechler said interference from high quarters became too obnoxious—that PWA sought not only to dictate policies but to conceal the dictation. Williams agrees with him in protest against coercion and rubber-stamping.

Donald D. Price has resigned as manager and engineer, his head demanded by TVA—he is more for irrigation than power. E. S. Evans, board attorney, has quit cold.

Two Districts in Wrangle.

A bitter feud is raging between the Sutherland and the Tricounty projects, the latter a pet baby of Senator George Norris. The two districts overlap. More than $31,900,000 has been spent on these two projects and the Loup power project at Columbus. Millions more of federal funds are to be poured into the river—"a mile wide and an inch deep" as it has been called since the days Buffalo Bill lived in North Platte.

A scheme has been proposed for the projects to buy the state's private electric utilities for 100 million dollars, thus acquiring virtually a state-wide grid system. Some of the cities are shrieking that this may be a blow at home rule in municipal plants. Others are referring to the whole venture as a "Mississippi bubble."

Market Problem Unsolved.

Backers call it a little TVA, but here it is proposed to operate steam plants as well as hydro-electric—a vital difference. No two sets of engineering figures seem to agree, but the hydro-electric power to be produced by the three PWA projects is figured roughly at 420 million kilowatt hours, in a state where the present consumption is around 700 million a year. The question of a market is a puzzle.

The Sutherland project, talked of for years, got under way in 1932, to furnish more water for eight irrigation canals east of North Platte. It sought funds from the RFC, and officials of the board insist it essentially was an irrigation project.

The state legislature in 1933, a few weeks after the Roosevelt administration assumed office, passed an act—senate file 310—for the creation of power and irrigation districts. The Sutherland enterprise was refashioned under this act, Arthur Mullen was employed as attorney, and it was taken before PWA. Mullen was national committeeman and floor leader of the Roosevelt forces at the 1932 Chicago convention. Today he is ill in a hospital.

Cost Double the Estimate.

A fact finding commission had estimated the cost of the project at $4,805,877. A new estimate placed the cost at $7,500,000, which sum was allotted by PWA, 30 per cent being a grant and 70 per cent a loan. That sum was not enough; new allocations have brought the total so far to $10,165,000. Another million is needed. Thus its cost has more than doubled.

Later on the Tricounty and Columbus projects were set going. According to officials of the district, the first tipoff that a state-wide grid was contemplated came in October, 1935, when orders were received from Washington to stop work on transmission lines, these orders raising the question of whether the voltage was the proper one to tie into a state-wide system.

A proposal for a three project tieup came from PWA, and was agreed to by the three projects in February, 1936. Power companies obtained a court injunction, and on May 6 PWA requested the districts to rescind the three-way agreement. Under the tieup there would have been an advisory board, half of which it was figured PWA would control.

High Court Upsets Scheme.

There was other litigation, in which the Nebraska Supreme court held, in the case of Tricounty, that water could not be diverted from the Platte basin to the Republican river basin.

Balked at this point, control was sought by the administration planners via the federal power commission. The matter of navigation was dragged in, although the Platte river in dry months is a waterless bed. At Grand Island in 1934 the river was dry for 222 days—from May to Christmas.

In the early days of the project, the power commission at Washington was asked whether it would take jurisdiction. This it denied in a letter dated Jan. 5, 1934, saying "the interests of interstate and foreign commerce would not be affected by the project" and that "the Platte river had not been improved by the United States for navigation, and that it has no appreciable effect on the stages or navigable depths of the Missouri."

Commission Reverses Stand.

Later the power commission had a change of mind. It sent a letter on Jan. 21, 1937, to the Sutherland district—and presumably to the other two projects—taking a new view of its jurisdiction.

This later letter said the "Platte river is a tributary of the Missouri, an important navigable waterway. The project "as now proposed," it remarked, "would appreciably affect the stages and navigable depths in the Missouri river."

"Therefore," it concluded, "the commission finds that the interests of interstate commerce would be affected."

The changes referred to were an increase in the size of the supply canal from 1,300 to 1,800 second feet, an increase in the Sutherland reservoir from 150,000 to 180,000 acre feet, and an increase of 40 feet in the head at the power house.

The Sutherland board obtained a hearing on this subject, set for last May, but decided not to attend, not wanting to embarrass the project. The Tricounty project filed a petition of intervention. A day or two ago both boards agreed not to attend a hearing set for Dec. 8, and Tricounty agreed to withdraw its petition, the intent of which was to show the power commission should take over distribution of water for power and irrigation purposes.

The Water Protective association, however, today wired Senator Edward R. Burke [D., Neb.] asking him to get the December hearing postponed 60 days. The association fears that if the power commission gets control of the water, under the pretext it affects navigation of the Missouri river, it will fix the rates for power, and may even divert water from the Platte watershed to the Republican.

These questions are in the air here tonight. It is regarded as another effort to establish federal control over the power end of the projects, and to link them into one system by applying the word navigation. Army engineers report the flow of the Platte affects the floods of the Missouri less than an inch.

PWA Aid Plants the Idea.

The idea of these three projects buying all the electric utilities is said by Sutherland officials to have been brought to their notice in April, 1937, while a delegation of directors and officials was in Washington taking up a matter with Clark Foreman, director of the power division of PWA. Two members of that delegation said today that Foreman volunteered to introduce a utility man if they had any idea of purchase, putting the idea into their heads.

A financial promoter, Guy C. Myers, injected himself into the scheme. There were various meetings over the state, the upshot of which was an agreement that Myers was to negotiate and prepare contracts for the purchase of all Nebraska electric utilities, contingent upon his placing of bonds to raise the money. For this his commission was to be 2½ per cent.

Board officials say that on the suggestion of WPA attachés J. D. Ross, a Seattle expert in municipal ownership and now director of Bonneville dam on the Columbia river, made an appraisal costing $9,000. The actual work was done by K. S. Wingfield, director of Nebraska PWA projects, and R. W. Beck, a protégé of Ross.

$2,500,000 Fee Involved.

Two weeks ago the figure of 100 million dollars was advanced as a price for the private utilities. There has been no physical valuation of the properties; the figures were based on earnings or revenue at present rates for service. Myers' commission on this sum would be $2,500,000—something hard headed Nebraskans pounced upon.

John F. Patterson, vice president of the Bancamerica-Blair corporation, proposed to market the bonds and advance the districts their funds. In one meeting, a board official said today, Myers got up and said: "Gentlemen, we've got fifteen minutes to complete this deal." It applied to one utility company, purchase of which was advised. The directors refused to be stampeded and the deal has not been completed.

As a starter it was sought to peddle to the Sutherland board the Western Public Service company of Scotts Bluff for $6,681,000.

Other plants and properties considered in the state-wide acquisition scheme included the Nebraska Power company at Omaha, the Iowa-Nebraska Light and Power company at Lincoln, Central Power company at Grand Island, Southern Nebraska Power company at Superior, and the Nebraska Light and Power company at McCook.

The Scotts Bluff transaction was to be the first step in the $100,000,000 combine of Nebraska's private power facilities. So far the scheme has not reached culmination.

CITE BETRAYAL ON POWER ISSUE DURING PARLEYS

U. S. Commission Blocks Private Project.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—While President Roosevelt is tendering the olive branch to private enterprise in the public utility field, his federal power commission is stabbing it in the back behind the scenes, it was revealed today.

As Mr. Roosevelt was engaged in the second of a series of conferences with utility heads looking toward restoring confidence to an industry paralyzed by fear of spreading government competition, the power commission was putting stumbling blocks in the path of a private company which is seeking to build a 6 million dollar power project in North Carolina.

The commission justified its hampering of the private power project on the ground that it is charged with protecting the navigability of rivers. The stand was maintained in the face of an army engineers' report and senate criticism that the river is not navigable.

Utilities Hold Back.

In the first of his conferences yesterday with Werdell Willkie, president of the Commonwealth and Southern corporation, Mr. Roosevelt was told that utilities have held back on extensions aggregating 2 billion 600 million dollars in their uncertainty as to how far government competition will be carried. Another billion dollars worth of extentions are falling due.

The same story was brought to the President's attention again today in a conference with Floyd Carlisle, chairman of the board of the Niagara Hudson corporation and Consolidated Edison.

While the conferences were in progress the power commission refused to reconsider its invocation of license control over hydro-electric developments against the Carolina Aluminum corporation, a subsidiary of the Aluminum Corporation of America.

Plans $6,000,000 Project.

The company proposed to build a $6,000,000 power project on the Yadkin river at Tuckertown, N. C., to supply current for its processing plant at Badin, N. C. The power commission held that the company must first seek a federal license on the ground that the proposed project might affect the navigability of the Yadkin river.

The army engineering corps reported the river is not navigable, and Senator Josiah W. Bailey [D., N. C.], on the floor of the senate, cited the incident as an example of the strange sort of encouragement the administration is offering private enterprise.

"Since the good Lord made this world no human being ever has been able to navigate that river," he said. "It can hardly be waded, it is so rocky, much less traversed by a boat. There are five dams up the river and one down—great, big dams—because of the great descent from the mountains to the sea.

State Wants Improvement.

"A great corporation bought a dam site at a place called Tuckertown. The corporation wanted to invest $6,000,000 at Tuckertown. The people of North Carolina wanted them to invest that $6,000,000; our state and our counties wanted to tax that $6,000,000; the workers wanted to get that $6,000,000—but what do you suppose happened? The power commission set up the theory that, by some remote possibility, that river might be navigable, and so the project is undeveloped to this day.

"How in the name of heaven do you expect capital to be invested under such circumstances?"

This is the second time the Aluminum Company of America has run into federal difficulty in its power developments. In 1934 the company sought to build a $20,000,000 dam on the Nantahala river in western North Carolina but was blocked when the Tennessee Valley authority purchased two small key plots on the proposed dam site.

Forced to TVA Contract.

Although the dog in the manger policy was corrected by federal action, debate over the effect of a dam on the Nantahala on the TVA system has blocked the private project. As a result of its inability to erect the dam the company was forced to contract for TVA power at $1,500,000 a year.

After his conference with the President today Mr. Carlisle, chairman of the board of the Consolidated Edison and Niagara Hudson companies, announced these companies will go ahead with expansion programs.

He said the projects include expansion of generation and distribution systems involving an outlay of about 112 million dollars in the belief that markets would be found, particularly in connection with the new federal housing program, to absorb the expansion. The program of the Consolidated Edison calls for an expenditure within the next two years of 100 million dollars and the construction among other things of a steam generation plant at Oswego with 100,000 horse power.

Plan New Construction.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 24.—(AP)—C. A. Leland, president of the Des Moines Gas and Electric company, one of Iowa's largest utility companies, said today his company would spend more for new construction in 1938 than "we have in any of the last ten years." He did not name a specific figure, but said expenditures would be "substantial."

Leland said he did not care to comment upon President Roosevelt's moves for reconciliation between the administration and public utilities.

Discontinue WPA School Guards in City Wednesday

The Works Progress administration crossing guard project, which employs 2,400 men at intersections near schools, will be discontinued next Wednesday, H. K. Seltzer, Chicago WPA administrator, said yesterday. A request by his office to continue the project has been rejected by federal WPA officials on the ground that the service is a local police function. Mr. Seltzer said the guards who are able to do other work will be used on other WPA projects.

4 STATES ASKED TO TRACE GIRL'S MARRIAGE STORY

Clerks in all counties of Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan, and Illinois will be asked to aid in the investigation of Loretta Harynek's assertion that she is the widow of Warren Sinclair Stanley, 17 years old, who shot and killed himself Sunday in Berwyn rather than submit to arrest after he had driven a stolen automobile against a tree.

Judge Frank Bicek of the Juvenile court said yesterday that letters will be sent to the clerks within a few days asking them to consult their marriage license records. When the Harynek girl, high school pupil of 15, announced proudly at the inquest Monday that she was a young widow, she added that she did not know where the supposed marriage had taken place.

ROSS KIDNAPING STILL A MYSTERY AFTER 2 MONTHS

Only G-Men Know if Case May Be Solved.

Two months ago today Charles S. Ross, 72 years old, a slim, erect, gray haired business man who had retired with a comfortable fortune made in real estate and the greeting card industry, was kidnaped by two or three men who halted his automobile in Wolf road near the Westward Ho golf course.

Although a ransom of $50,000 for his release was paid on or about Oct. 8, Ross is still missing. His fate is as much a mystery as it was on Sunday, Sept. 26, the day after the kidnaping. If there are any clews to the identity of his captors agents of the department of justice—the famed G-men—who took charge of the search on Oct. 1, are keeping them secret.

One Guess Good as Another.

Local police forces have been effectively barred from the hunt. They say, and mean it, that they know no more of Ross' whereabouts than they know of Tommy O'Connor's; and it is nearly sixteen years now since O'Connor, on a December morning four days before he was to hang for murder, beat his way out of the county jail and disappeared, never to be found again.

There have been guesses that Ross was seized by men who intended robbery and changed to kidnaping when they realized there was a greater opportunity for profit if he were held captive. There have been other guesses that Ross, for some strange reason, arranged the abduction as play acting to cover his voluntary retreat from the world that knew him. There have been sinister hints that the ransom was collected after he was dead; others that a gang that had nothing to do with the kidnaping succeeded as collectors.

Movements on Day of Crime.

All these are—only the G-men can gainsay it—vaporings that are unsupported by fact. The Charles S. Ross case may go down in criminal history a mystery as great as that of the final end of the 4 year old Charley Ross who was kidnaped in Philadelphia in 1874 and has never since been found.

On Sept. 25 Ross arose at his usual hour in the seven room $275 a month apartment he and his wife occupied at 2912 Commonwealth avenue. At about 10:30 a. m. he left, informing Mrs. Ross he would go to a barber shop and then to the Edgewater Golf club, of which he was a member, to play bridge.

This program was carried out. At 4:30 p. m. he left the club, stepped into his large automobile and drove to the vicinity of the plant of the George S. Carrington company, 2732 Fullerton avenue. He was a former partner in the concern, but had sold his interests. Certain sums were still due him as deferred payments.

He was joined, not in front of the place, but a short distance away, by Miss Florence Freihage, secretary of the company. She was formerly his secretary, but now is secretary of the company, which manufactures greeting cards.

Miss Freihage, before the kidnaping, was a close personal friend both of Ross and his wife. Since the kidnaping she has devoted herself exclusively to assisting Mrs. Ross and the federal men in their endeavor to obtain the return of the missing man. Much of her time has been spent in the Ross apartment. She has not gone back to her duties as secretary of the Carrington company, she has explained, simply because the strain under which she has been put makes it impossible for her to work efficiently.

On the day of the crime, with Miss Freihage as passenger, Ross drove to Sycamore, where they had dinner in the Fargo hotel. After dinner, while Ross was sitting in the hotel lobby—Miss Freihage having gone to a rest room—he was approached by a man in a brown cap. To a bellboy this stranger remarked that he believed he knew Ross. It was the bellboy's guess that the man in the cap was only trying to strike up an acquaintance.

The stranger and Ross had a brief conversation. The stranger moved away. Ross was rejoined by Miss Freihage. They went out, entered his car and drove off toward Chicago. They followed route 64 [North avenue] and had an uneventful journey until they neared Wolf road.

Trailed by Kidnap Car.

Just before the turn north into Wolf road was made Miss Freihage and Ross noticed that a car in the rear seemed to be following them. When they swung into Wolf road the other car followed.

"We had gone hardly half a mile," Miss Freihage said later, "when Mr. Ross remarked that he believed he would draw over to the side of the road and let the other car pass. When we slowed down the other car moved ahead and then cut in, forcing us to stop. One man got out and walked over to us. He was young and had light, curly hair, as well as I could make it out in the dark. He showed Mr. Ross a pistol and said he would shoot unless the door of the car was unlocked.

"Mr. Ross obeyed. When he was told to he stepped out. I think there were two men in the car then, but I could see only one plainly. He was at the wheel. The man with the pistol said, 'This is a kidnaping; my boss said to bring you along.' Mr. Ross went without resistance.

Asks About Ross' Wealth.

"The man came back to me after leading him to the other car. I asked him not to harm Mr. Ross, but to take his money and the $85 I was carrying, and to let him go. 'He says you're his secretary,' the man said; 'is he good for a half million, or a quarter million?' I replied that Mr. Ross had no such wealth.

"The man paid no attention to that. He ordered me to get down on the floor of the car; said he would shoot me if I didn't."

The kidnapers drove off with their victims, but they did not take the keys of the Ross car and Miss Freihage, a few minutes later, drove to a gasoline station at Grand avenue and Wolf road, where she notified the Franklin Park police of what had happened.

Through the remaining days of September the state's attorney's police investigated all clews. Then the G-men took it over. On Oct. 1 Mrs. Ross issued a personal appeal to the kidnapers, urging that they communicate with her and assuring them "the coast is clear."

Ransom Deal Kept Secret.

Apparently the plea bore fruit. It has been disclosed how communication was established. All concerned, including Edmund S. Cummings Jr., the family attorney, have consistently maintained silence about that and the manner of handing over, without results, the $50,000.

An intimation of the wife's fear that her husband had died during his captivity was given on Oct. 17, when she pleaded that the kidnapers carry out their part of the bargain and warned that all the forces of the law would be unleashed against them unless they returned Ross alive by 8 a. m. Oct. 19.

There was no reply, and on that day the G-men issued a statement declaring they had had no part in the ransom payment. They also issued a list of the serial numbers of the ransom bills, which were in $5, $10 and $20 denominations. Five of these bills have been recovered, but none of them has been traced to the men who seized Ross. Most of the investigators are convinced that he is dead.

Although Maxine's eyes are open, she apparently neither sees nor hears. Occasionally she moves restlessly. Doctors have studied her case since she fell into a coma Sept. 24, 1935, but hold little hope for her recovery.

ASK U. S. INQUIRY ON LABOR STRIFE IN MINNEAPOLIS

Governor Wants Agents to Sift Corcoran Killing.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Strife between the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L. here may be investigated by the federal government, it appeared today when Gov. Elmer A. Benson asked that department of justice agents be assigned to aid in solving the assassination of Patrick J. Corcoran, labor leader.

The governor and Mayor George E. Leach of Minneapolis joined in an appeal to Attorney General Homer S. Cummings to send federal operatives here.

"Because of charges of gangsterism and racketeering, labor and city and state officials feel solution of this crime most essential," the governor's telegram read. "If charges are true that gangsters were imported from other states, there is likelihood investigation by department of justice agents may disclose violation of federal as well as state laws."

The bitter friction between the rival labor groups that has threaded the Corcoran killing flared anew. William Mauseth, C. I. O. leader, complained to police he had been ordered by anonymous phone calls to "get out of town or you will get it."

Mauseth charged that the American Federation of Labor was responsible for importing sluggers from Chicago to begin a reign of terror. The charge has been made several times by both sides in the labor struggle since Corcoran, an A. F. of L. official, was shot down a week ago.

In Washington, D. C., Assistant Attorney General Brien McMahon, to whom the governor's telegram was referred, would not say whether he intended to ask the federal bureau of investigation to assign agents to the case. He merely commented that Benson's request would be given "most careful consideration."

Senator Henrik Shipstead [F.-L., Minn.] said he would seek investigation of the Corcoran murder and the entire Twin City labor situation by the special senate committee on civil liberties headed by Senator Robert N. La Follette [Rad., Wis.].

United Charities Cuts Off Aid to Relief Administration

Joel I. Hunter, head of the United Charities, yesterday notified Leo M. Lyons, commissioner of the Chicago Relief administration, that the private relief agency will no longer be able to assist the CRA in caring for emergency cases from the public agency. Hunter explained that a shortage of funds prevents the United Charities from continuing its practice of supplementing inadequate public relief by paying rent, etc.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

CHRISTMAS—MARKED "PAID"

By CALEB

TODAY the emphasis of all of us all over this broad land should be on thanksgiving—thanksgiving for whatever we have to be thankful for. Among the things for which we should be grateful is the fact that the Pilgrim Fathers had the courage of heart and the stamina to be thankful for meager blessings in a barren land—a land without whose development by courageous men we would not have this most fortunate nation in the world today.

Since this Thanksgiving occurs in what is being popularly called a business "recession," perhaps we can be forgiven for referring to something which we would, any other year, deem "commercial," rather than a subject nominating itself for mention on Thanksgiving. We refer to the hundreds of Marshall Field & Company customers and employes who have one thing to be thankful for now, which their foresight of many months ago assured them. Namely: Christmas savings deposits in this store!

On and after December 1, as the depositors request them, gift certificates for the amount of their deposits plus 4 per cent per annum will be issued to participants in the plan.

One person expressed it perfectly only Sunday. "There would be little for me to be particularly thankful for now were it not for the fact that early this year I made rather generous deposits in your Christmas savings plan. As a consequence, instead of having the skimpy Christmas I might otherwise have had, my Christmas will be bright and cheery. It's all paid for! And that is something for which I am very thankful."

Now at the conclusion of the third year of our Christmas savings plan, we have a 70 per cent increase in number of accounts over two years ago, and 110 per cent increase in money deposits over that time.

One nice thing about a Christmas savings program of the merchandise certificate type is that there is no requirement that deposits be made regularly and in large amounts. We know some people who have participated in the plan this year who will draw out $10 December 1, who will be very thankful for that modest sum. Others will draw $500. But both types of savers will have certificates good in all our stores, plus the value of interest earned. We like to render this constructive, helpful kind of service.

Now Fail to Educate for Working Life.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Of 27,461 pupils who entered 37 high schools in Chicago in September, 1933, 2,408 or 8.7 per cent, wanted to go on to higher institutions of general and technical education. Of this number only 1,387 or 4.1 per cent asked for transcripts of credits which would take them to universities and liberal arts colleges, while another 2 per cent indicated that they planned to attend junior colleges.

This is the meat of a survey of high schools made public yesterday by Superintendent of Schools William H. Johnson in explanation of the recent decision of the board of education to extend the vocational facilities of the schools as far as there is a demand for it, and to change the emphasis of high school education from college preparatory work to work and study that are directly related to future occupations. A further survey is in progress to determine how many of these students actually attended the institutions for which they indicated a desire and how they fared there.

What Is Being Changed.

When the further facts are considered that only 25 to 30 per cent of those who enter the high schools are graduated and that many of those who go to college and university are wasting their time and the time of the teachers there, some basis may be reached for an evaluation on merits of the proposal for a new emphasis on vocational training as a method of interesting boys and girls and leading them into something for which they are adapted. When it is proposed to change an institution or a way of doing things the first thing to determine is what it is that is being changed. This survey throws an interesting factual light on that.

Universities and liberal arts colleges	1,387
Institutes of technology	173
Chicago city junior colleges [which require only diploma]	639
Other junior colleges [requirements not known]	90
Music colleges	5
Art schools	6
Chicago Normal college	8
Other normal colleges	18
Hospitals and schools for nursing	51
Commercial schools [private business colleges]	9
Miscellaneous schools of noncollegiate grade	22

The question which Supt. Johnson and his aids are called upon to solve is what to do with the 92.3 per cent of those who want to go to work at once from high school and the other 70 per cent that drop by the wayside in the grades. That there is a great waste here, that a new orientation of education is needed, is admitted by professional educators.

Waste of Nation's Talent.

One of the great wastes is the children of the poor, of great or unusual inherent abilities, whose desire to go on with their education is frustrated by economic factors. A recent survey in Minnesota indicates that America is losing some of its best brains in this way, that many go on to college because their parents want them to and have money for it, with little resulting benefit to society, while many with superior ability are forced into working life.

A thoroughgoing beneficial change in education involves more factors than any superintendent or board of education controls. It involves a reconstruction of society on lines of scientific knowledge, something which ignorance now blocks. It involves the science of human typology which would study each individual from many angles and give a direction to the individual life that would result in the greatest benefit to society. A meager beginning in this has been made in the Chicago schools with the so-called adjustment service instituted by Supt. Johnson and the record system of individual educational profiles.

Plan to Benefit Colleges.

The vocational educational plan also seems a step in the right direction. The schools now neither prepare pupils for a working life nor for adequate collegiate work. The colleges have to take them and reeducate them for the first two years. The colleges, too, are demanding fields of concentration and leaning more and more to vocational fields.

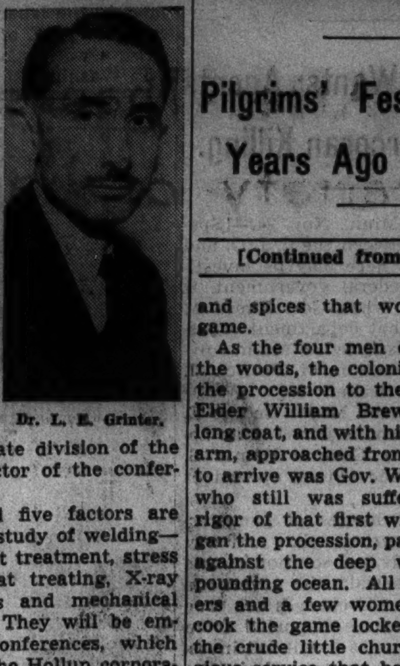
For twenty-five years plans of this sort have been discussed in Chicago and the present effort appears to be a logical development. It is based on facts of the present unsatisfactory situation and on natural distinctions. The only class lines are those of aptitude. The biological laws have not been repealed by the Declaration of Independence. The principle of evolution, which runs like a golden thread through all the picture of physical nature and of invertebrate and vertebrate life, had not been discovered at the time Jefferson wrote of human equality.

Duty to Find Aptitudes.

Science teaches human inequality. Natural aptitudes, like red hair, remain the inescapable framework of each individual. The task of education is to find these and develop them. Education may alter and direct, but it cannot change the primary stamp. The best potentialities may come out in hardship and struggle and be found among the poor. It is society's task to make use of these through education. These are iron necessities which no political dictum can change.

The survey just completed may be only a slight indication of the fitness of pupils for higher education, and the lack of the others to register their desires may be motivated by economic reasons, but it does present a reality of the present, the great fact that the high schools now are geared to the wrong side of the social outlook.

ARMOUR TECH OFFERS DISCUSSION SERIES ON COMMERCIAL WELDING



Dr. L. E. Grinter.

The first of a series of eighteen conferences designed to aid engineers and welding technicians in obtaining a general, yet scientific, knowledge in the field of commercial welding will be held Tuesday evening at the Armour Institute of Technology. The series will consist of three weekly lectures during the first three weeks of December and the corresponding period in January, it was announced by Dr. L. E. Grinter, dean of the graduate division of the institute and director of the conference.

Dr. Grinter said five factors are paramount in the study of welding—metallography, heat treatment, stress relieving after heat treating, X-ray checking of welds and mechanical testing of welds. They will be emphasized in the conferences, which are sponsored by the Hollup corporation. A number of authorities on the subject have been chosen to address the conferences.

THANKSGIVING'S ORIGINS LIVE IN UNDYING STORY

Pilgrims' Festivity 316 Years Ago Recalled.

As the four men disappeared into the woods, the colonists gathered for the procession to the meeting house. Elder William Brewster, clad in a long coat, and with his Bible under his arm, approached from his home. Last to arrive was Gov. William Bradford, who still was suffering from the rigor of that first winter. Then began the procession, pathetically small, against the deep woods and the pounding ocean. All except the hunters and a few women who were to cook the game locked themselves in the crude little church for the religious service that has become tradition.

The Feast Begins.

It was well past the noon hour when the doors of the meeting house opened and the sedate file of Pilgrims moved back to the dwellings. The hunters were before them, and savory odors were filling the little settlement.

Capt. John Smith was there. So were Priscilla and John Alden, and Capt. Standish, too, keeping a close watch on the Indians whom he did not trust over much but who proved friendly for that year at least. Two Indians, Squanto and Hobomok, had taught the Pilgrims how to plant corn and fertilize the land with fish, how to catch fish, and what the surrounding country looked like.

Build Strong Settlement.

The colonists had worked marvels that first year. Despite the loss of half their number they had built a strong blockhouse on the hillside overlooking the main street of the village of log houses. They had built a road to the harbor on the south side of Plymouth bay, four storehouses and seven comfortable log dwellings. The rule of the town was that each man was to build his own home.

In addition they had cut fuel for the winter and, in fulfillment of a bargain with their financial backers, had collected a load of beaver skins and hardwood for the next ship going to England.

Exploring parties had been sent out through the pine woods and had mapped plans for the future. Civil government had been organized at the first town meeting. They faced the future at this first Thanksgiving, a mere handful of men pitted against the merciless ocean and the wild woods, with the faith that the unseen power with which they felt they were in direct communion would guide them and care for them. Their destiny is not yet done. Their thought lives here today.

WARM FOR HOLIDAY

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Thanksgiving churchgoers may have an opportunity today to thank old Mother Nature for her last fall gift—a fleeting touch of Indian summer before real winter arrives.

If the expectations of Forecaster J. R. Lloyd are borne out the temperature today should rise to 55 degrees, about 13 points above the normal, due to balmy breezes from the south. But, because of cloud conditions last night, Mr. Lloyd said there was a possibility of a drizzle by evening.

Ton of Turkeys Ordered.

Some idea of the extent of the city-wide celebration of the festival is given by an order for a ton of turkeys which a large north side hotel will consume today. But such feats will not be enjoyed by the fortunate alone. More than 200 children of St. Vincent's orphanage will dine on turkey and trimmings as guests of the Medinah club this noon.

At Cathedral shelter, 117 North Peoria street, the Rev. David E. Gibson last night was preparing to serve Thanksgiving meals to more than 1,000 homeless men this noon. After school hours yesterday and last night teachers from Barry school, 2828 North Kilbourn avenue, distributed baskets in their neighborhood. At Chase house, 211 South Ashland avenue, an Episcopal settlement, supplies for Thanksgiving dinner were distributed yesterday to 150 families.

Plan Service in Loop.

Early rising Methodists will attend an 8 o'clock service this morning at Chicago temple, 77 West Washington street, where Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf will conduct Thanksgiving devotions for the sixth year.

New England Congregatonal, Fourth Presbyterian, St. Chrysostom's, and St. James' Episcopal churches on the near north side will unite this morning in a thanksgiving service in St. James' church, Wabash avenue and Huron street. The Rev. Dr. Douglas Horton, pastor of Hyde Park United church, will preach.

About 100 poor children will attend the Chicago theater this morning as guests of Balaban and Katz, and then will be taken to the Adventurers' club, 14 North Michigan avenue, where they will be outfitted with warm underwear and sweaters, and then eat a turkey dinner.

The founding of the Salvation Army band thirty years ago will be commemorated with a concert tonight at the army's Chicago temple, 1512 West Madison street.

Tableau Staged in Loop.

Thanksgiving in early Chicago was recalled by a tableau yesterday at State and Madison streets under auspices of the State Street council. Indians and Pilgrims commingled in the scene with Henry Orr as John Alden, Bruno Heber as Gov. Bradford, and Scott Williams as Chief Massasoit.

Splits a Turkey Gizzard, Out Pops Diamond Ring

Cleveland, O., Nov. 24.—(AP)—An unexpected reason for celebrating Thanksgiving greeted P. T. Angelone, café proprietor, today. He has opened a lot of turkey gizzards in his time without any particular notable result. But today he split his lucky gizzard. Out popped a white gold ring with a diamond the size of a small pea. His wife got it.

State Street Dresses Up for Christmas Holidays

State street put on its holiday dress yesterday. Workmen began early in the morning to erect two large wreaths, back to back, on each lamp post. The wreaths are covered with arbor vitæ and through the green and red circles stand two large candles, ten feet high.

$808,000 in Tax Warants Called by School Board

Tax warants totaling $808,000 were called for payment yesterday by James B. McCahey, president of the board of education. The warants are numbered B-96866 to B-96950; B-15038 to B-15077; P-2165 to P-2173; E-8490 to E-9294, and B-3644 to B-3795.

French Tribunal Con[victs] 2 Germans of Espio[nage]

METZ, France, Nov. 24.—(AP)—A military tribunal today convicted two Germans of espionage and sentenced them to five years each in prison. Authorities said the men were Fritz Reiss, 34 years old, and Paul Linke, 51, both natives of Berlin.

FORD COMPANY WINS COURT TILT IN C. I. O. INVASION

Charges of Assault Are Dismissed.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 24.—[Special.] —The Ford Motor company today won a victory in its fight to repel a C. I. O. invasion when charges of felonious assault, brought against the company and eight individuals by organizers of the United Automobile Workers of America, were dismissed in Circuit court.

The case grew out of the beating of U. A. W. A. men who sought without success to distribute C. I. O. literature last May 26 to some of Ford's 89,000 employés at the big Rouge plant in nearby Dearborn.

The defendants had been bound over to Circuit court by Common Pleas Judge Ralph W. Liddy. Today Circuit Judge Lester S. Moll ruled that evidence produced at the preliminary hearing was insufficient to warant holding the men for trial.

Broken Back Alleged.

Although nearly a score of organizers were beaten, charges in today's case concerned only the injuries of William Merriweather, U. A. W. A. shop steward at the Cadillac Motor Car company plant. He said he incurred a broken back. Richard T. Frankensteen, now assistant president of the union, was one of those beaten.

The incident was made a part of a complaint against the Ford company filed with the National Labor Relations board, and the company was charged with unfair labor practices. The board conducted a month long hearing, but has announced no decision.

Workers Defy Pickets.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 24.—[Special.] —Despite the presence of C. I. O. pickets, numbering nearly 1,500 at one time, around the Ford Motor company's assembly plant here today, workmen steadily broke through the lines and entered the factory.

A strike at the plant was begun this morning by members of the United Automobile Workers of America, a C. I. O. affiliate, to protest alleged grievances.

Ford employés who were determined to work apparently had prearranged plans for getting into the factory. As they arrived in groups of cars—at one time twenty came simultaneously—workers were ushered into the company parking lot through police lines.

Police Stop Stone Barrage.

Some automobiles that reached the plant before daybreak were stoned. The barrage was soon stopped, however, by a police detail. One man was arrested for throwing a stone through a windshield and five others were seized for blocking trafic with their cars.

The U. A. W. A. charged the Ford company discriminated against their members in reëmploying workers after a seasonal layoff.

Milton N. Johnson, Ford manager, said the trouble was caused by a few C. I. O. leaders, who thought they could dominate the plant. He asserted that 584 men entered the factory today and were at work on assembly lines, only fourteen fewer than were on the job yesterday.

ACCUSES UNION HEADS OF ATTEMPT TO HIRE HIM AS MINE BOMBER

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 24.—(AP)—William L. Weber, former Springfield miner, testified in federal court today that members of the Progressive Miners of America union sought to hire him to blow up mines and trains.

Appearing as a witness for the government in its trial of forty-one men on conspiracy charges, Weber told how he was offered $1,000 to blow up the airshaft of the Peabody Capitol mine here in November, 1933. He said the offer was made by John Fancher of Springfield, now P. M. A. vice president, who was to get the money from William Keck of Gillespie, then P. M. A. president. Both Fancher and Keck are defendants.

Former Mayor of Elmhurst and His Employe Indicted

Former Mayor Otto W. Balgemann of Elmhurst, a real estate dealer, was indicted by the DuPage county grand jury yesterday on a larceny charge, along with one of his employés, A. O. Garriott. The charge grew out of a dispute over the sale of building materials stored in an Elmhurst home, for which Balgemann was the receiver.

SCOT BAGPIPES SOUND WELCOME FOR A PUDDING

A haggis, the traditional Scotch Highland pudding delicacy, was welcomed to Chicago yesterday by a color guard of Scots highland bagpipers, kilted in the royal Stuart tartans. The haggis was prepared aboard the S. S. Caledonia in midocean and arrived here on the Twentieth Century.

Robert Ross, British consul, headed the delegation from the consular corps which received the haggis. Among the Chicagoans of Scotch descent in the welcoming group were James B. Forgan, James G. McMillan, James B. McDougal, Arthur Tossel, R. Douglas Stuart and John T. Cunningham.

The haggis will be on display at the Stevens hotel until Saturday night when it will be served at the 92d annual feast of the Illinois St. Andrew society. Proceeds will go to the Scottish old people's home in Riverside. The haggis is made of the hearts and livers of sheep, mixed with onions and herbs, and boiled in a lamb's stomach.

GOV. MURPHY BLASTS AT SIT STRIKE TIEUPS BY LABOR MINORITIES

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 24.—[Special.] —Showing an attitude in marked contrast to his toleration of sitdown strikes in automotive plants last winter, Gov Frank Murphy today condemned sitdown tactics by minority labor groups and promised state action to preserve order and protect legal rights.

Admitting present business conditions are causing concern, the governor said business men must have freedom of management and assurance that they can operate without frequent and unwaranted interruption.

"With the facilities provided for peaceful settlement of disputes, there is no adequate excuse for taking violent or extreme measures to redress minor grievances," the governor asserted. He said that when labor troubles arise work should go on while the difficulties are adjusted by negotiation.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

THANKSGIVING PAROLES GIVEN TO 28 CONVICTS

Six of Them Sentenced from Cook County.

CRIMINAL COURT.
Elmer Hensel, larceny of an automobile, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary; John Adamor, larceny, sentenced to 18 months in the Bridewell; Aaron Perkins, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge Cornelius J. Harrington.
Clifford Butcher, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Joseph Sabath.

Chairman W. C. Jones of the state parole board announced yesterday that 28 convicts have been granted Thanksgiving day paroles. He and Walter I. Manny have been hearing parole applications at the Joliet and Stateville institutions since Monday. The men to be released were not heard at this session, he said, but the board as a whole had agreed on the paroles in executive session last week.

Of the 28 only six were sent to prison from Cook county. So far this year fewer than 300 Cook county convicts have been paroled, whereas in the last few years the average was about 1,200 per year.

Six Cook County Convicts.

The six Cook county convicts freed are Frank Accardi and Otis Christmas, from Menard prison, and John Jurs, Leo C. Fay, Teddy W. Brewer, and Claiborne Butler, from the Stateville prison.

Fay, who is 33 years old and lived at 1839 South 60th court, was credit manager for the S. A. Maxwell company, 3636 Iron street. He pleaded guilty to embezzling $5,000 of the firm's money and on Feb. 21, 1936, was sentenced to imprisonment for 1 to 10 years.

Jurs was a school trustee in Gilberts, Ill. On the day of his arrest, June 14, 1935, he was to have served as foreman of the Kane county grand jury. He confessed to dealing in stolen automobiles and on July 24, 1935, was sentenced to 1 to 20 years' imprisonment.

Others Minor Offenders.

The others freed on parole were minor offenders. Chairman Jones said that gunmen now are finding it difficult to get early paroles and men with previous criminal records are being treated severely.

Anthony Pangonis and John Janish, paroled convicts who were recaptured Tuesday morning after Pangonis exchanged several shots with Lieut. Joseph Berounsky, were identified yesterday by ten robbery victims. They admitted committing nearly forty robberies while they were dodging parole agents who learned both had left their homes and that they were violating their parole by associating with each other.

When one robbery victim said Pangonis had taken $82 from him Janish remarked: "And he only gave me $4.50 as my share." The largest robbery in which they were identified yesterday was that of $200 from Henry Morris, owner of a tavern at 3800 Emerald avenue. They said they robbed tavern and café owners because they were always overcharged on their drinking bills.

Hyde Park police said they were still trying to prove that Pangonis and Janish were implicated in the murder of William Hendele at a gas station last Saturday night.

COUNCIL VOTES THIRD TRAILER CAMP SURVEY

The city council yesterday adopted a resolution by Ald. John J. Duffy [19th] for a third survey of Chicago's trailer camp problem. In drafting an ordinance to regulate trailer camps, the aldermen have made one survey and the police department another.

The new investigation will be under the direction of the commissioners of public works, building, health, fire, and police. Ald. Duffy declared that the trailer problem affects each of these departments. He suggested that no new camps be permitted to open during the survey.

Under the proposed ordinance, according to Ald. Arthur G. Lindell [9th], camps will not be permitted in residential or apartment neighborhoods.

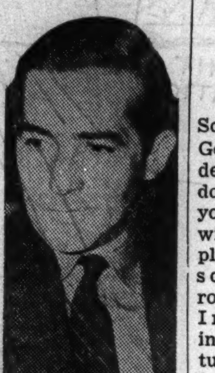
SECOND POLICE KILLER PLEADS GUILTY; GETS 199 YEARS IN PRISON

James Pogue, 32 years old, who pleaded guilty last week to the murder of Policeman Elmer Ostling, was sentenced to 199 years in the penitentiary yesterday by Judge Robert Jerome Dunne in Criminal court. A similar term was fixed on Tuesday night by a jury in the court for Samuel Turriano, 22 years old, one of Pogue's two associates in the crime. The other associate, Edward Moorehead, was shot to death by police last month.



James Pogue.

When Pogue was called for sentencing Assistant State's Attorney Emmet Moynihan told the court the state was not asking for the death penalty since the man had aided in clearing up the crime. Pogue had agreed to testify against Turriano, but he was not called.

Ostling and Policeman John Skopec were shot to death July 22, 1933, while questioning the three men in front of 2838 Washington boulevard.

FLEE WITH $1,115 PAY ROLL.
Two armed men held up Louis Malina, cashier for the Foote Brothers Gear and Machine corporation, as he was entering the company's plant at 5301 South Western avenue yesterday afternoon and compelled him to surrender a $1,115 pay roll.

NAZIS MOVE TO ENLIST YOUTH IN THE NEAR EAST

Leaders Map Air Trip to Far Off Iran.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 24.—Baldur von Schirach, national youth leader in Germany, and a delegation of a dozen other Nazi youth chieftains will start an airplane tour of southeast Europe, Turkey, and Iran [Persia], in the near future. Their object is to cultivate Germany's relations with youth groups in this part of the world.

Baldur von Schirach.

The projected flight will follow closely a visit to the same areas by leading men in Alfred Rosenberg's organization, which at times is called "Germany's unofficial foreign office." Rosenberg is leader of the foreign political office of the Nazi party and is recognized as the party's philosophical leader.

Just as in the days when former Kaiser Wilhelm II. ruled Germany, when the slogan of important German groups was "look southeastward," and when Germans helped build the famous Bagdad railway, political and industrial groups in Germany now are seeking close contact throughout southeast Europe and in the near east.

During his trip Von Schirach will visit Jugo-Slavia, Bulgaria, Greece, Turkey, Iran, Rumania, and Hungary. He will confer with local youth leaders.

During September and October a group of Hitler Youth leaders visited Budapest, Bucharest, and Belgrade.

The total number of pastors and laymen of the Confessional [Evangelical Lutheran] church now under arrest has increased to 145. That was announced tonight at a special service of intercession held in St. Anne's church in Dahlem, a Berlin suburb. The figure is twenty-eight higher than last Sunday, it was said.

Confessional pastors in Berlin met today to decide what attitude they should take toward a speech made in Fulda last night by Hans Kerrl, German minister for church affairs.

That speech terminated in a threat that the state eventually would withdraw its subsidies and proceeds of the church tax from the churches in Germany.

[The Confessional pastors object to Nazi domination of church affairs and seek freedom of creed.]

INVESTIGATE CHARGES OF EXACTING TRIBUTE FROM MOVIE EXTRAS

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 24.—(AP)—District attorney investigators questioned 12 men, including an assistant film casting director, in their inquiry today into reports hoodlums have been exacting tribute from screen extras.

Meanwhile, officers continued search for the killer of Hymie Miller, extra player and delicatessen store operator.

The inquiry into the film racketeering reports was an outgrowth of the Miller assassination, but officials divorced the two subjects today.

The men quizzed were asked if they were aware any extra players had been forced to make payments to gangsters who falsely claimed to have control over bit jobs in the movies.

PASTOR NEWTON ASKS NEW TRIAL; FACES LIFE TERM

Pittsfield, Ill., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Back in a cell here today after conviction on a charge of first degree murder, the Rev. C. E. Newton thumbed his Bible and expressed the hope that a motion for a new trial would be granted.

A jury of eleven farmers and a barber early this morning found the tall and lanky minister guilty of slaying Mrs. Denny Kelly, a prominent member of his congregation and his former Sunday school teacher. The verdict fixed punishment at life imprisonment.

Motion for a new trial was filed by Martin S. Turner, one of his attorneys, and automatically stayed passing of sentence.

FAKE POLICE ROB COUPLE.
Woodlawn police yesterday sought two men who posed as policemen and robbed August Hanold, 42 years old, and his wife, Earla, 37 years old, of $20 and $800 worth of jewelry near their home at 6720 Jeffery avenue Tuesday night.

PROBE ORDERED OF MYSTERIOUS FIRE IN LOOP

A mysterious and spectacular fire which threw the south end of the loop into confusion yesterday morning brought orders for an exhaustive investigation by the corporation counsel's office.

The fire broke out in the six story building at 322 South Wabash avenue shortly after 6 o'clock and tied up street car and elevated trafic for more than an hour. More than 250 firemen, under the command of Commissioner Michael Corrigan, battled the flames, directed through amplifiers on staf trucks. The damage was estimated at $50,000.

Captain John Prendergast, chief of the uniformed force, called out more than 100 extra policemen to handle the crowds attracted to the scene.

Douglas Vickers, Retired Arms Maker, Dies at 76

LONDON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Douglas Vickers, former arms manufacturer, died last night. He was 76 years old. He was chairman of Vickers, Ltd., from 1918 to 1926 and was a former member of parliament.

THE DAY OF THANKSGIVING.

We know that Thanksgiving in America as a public acknowledgment in behalf of a whole community began in 1621 when the Pilgrims at Plymouth did their devotions for their first harvest. They were a devout people, consciously under the hands of God in all their good and bad fortunes. In their enterprise of new homes in a land which did not look any too good they had reason to think that if they were going to pull through help from above would have to be greatly in their favor.

The growth of the public Thanksgiving as a festival and an act of devotion grew with particular emphasis on times and occasions which had tried men's souls, summoned their hardihood, and inclined their minds to thoughts of a power above which must have aided their deliverance. The custom which was to be adopted by all the nation took firm root in the New England soil, probably because there a sturdy breed was many times hard bitten and also because in its perseverance in a stern simplicity it had discarded so many of the colorful festivities which although associated with worshipful occasions had come to be regarded as frivolous and inconsistent with the habit of a devout and sober life.

The Puritans of the Massachusetts Bay colony followed the Pilgrims in the custom nine years later and observed it for fifty years whenever particular circumstances caused men to feel that they should make known publicly their sense of blessing. In 1680 it became an annual celebration in that colony. The Dutch in New Netherlands before then had picked it up also for special occasions.

The revolutionary war and its uncertainties and perils was the beginning of the general national custom, although it did not become fixed then. In each year except 1777 the continental congress set aside one or more days when a hopeful nation might express its thanks, probably more for what it dared hope than for what it could see in hand.

With prophetic propriety President George Washington set for the people a day of thanksgiving, Thursday, Nov. 26, in 1789, for their new constitution. President Madison for a sufficient reason proclaimed a day for devotion and thanksgiving at the close of the war of 1812. By 1858 the custom was spreading and the governors of 25 states and two territories had given it official recognition.

Each President since 1864 has followed Lincoln, who that year, when certainty of success had not dissipated the fears of failure, by a proclamation turned the minds of citizens to thoughts of their great trial and hopes for final deliverance. Since then we have had the permanent institution of a day set aside for what the people may make of it, devoted in its essence to the mood in which the home takes thought of its foundations and with good cheer focuses life within the four walls of the most intimate and what we all reverentially hope to be the most complete justification of the daily effort.

In our northern latitudes we have the pleasant and appropriate season for it. The lean streak in American character, in the post-harvest scene, can prepare a feast in the proper spirit. That lean streak should be the national protection against excesses of all kinds, excesses of zeal and enthusiasms, of prejudices and dislikes, and hold the national destinies safe on a course of temperate thought and action which, in spite of problems, vexations, and even perils, will make for the continuity of the country to which this annual celebration may come with due cause and proper appreciation of them for untold generations.

TWO POTENT PHRASES.

The Tribune takes a good deal of satisfaction in having popularized two current phrases. One of them is "lawyer criminal" and the other is "the alliance of crime and politics." So far as we know, these phrases were coined by this newspaper, though it is, of course, not impossible that other writers may have hit upon them earlier. In any event, the repeated use in our columns of these expressions has made them current. Today they are part of the English language.

And they are a most useful part. One of them has served to highlight a major abuse of our judicial system. Every community must have its criminal lawyers, its specialists in the branch of practice known as the criminal law. The profession is an honorable and useful one as long as its practitioners recognize that loyalty to the client does not warrant disloyalty to the law. The lawyer criminal puts the criminal's welfare above every scruple. To win acquittals, the lawyer criminal employs any trickery which he can devise, ranging from repeated delays to intimidation of witnesses, bribery, and corruption. He is himself the beneficiary of crime, a sharer in its gains and not infrequently the directing intelligence of a criminal gang. He is a far less common phenomenon than he was a few years ago and his gradual disappearance can be explained to a considerable extent by the fact that a phrase accurately describing him focused public attention on the menace which he represented.

"The alliance of crime and politics" has been an even more useful phrase, because it has presented vividly the fundamental cause of the growth of organized criminality in this country. Every community, however orderly and however well governed, will have its quota of psychopathic criminals and its crimes of passion, but these together never made a crime wave such as this country has repeatedly experienced in recent decades. Organized criminal gangs can exist only by virtue of protection from the forces of law: the police, the prosecutors and courts, the heads of the penal system. This protection is granted only when the politicians at the top approve it. In exchange for immunity from prosecution and punishment the criminal gang provides cash and political support.

It is this alliance which has led again and again to the trial of major criminals on minor charges, produced most of the sensational jail breaks, made a business of the granting of paroles to hardened criminals and in a hundred other ways has prevented the law from protecting society as it could and should. Here again the improvement which has been achieved in recent years owes much to the power of an illuminating phrase.

OPPRESSION NOT JUSTICE.

The procedure by which two residents of Chicago, John Jursich and daughter, suffered forfeiture of a farm property near Woodstock because a still was found on the place while in the possession of a purchaser recalls the prohibition tyranny. However correct it may be in the technique of existing law, it was in effect an attainder, and utterly repugnant to American principles.

A purchaser or pretended purchaser last spring had entered into a contract of sale with the owners and on payment of $2,400 on the purchase price had been given possession, the title remaining in the daughter of Jursich as before the sale. In April internal revenue agents discovered an unlicensed distillery on the property, and, under a provision of the internal revenue act providing for forfeiture of property where the owner knowingly permits a still to operate upon it, an action in admiralty procedure was instituted. On admission of Jursich that he had visited his property in March and had been within 100 feet of the still, though he denied guilty knowledge, the court held that grounds of forfeiture were established.

We are assuming that the section of the revenue act on which the forfeiture of the property rested is constitutional and the procedure under the admiralty law formally correct, although what the law of the sea has to do with the forfeiture of real estate in the center of a continent only one inured to the elastic devices of legal procedure could understand. But however correct the proceedings may have been and however valid the law of forfeiture, both are flagrantly offensive to American principle and to any sense of proportion in the application of penalties. The forfeiture of the still could not have been criticized, but the forfeiture of the property in this case was an excessive and unjust action of government and should bring about the prompt repeal or amendment of the laws under which the forfeiture was imposed. Unlawful manufacture or sale of liquor calls for no such distorted and oppressive measures. The President should disavow this enterprise of the department of justice and ascertain whether there is not a legal means of restoring the farm to its owners.

THE CHARITY FUND CAMPAIGN.

The campaign for the Community Fund is now entering its last stage. The goal is $3,510,000, an increase of $150,000 over last year. Over $3,100,000 has been subscribed up to this time. Twenty-three welfare agencies have been added to the previous list, 177 in all, and conditions leave no room for doubt, what with the new recession of employment and the rise of costs of material and services, that all private welfare agencies must carry unlightened burdens. An increase of at least 5 per cent in the average of contributions over last year is required, in the judgment of the fund administration.

Federal, state, and city relief funds are not extended to the local agencies which private citizenship has created and maintained for the relief of want in the community. Government agencies do not meet the chronic demands of indigence and misfortune. They must be met by private giving as usual. The Community Fund campaign provides the means by which every one who is willing to help the needy can do so with assurance that his or her contribution will be well applied. The proceeds are allocated on an agreed basis to the 177 accredited charities, Protestant, Catholic, Jewish, and nonsectarian. It is estimated that the fund should meet about 45 per cent of the money requirements of the charities represented, with 55 per cent provided by the respective charities themselves, but no independent campaigns for the latter purpose will be made on the lines of the Community Fund campaign—that is, through employé and corporate groups.

All recognized fields of welfare are covered by the charities included—family service, child care, day nurseries, homes for the aged, group work agencies, protective agencies, health, and general service. Out of each dollar contributed 97.4 cents goes directly to the purpose intended. Over 99 per cent of pledges have been collected in past years. This is the lowest overhead and the highest rate of collection in the country. The present is the seventh campaign. By concentrating upon this single annual effort the many individual campaigns have been made unnecessary and expenditure for collection greatly reduced.

The Community Fund represents economy, responsibility, and efficiency in private philanthropy, and its campaign should have generous response from the community. The showing made in this campaign by the reputable and generous people of Chicago who have been so harassed by the government and whose incomes have been so severely curtailed is reason for pride. In spite of unjust and excessive exactions they have carried this burden loyally.

ALL IN A NUTSHELL.

[Detroit Free Press.]

A main cause of the failure of recovery in this country, about which volumes and columns innumerable have been written, was summed up by a Tammany congressman the other day in twenty-five words.

Alluding to the 5,000,000 or so private employers in the United States, Congressman John O'Conner said: "We are picking on them, abusing them, and snooping on them. Yet the only place anybody can get a job is from a private employer."

When the administration and congress wake up to that fact and begin to act in accordance with it they will be able to drop from the "dole" several million people now being supported by the taxpayers under the pretense of work relief.

The experience of the last five years ought to teach them that hampering and hamstringing private employers is not the way to increase private employment, which is the only kind of employment that provides real jobs which produce real wealth.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

THANKSGIVING DAY! Wise squirrels have carried their winter hoard upstairs, cagey farmers have sold at the market's peak everything they couldn't get into their bursting bins, and the gentlemen who own Chicago's 350 pleasure boats we can tell you about today haven't been playing grasshopper while the ants worked, either. They have grimly steered their craft to the boatyards or watched in sadness as the boatyard people towed them in. Just in time, for a winter storm may strike any time now, the last one has been hoisted from the water with a crane, slid along steel tracks, blocked up from the ground, and lovingly covered with canvas for the winter.

But the sailor man isn't content to leave the canvas on. This very afternoon he will doubtless drive out to one of the two big boatyards on the north branch of the river, or the storage places on Navy Pier, for another look at the beauty that cost him anywhere from $200 to $15,000. His wife will go with him, and they'll find something they can fix within half an hour. By the merest chance they will discover overalls in the car. They'll giggle and pretend they didn't really mean to work on the holiday, the boatyard people say, but before you know it they'll both be repairing this and that. When they discover that friends are working on all the boats about them they'll confess that they just couldn't stay away. The half hour will become an hour; they'll leave when it's dark. Saturday afternoons, Sundays, the sailor man is at the boatyard, dreaming of next season, painting up the inside, doing a dozen odd jobs he has invented so he can be near his boat. The women are quite as persistent as the men, work harder, and wear stranger clothes. It may be a tiny sailboat, a swift racing craft, a big cabin cruiser, or a de luxe houseboat. Whatever it is, the owner's proud of it. College students brought their boats in first, before they left for school. Each succeeding day saw the number of boats at the moorings diminish, until the weather became so threatening that there was a rush to get them all in.

STERLING TIGER INFLUENCE.

Toots and I went hunting yesterday in the haunts of the mythical tiger of Sterling, Ill. We found five starlings, two hawks, and one stray black tomcat which Toots tackled in a snow covered cornfield. Toots got the hell scratched out of his nose. (He still believes in the tiger.)

CLARK STREET.

Twenty-five years I've ridden the Clark street cars. At Grand avenue, each spring, an old man opens up his wagon and sits on the curb selling fruit and candy. It's time to put up storm windows when he leaves in the fall. Each year I wonder if he'll be there again. A stout little man with a long overcoat hustles paper boxes from a haberdasher's in Washington street; we know we are late if we pass him at Lake street, going north. One or two established characters carry bundles like carpetbaggers, prepared for winter, with all their possessions inside. Last summer a lordly looking gentleman with a real bowler promenaded, lending a British atmosphere. There are old paintings, fiddles, copper ware, and antiques in windows of stores that Clark street knew 50 years ago.

THANKSGIVING—THEN AND NOW.

We can admire the Pilgrim fathers without stint for a type of bravery which led them to risk the hardships of a precarious ocean passage and settlement in a new land. They inaugurated an epoch in world history. To them health and the family—wife and children—were subordinated to rules of conduct—sometimes bordering on asceticism.

With unbounded appreciation of their sterling qualities, the only regret I have is that they got so little fun and joy out of life. It was too serious a business. But with the Thanksgiving season feasting and games broke the monotony of what must have been a drab routine, and infused gayety into the company, at least for the hour. Little wonder then that holidays were looked forward to eagerly. The cast iron natures of these early settlers were mellowed even though their features dared not break into a smile.

There comes a time with many of us when we rebel against the prevailing order of things. The faults of the period are ever before us and—after countless but ineffectual strivings—we may surrender ideals and forgo efforts to reshape our environments. How many of us—possessed of equal convictions—would have ventured to embark on the Mayflower with all the uncertainties of the voyage? We are too fond of ease, safety, and creature comforts. It is not that we should fuss and stew and worry, but that we should use the intelligence with which we are endowed for the preservation of the home, the state, the nation, and our individualities. Perhaps today we are shirking decision and action calling for the high courage of the Puritans.

One readily can visualize the gloom and despair which pervaded Plymouth colony when illness appeared. There was little to do with, and the boundaries of medical knowledge were limited. Need we be surprised that these pioneers succumbed so readily when transplanted to the rocky shores of New England? Of course, they were not happy except as a sense of martyrdom afforded them personal satisfaction. Existence was made possible by the hope of a better day—which many of them never were to see, but for which they laid the foundation. Our discouragements—colossal as they may seem to many of us—are trifling when compared to theirs.

There is little call to moralize over the fact that only half the settlement survived the pneumonia and other infections that swept like a scourge through the band. We can, however, contrast their struggles against pestilence with our comparative security. They lacked everything which we today consider essential — trained physicians, skilled nurses, and well equipped hospitals.

We have come a long way in our conception of health since those far-off days—particularly mental health. Self-denial is a valuable trait, but it can be carried too far. The absolute certainty that one is right is not conducive to clear thinking. No doubt dwelt in the minds of our Puritan ancestors that they possessed the only formula of salvation.

Fortunately we have learned to be more natural, more truly ourselves, more frankly honest. But their principles bred stability of character, firmness of purpose, even though their tenets did not make for the expanding mind as we view it today.

Instead of relieving pain they tolerated it; instead of finding a way to prevent disease they accepted it. Old obituaries are filled with such phases as "She endured her suffering with patience," "Death released him after many months of agony, which he bore with fortitude." While many lived to a good old age, yet a very high percentage perished in infancy or early childhood. The average life span has been lengthened from their 18 years to our 50. Well may we be thankful that we live in the twentieth century — with all its bewilderments — rather than in the seventeenth.

UNDULANT FEVER.

B. E. writes:

1. Please describe undulant fever.
2. Is trichinosis acquired by eating pork?

REPLY.

1. Undulant fever is an endemic infectious disease, characterized by an irregular, intermittent fever, profuse sweats, pain, enlarged spleen, and a tendency to relapse. It is due to the organism known as Brucella melitensis. The infection is conveyed to man by the milk or flesh of infected cows, goats, etc.
2. Trichinosis is acquired by eating pork that is infested with a certain kind of parasitic worm.

CORONARY THROMBOSIS.

W. J. B. writes: What is the cause of coronary thrombosis and how may it be contracted?

REPLY.

Coronary thrombosis occurs more often in men than in women and is most frequent between the ages of 40 and 60. Hardening of the arteries is a factor. Some patients possess a family tendency to high blood pressure. Thrombosis, or plugging of one of the coronary vessels, is usually associated with inflammation of the inner coat of the artery. This may be a part of generalized arteriosclerosis. The obstruction may be due to a plug which blocks a branch of one of the main coronary vessels.

SOCIAL SECURITY.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—There has been some discussion among us regarding our status under the social security act. Presuming I live until I have received one or more payments from the social security pension fund, and then die, [1] do all payments stop at this time, or [2] do my widow or other dependents receive additional payments?

3. As I understand it if I should die before the age of 65 my estate would receive 3½ per cent of my total earnings after Jan. 1, 1937, but if I die after receiving even one monthly payment my widow or estate would receive nothing, thus leaving my widow without any return for the money I have paid in.

COLD FLATS.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—In order to correct a false impression that may have been made by the writer of an article appearing recently in this column, permit me to explain the procedure that must be adhered to by the board of health upon the receipt of a complaint pertaining to inadequately heated premises.

Upon receiving a complaint of cold rooms the owner or agent must first be notified by mail that such a complaint has been made to the board of health. [If the person responsible for heating the building has a phone, it is our policy also to request him by telephone to supply adequate heat at once.] This latter procedure is followed because it is our experience that about 80 per cent of the persons so contacted comply immediately.

However, if a renewed complaint is made after the delivery of such a notification, a sanitary inspector of the board of health is assigned to take temperature readings. The municipal ordinances require the following minimum temperatures in places of human habitation:

Sixty degrees at 6:30 a. m.
Sixty-five degrees at 7:30 a. m.
Sixty-eight degrees from 8:30 a. m. to 10:30 p. m.

If the inspector reports a violation written notice is served to supply adequate heat at once. Failure to comply with this order immediately is referred to our legal department if it appears that the owner or agent is at fault or is not making reasonable attempts to remedy conditions.

Our records show that most owners or agents consistently strive to coöperate in our attempts to protect public health. The few who refuse or neglect to respond are prosecuted in the Municipal court.

Herman N. Bundesen,
President, Board of Health.

FROM DR. CRILE.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—We sincerely appreciated the coöperative attitude shown by the reporters and photographers assigned by your newspaper to cover the clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons two weeks ago. We are grateful to Mr. A. M. Kennedy for the manner in which preliminary feature material was handled in the rotogravure section on Sunday preceding the day of the opening of the congress, and to Mr. Kinsley and Mr. Williams for exceedingly competent handling of day to day news developments. Sufficient time has elapsed for us to be able to evaluate the manner in which the news was handled, and to judge to some degree the effects. Not only did the representatives of your paper observe great caution in interpreting the news, avoiding the exaggeration that sometimes occurs in newspaper treatment of medical subject matter, but they displayed strong interest in selecting those elements which need emphasis both from a scientific viewpoint and from that of public welfare, as well as appeal to readers. It was a great pleasure to work with them and we hope to have the contacts renewed as developments of interest to the press arise from time to time in our field.

We are also grateful to the other members of your editorial department who were responsible for the directing and handling of news on the clinical congress. The manner in which The Chicago Tribune handled the entire event was eminently satisfactory and sincerely appreciated.

George Crile,
Board of Regents, American College of Surgeons.

THE BIRTH OF THE NEW DEAL.

Belvidere, Ill., Nov. 19.—Is there any significance in the following? President Roosevelt, on his South American trip, told Brazil's bigwigs: "It was two people who invented the New Deal: the president of Brazil and the President of the United States."

President Getulio Vargas has recently abolished parliamentary government in Brazil, thus assuming dictatorship, while President Roosevelt, already having greater power than any other President of the United States, attempts to gain control of the Supreme court by packing it with men whose "minds go along with his."

But then there are still people who say, "It can't happen here."

J. E. Witmer.

WHY THE CAR WAS COLD.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Today I boarded a Stony Island avenue street car and upon entering and sliding the door shut after me I found it unusually cold. Upon consulting the thermometer I found that it was 35 degrees above zero, Fahrenheit. I then resolved to determine the cause and this is what I found: The thoughtless passengers were the cause. I observed that nineteen out of twenty people open the door and stroll nonchalantly away, leaving the door wide open. That is almost an inconceivable fact, yet it is true.

I have come to the conclusion that these people are morons and, second, that they were born on rafts and never learned to close doors.

The majority of these fresh air fiends make a nasty crack to the motorman when leaving the car, on how cold the car is and how it's not fit for animals, etc.

You may wonder why the conductor doesn't see that these doors are kept closed and I will tell you. The conductor has enough to do without playing nursemaid to a carload of grown babies.

Warren C. Thiel.

WHAT HE BELIEVES.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—All I know is what I read in The Tribune. Thus unerringly guided I believe as follows:

That the press of all other nations is censored and controled, but that in America it is free.

That Fascism is rampant in every other English speaking nation, in fact, in most other nations, but in America the people rule.

That foreign diplomats are clever devils, but American statesmen are good but dumb.

That American business men have the good of the people at heart, but abroad business men are selfish and dominate their governments for selfish gain.

That the duke of Windsor was chased off the throne of England by Fascists because he was socially minded, and he is also the head of a world-wide Fascist clique.

Of course, I believe a lot more of the same, but why go on? Loyal Reader.

THE FORGOTTEN CONSUMER.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Catering to the demands of producer pressure groups has brought on us most of our economic troubles. When we become aware of our needs as consumers we shall find the remedy. As alert consumers, we will not tolerate inflation, monopoly, tarifs, labor rackets, crop curtailment, or political graft. Given a fair deal as consumers, we will buy so much that no producers will need pressure devices. Producers will have more real prosperity than ever before. Releasing pent-up consumer demand is the only solution of the unemployment problem. Must we have an American Consumers' party to secure action? W. E. W.

INCONSISTENCIES.

Palmer, Mich., Nov. 18.—Readers of The Tribune comics sometimes accuse the cartoonists of inconsistency.

If these same readers would look at life they would see better examples. I know of a boy, earning $20 per month, who pays $25 per month on his car and drives 1,500 miles per month.

Here's another one. This car owner shouts that tires cost too much, but when pay day comes, more useless junk is fastened onto the car to tear your clothes and the car looks like a Christmas tree.

Incidentally, how does Mr. Tracy manage to keep that topcoat collar so stiff?

Rudolph Honkavaara.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

BY NORMAN INGREY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SANTIAGO, Chile.—Whatever form the Brazilian dictatorship of President Getulio Vargas may ultimately assume, it appears to be taken for granted that no South American state will adhere to the alliance of Germany, Japan, and Italy against communism.

Reports, however, that foreign agents were attempting to seduce Brazil and Peru provoked warnings from several newspapers. The most notable was that of La Prensa of Buenos Aires, which said:

"South American republics will be making a big mistake if they enter this triangle. It is better for each to look after his own, for neighborly aid usually works out expensive, especially if it becomes intimate."

La Prensa of Lima, Peru, said communism was to blame for Brazilian events. La Nacion of Santiago, Chile, said if any election is to be held it should be for that system which insured liberty and civilized progress. It warned all South Americans to be on their guard, "so that this continent at least continues to be a refuge for democracy."

Scrutiny of official statements and a knowledge of their own political background convinced South American editors that this was only "just another" revolution with Vargas as the latest dictator.

The government and press of the United States, wrote Alfred Silva Carvalla in an editorial in La Union of Valparaiso, Chile, coincided with the "abundant opinion here in judging the Brazilian coup has nothing more than a personal dictatorship of the style we all know, offering no risks and no great novelties."

The assertion of Luigi Federzoni in Popolo d'Italia that the seeds of true Fascism have been sown on Brazilian soil is scoffed at. Federzoni recently returned to Italy from South America, where he was engaged on a propaganda mission. He is president of Italy's senate.

If any southern state adhered to the anti-communist front established by Fascist powers, the reaction here, it seems, would be far more serious than that to the alleged "corporative democracy" referred to in Brazil.

Brazil would "cease to be an American republic" in the opinion of Joaquin Edwards, writer for La Nacion of Santiago, if it projected entry into this foreign front.

It is recalled that it was another European "holy alliance" that was mainly responsible for the Monroe Doctrin which sheltered this continent from external aggression.

Since the anti-communist front was dramatized in Rome several South American states, notably Peru, Paraguay, Bolivia, and Uruguay, have publicized the numerous individual measures they have taken against the Reds.

This policy is cited in proof of the contention that the Latin Americans will remain aloof from all ideological combinations, demonstrating to the world that each can take its own measures against the communist menace when found to exist.

"ALL YOU WANT TO DO IS Dance"

The new evening dresses are made for dancing—for the new rhythm that is sweeping America. Materials are airy, waistlines tiny, decolletages revealing, skirts full. They suggest movement as a ballet dress does . . . every kind of movement from the dreamy sweep of a Viennese waltz to the exciting intricacies of the Big Apple. When you see them "all you want to do is dance." These eight illustrate what we mean. They're all sheers or net.

SWING . . . a dream of a dress in frothy rayon and cotton net with a satin bodice. The skirt is full as a ballet dancer's. Bows are feminine. Blue, pink, white, black. 10 to 18. Grand Salon, Sixth Floor. $39.75

A representative collection of these evening dresses also in the Evanston and Oak Park Stores

SUZY-Q . . . a pleated chiffon that moves interestingly when you sway. The straps are attached through rhinestone buckles. Pink, blue, white, black, flame. 12 to 20. Grand Salon, Sixth Floor. $35

TRUCKIN' . . . a chiffon dress with full skirt and soft full bosom, studded all over with rhinestones. Shoe-string back straps make an interesting decolletage. Black, white. Sizes 12 to 18. Little Evening Shop, Sixth Floor. $19.95

SUGAR FOOT . . . a dress that will make a great hit with its worldly-yet-innocent appeal. Soft chiffon, banded at square neck and ruffle with sissy ribbons. Blue, white, rose. 9 to 17. Little Evening Shop, Sixth Floor. $22.95

TANGO . . . a pure dye silk marquisette, with its own bolero. Kid scrollwork gives a bright accent. Black, white or dahlia with gold kid; pink or blue with silver kid. 12 to 20. Grand Salon, Sixth Floor. $29.95

Above left:
THE BIG APPLE . . . a swoop-skirt dress with a rhinestone halter, exciting as the dance it's named after. For extra swoop there's a ruffle at the bottom. Rayon taffeta—white, black, aqua, red. Sizes 9 to 17. Little Evening Shop, Sixth Floor. $17.95

Left:
CARIOCA . . . bugle beaded top, enormously full rayon net skirt. The heart-shaped neckline is another reason for its success, and your success in it. White and pastels. Sizes 12 to 18. Little Evening Shop, Sixth Floor. $25

WALTZ . . . a dignified and lovely dress for the womanly figure. Made of cotton and silk chantilly lace, with gold colored lamé threads spun through. Blue with silver, black with gold. 33 to 44. Little Evening Shop, Sixth Floor. $25

In 1924 he was elected to the office he was filling. Despite bitter political opposition, McFeely was twice reelected, serving as president until 1930, when he suffered his first defeat.

McFeely returned to politics in 1932, winning office again for another two year term. In 1934 he was defeated by the incumbent, James A. Howe.

News of Radio

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Resentment against blood and thunder juvenile broadcasts is growing stronger and coming from more sources than ever before. The agitation comes from educational and civic organizations, parent-teacher groups, women's clubs, and other interests. It does no good for sponsors and networks to insist that the objections are coming from busybodies and snoopers.

And it's useless to insist that the networks have child psychologists and other experts on their staffs to check all juvenile scripts. They're rubber stamps—in most cases. Incidentally some of those shows most perilous to youngsters are not labeled programs. Though Gang Busters, for example, is not intended for children, many of them hear it. And while law and order usually triumph in these throat clutching dramatizations, there is plenty of questionable matter for family circle consumption in them. The gangster phenomenon seems to have subsided on the American scene at least temporarily, even in pictures. Might it not be well for radio to let it lie, too?

Russell Pratt, whose Topsy-Turvy Time was a great favorite with youngsters—and their parents—a few years back, had something to say on this subject the other day.

"Criticism to be effective," he said, "should be specific—and should offer something to supplant that which is condemned.

"An organization which criticized the prevailing type of children's serials not long ago was invited by a large station to create the ideal type of child program. The program was written and produced once, which seemed to be sufficient."

What Mr. Pratt means is that the youngsters rejected it. For no matter what teachers or mothers may label a dish, it may still be spinach to Junior.

Possibly those broadcasts the board of education plans to put on for children after Christmas will help to solve the perplexing problem of giving youngsters adventure and amusement as well as information and instruction on the air without too much excitement and fright. Possibly the National Conference on Educational Broadcasting, to be held here the end of the month, will go into this matter.

William Paley, president of CBS, is to address this meeting; also Irving Reis, who presents those highly original Columbia Workshop productions on Sunday evenings.

LINCOLN-UNION PARK BUS LINE SERVICE ORDERED

O. K. Extension of 9 Street Car Feeders.

Operation of a gasoline bus line in Ogden avenue between Union and Lincoln parks by the Chicago Surface Lines was ordered yesterday by the Illinois commerce commission. The service, already agreed to by the Surface Lines and approved by the city council, is expected to start Jan. 1.

Merrill B. Knox, commission transit engineer, said tentative schedules provide for bus service at three to four minute intervals during busy hours with the trip taking from twelve to fifteen minutes. Seven buses will be used between West Monroe street and South Paulina streets—the southwest end of the line—and Clark street at the north.

Nine Bus Extensions Approved.

The city council yesterday approved ordinances authorizing the Surface Lines to make nine extensions with feeder bus operations in various parts of the city. The action was in line with Mayor Kelly's recommendation to give service to outlying sections which are without local transportation facilities, without waiting for a final settlement of the traction problem.

Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman of the local transportation committee, who introduced the ordinances, said it will now be the duty of aldermen in the territories concerned to petition the commerce commission for orders requiring the instalation of bus lines.

Extension on Halsted Street.

The principal extension authorized by the council yesterday is a gasoline bus line in South Halsted street between 79th and 129th streets. Others are:

Trolley bus lines in West Belmont avenue between Pacific and North Pontiac avenues, in North Central avenue between Milwaukee and Dowagiac avenues and in North Narragansett avenue from West Irving Park road to Sunnyside avenue.

Gasoline bus lines in West Division street from California avenue to Monticello avenue, in East 63d street from South Chicago avenue to Green Bay avenue, in West North avenue from Narragansett avenue to Harlem avenue, in West 111th street from Sacramento avenue to Pulaski road and in East 71st street from South Cottage Grove avenue to State street.

J. M. Arnopol, office manager, said there have been many requests by storekeepers and merchants for trees to be used in decorations and displays.

"We will probably get twenty-five or thirty shipments early in December," he said. "The demand is heavy this year."

Driver Speeds On After Car Hits Pedestrian.

Mrs. Mary Hopkins, who would have been 80 years old tomorrow, was killed by a woman hit and run driver in Elgin last night as she was on her way home from a neighborhood store.

Mrs. Hopkins, who lives at 271 Center street, Elgin, was struck at the intersection of the Elgin-Dundee road and Dexter avenue. Louis Schultz of 814 Center street, who was driving a short distance behind the death car, saw the victim fall to the pavement. He said the women driver pulled over toward the curb, then fled northward.

Mrs. Hopkins was taken to St. Joseph's hospital in Elgin, where she died 45 minutes later.

Killed by Hit and Run Car.

John W. Rice, 56 years old, of 5528 Shields avenue, a tuck pointer, was fatally injured at Garfield boulevard and Princeton avenue last night by a hit and run driver.

Tragedy ended an all-night joy ride in a borrowed automobile yesterday morning when Mrs. Evelyn Kyvia, 30 years old, 6212 Woodlawn avenue, was killed outright in a crash after just missing being struck by a train.

Charles R. Hart of 6239 South Greenwood avenue, her companion and driver of the car, was injured. Hert, who is 39 years old and married, was taken to St. James hospital in Chicago Heights with internal injuries and a broken leg.

The smashing finish to an evening of joy occurred at the Elgin, Joliet, and Eastern railroad crossing at Cicero avenue, Rich township, in the far southern end of the county. Hart escaped being struck by a freight train only to swerve into the front of a standing trailer truck.

Harold F. Due of St. Louis, driver of the truck struck by Hart's car, told police he had stopped for the train south of the crossing.

Four Cars Crash; Woman Killed.

In a four car crash on U. S. highway 20 about 8 miles east of Gary an elderly woman was killed and her daughter critically injured last night. Drivers of two other cars were injured. The woman was Mrs. J. H. Jarroh of Detroit. Her daughter, Beatrice, 25 years old, is in Mercy hospital at Gary. They were alone in the car.

The drivers who were injured are Mrs. Beulah Bledsoe, 467 North Lawler avenue, Chicago, and Charles Matton of Grand Rapids, Mich. The fourth driver was Ray Pickell, 5258 Ferdinand street, Chicago. Indiana highway police said two of the cars were eastbound and two westbound. The two leading machines skidded on the icy pavement and crashed, the other two striking the wreckage.

Allen Ivar Blomgren, 23 years old, of 1635 Farragut avenue, died yesterday morning at St. Therese hospital in Waukegan a short time after the truck in which he was riding struck another a mile and a half west of Zion.

Up to 3:30 p. m. yesterday 967 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 729 were killed in Chicago, where 20,589 were injured in the same period.

Indicted for Murder

Mrs. Ada Szczytowski in expressive pose after arraignment for slaying young woman she regarded as a rival for her husband's love.

The state moved speedily yesterday against Mrs. Ada Szczytowski, who shot and killed Miss Irene Kerstein, 26 years old, in a bakery at 1351 North Paulina street on Monday night. Mrs. Szczytowski regarded Miss Kerstein as her rival for the love of her husband, Rudolph.

She was arraigned in Felony court on a charge of murder and the hearing was continued to Dec. 6. After this formality Assistant State's Attorney Julius Sherwin presented evidence before the grand jury and fifteen minutes later a murder indictment against Mrs. Szczytowski was returned before Chief Justice Cornelius J. Harrington of the Criminal court.

DRIVER SEIZED TWICE IN WEEK JAILED 90 DAYS

Nine More Found Guilty in Safety Court.

Charged with two trafic violations in a week's time, Adolph Schulze, 6738 North street, Tinley Park, yesterday was sentenced to ninety days in the county jail and barred from driving for six months by Judge James G. Gullett of Elizabethtown, sitting in the County court.

Adolph Schulze.

Schulze was arrested first on Nov. 16 when he was charged with leaving the scene of an accident after his car struck another at Oak Park avenue and 167th street, Tinley Park, Edward Green, also of Tinley Park, the driver of the other car, was injured. Last Tuesday state highway police arrested Schulze at 129th street and Cicero avenue after a minor collision and charged him with drunken driving.

First Charge Is Dropped.

Judge Gullett imposed the jail term and suspension for drunken driving. The other charge was dropped.

In Safety court Judge J. M. Braude found nine motorists guilty of trafic offenses. One was sentenced to jail, five were fined and also lost their driving rights, two got off with suspensions, and one paid a straight fine.

Daniel Coffey, colored, 764 East 41st street, was sentenced to five days in the county jail and barred from driving for six months on a charge of reckless driving.

Others Fined and Suspended.

The others found guilty, the charges against them, and disposition of the cases, were:

HAROLD SCHLEICHER, 2741 Washington boulevard, reckless driving, $10 fine and four months suspension.

Judge Gibson E. Gorman in Boys' court sentenced Jack Mannino, 19 years old, 929 Cambridge avenue, to six months in the Bridewell for reckless driving.

Because he violated a one year driving suspension imposed on Sept. 27 for reckless driving, Joseph Hamilton, colored, 1935 Maple avenue, Evanston, was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail by Judge Harry H. Porter yesterday in the Evanston Municipal court. Elroy Thompson, 406 North Pine street, Arlington Heights, lost his driving rights for a year when charged with reckless driving, and was instructed to attend the suburb's trafic school for a month.

SEEK AUTO CLEW IN DEATH.

The coroner's office ordered yesterday that a post mortem examination be made of the body of Daniel Vaughan, colored, 45 years old, 1414 Washburne avenue, to determine whether an automobile accident a year ago was a contributing factor in his death.

Ald. Arvey Deals a Blow to Morning Horn Tooters

Like many another sleeping citizen, Ald. Jacob M. Arvey [24th] objects to being awakened by the raucous tooting of an automobile horn. Recently the alderman has been aroused from his slumber at 6 a. m. by some thoughtless horn blower near his home. Yesterday he introduced an ordinance into the city council prohibiting the use of an automobile horn when the vehicle is not in motion.

BABY'S DEATH ACCIDENTAL.

A verdict of accidental death was returned by a coroner's jury yesterday at the inquest over William Christian Anderson, 12 weeks old, who suffocated in his crib Tuesday in his home at 817 Judson avenue, Evanston.

Family Dinner Ranks First on Day's Calendar

BY JUDITH CASS.

WHATEVER else may engross one's attention during part of today, a family dinner is pretty certain to be on every one's program, for Thanksgiving still is primarily a family day. There are no début teas or other large social affairs scheduled, although there are enough small parties planned to insure that the day and evening will not be boring ones.

Music lovers will go tonight to the opera to hear those two perennial favorites, "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "I Pagliacci," or to Orchestra hall for the program of the Chicago Symphony orchestra. Hans Lange will conduct and Beveridge Webster, pianist, will be the soloist.

Barbara Baker Becomes Bride.

The quiet wedding Tuesday afternoon of Miss Barbara Baker to James S. Knowlson IV. will be a topic of interest around the Thanksgiving table of George R. Carr and his daughters, Miss Katherine and Miss Martha Carr, and fifteen members of the Carr family.

The former Miss Baker, a niece of Mr. Carr, is the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Baker, in whose Hinsdale home the ceremony took place at 5 o'clock, followed by a small reception.

The bride, who was attended by her sister, Miss Emily Baker, wore her mother's wedding gown. Mr. Knowlson, son of the James S. Knowlsons, Hinsdale neighbors of the Bakers, was attended by John Lord as best man. Following a short motor trip, Mr. Knowlson and his bride will be at home in Oak Park.

Mrs. G. W. Spear, of New York, another sister of Mr. Carr, and her daughter, Miss Emily Spear, came west for the wedding, and are remaining for Thanksgiving. The Walter S. Carrs and Robert F. Carr also will attend the family party.

Tomorrow night George Carr is giving a dinner-dance at the Casino for his daughters. Miss Martha is a débutante this year; Miss Katherine is slightly older. The sisters and their father returned from Europe two months ago, and have taken an apartment at 209 Lake Shore drive, where Robert Carr also lives.

The wedding last night of Miss Gretchen Onderdonk to Edwin P. Price Jr. will be followed by two gay Thanksgiving dinners today for the out-of-town relatives. One will be given at the home of Mrs. Everett Cook, aunt of the bride, the other at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin P. Price, and the chief topic of conversation around both tables will be how pretty the bride was in her mother's white satin wedding gown.

Christ church, Winnetka, where the ceremony was held at 8:30 o'clock, was decorated with white chrysanthemums and candelabra. Chrysanthemums in autumn shades were used for the reception at the Indian Hill club.

The bride carried white orchids and lilies of the valley; and the cap from which a long tulle veil fell was of the same rosepoint lace that formed a bertha on the gown.

Miss Anne McCall, maid of honor for her cousin, wore a golden henna chiffon velvet gown; and the bridesmaids, who included Miss Frances Price, sister of the bridegroom, wore gold velvet. They all wore velvet halos and carried chrysanthemums in golden and henna shades.

Longmeadow Hunt Will Meet Today.

The Longmeadows Hunt members will be up bright and early today regardless how late they may have danced this morning for the hounds will meet at 9 o'clock. As is usual on Thanksgiving a cap for the hunt servants will be passed around, and after the hunt the members will go to the Ernest S. Ballards' hospitable

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Lips so dry they crack and fringe are something of a headache on two counts. They mar the makeup, and they're as uncomfortable as a hair shirt must be. And one vicious aspect of the situation is that the dryer the lips the more you'll indulge in habits that make 'em still worse; the irritation will make you bite them and moisten them all the live long day.

Every woman knows the appeal of soft, smooth lips, and that she can't look very alluring if she walks around tight lipped in order to hide a pair of rough, chapped ones. So . . .

Let's have none of that lip—not when there is a remedy within reach to counteract this annoying dryness. A lifesaver, which is really a lip saver, is a delicately fragrant cream that looks like rose colored ice.

Rub a little of this cream on your lips at night before you go to bed. Work it in thoroughly, particularly around the edges so as not to miss any of the rough spots. When you wake up in the morning you will find yourself doing lip exercises just to prove to yourself that your lips are as satiny as they feel.

Don't limit its use to the night time, however. When you are dressed ready to go out on the street, make a last minute rite of applying a bit of this cream over your lipstick. This will prevent your lips from rechapping, and add a little additional sheen to your lipstick.

It isn't a bad idea to carry a jar of this cream in your purse. It is tiny enough not to be in the way, and if you are going to be outdoors all day you might like to keep up the good work. Just a little of that parched feeling is conducive to the frequent moistening of the lips, and if something isn't done about it the trouble will start all over again. It really isn't fair to your lipstick to expect it to repair the damage all by itself.

ELEANOR NANGLE.

Mme. Flagstad All You Could Ask of Isolde

"TRISTAN UND ISOLDE."

[Music drama by Richard Wagner. Presented by the Chicago City Opera company in the Civic Opera house, Wednesday, Nov. 24, 1937.]

Tristan	Lauritz Melchior
King Marke	Emanuel List
Isolde	Kirsten Flagstad [debut]
Kurvenal	George Czaplicki
Melot	Reinhold Schmidt
Brangaene	Gertrud Wettergren
Shepherd	Giuseppe Cavadore
The Helmsman	Sandro Giglio
A Sailor's Voice	Giuseppe Cavadore
Conductor	Henry Weber

BY EDWARD BARRY.

When Kirsten Flagstad sang Isolde last night in a Chicago City Opera company mounting of "Tristan" the town's operagoers had their long delayed first opportunity to lay tribute at the feet of the reigning Wagnerian soprano of our day. This they proceeded to do by jamming the Civic opera house from roof to cellar and by staging a series of demonstrations which have had few or no parallels in recent years.

In braided gold and flowing scarlet, looking like a queenly figure out of an ancient saga, the great Norwegian singer proved again and again in that first tumultuous act that she possesses the vocal equipment and the intelligence which Wagner dreamed of for the rôle.

The imperious sweep of her singing and the apparently limitless capacity of her voice are not more important to the total effect than the reserved, reginal dignity of her actions.

Mme. Flagstad's voice rides the long breathed phrases of this exciting, despairing, almost superhumanly taxing music without ever allowing a listener to suspect that the performance has become headlong or that she is anything less than complete mistress of her vocal destinies. This was demonstrated by the apt use of color at strategic moments—in her narration of her early meeting with Tristan, for instance, when the voice that had shone with such a hard, vindictive luster took on a sad, misted quality which emphasized skilfully the content of the supercharged music.

And there was a weak, caressing humanness about the soprano's first ecstatic "Tristan," immediately after the potion had done its work.

Histrionically Mme. Flagstad's Isolde partakes of her own ample dignity. She has a genius for looking epic, analogous to her talent for making a phrase sound tremendously important. There is no posturing, but rather a series of noble tableaux in which the particular Isolde becomes hazy in the spectator's mind and merges with the Isoldes of all time.

Such was the scene with Brangaene at the beginning of the second act where Flagstad in filmy white strode up and down the stairway, manipulating torch and veil according to cue and merging gradually with the music and the stage picture to become not the Isolde of Nov. 24, 1937, but a timeless, ideal Isolde.

By a curious coincidence, two of the other principals were Scandinavians—Gertrud Wettergren, a Swedish Brangaene, and Lauritz Melchior, the Danish Tristan. Thus these little countries share the honor of supplying three of the principals for a "Tristan" which will not be immediately forgotten.

Front Views and Profiles By June Provines

A YOUNG woman who planned to take some rumba lessons while she was in New York, but didn't have time, happened to comment as much to the stewardess on the plane in which she flew west.

Air rumba—Change—Memory.

"I'll teach you," offered the stewardess. "I can do the rumba."

There were no other passengers on the plane, so the young woman accepted the offer. Thus, flying 11,000 feet above the plains and hills and rivers of eastern United States, she learned to do the rumba . . . "one, two, three, hold; one, two, three, hold—keep your feet together . . . bend your knees . . . one, two, three, hold . . ."

RULES that governed the behavior of a young girl in China in the old days, as set forth in Florence Ayscough's new book, "Chinese Women: Yesterday and Today" [dedicated to the author's husband, Harley Farnsworth MacNair, of the University of Chicago]:

"When walking do not turn the head; when speaking do not show the teeth; when sitting keep the legs immobile; when standing prevent all movement of the skirt."

It is difficult today, Miss Ayscough points out. Miss Beauty Fish, wearing a short one piece bathing suit, competed in the Olympic games at Berlin; Miss Gem Hoahing, the Chinese girl from Hongkong, won the school girls' tennis tournament at Queen clubs, beating the junior champion from England. Little wonder, the author points out, that considering these remarkable changes in the status of women that people say "The future of China is in the hands of its women."

THE recent loss of memory incidents reminded a bulletineer of the old lady who said there were three things she never could remember. One was names, one was faces, and she had forgotten the third.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

Sanitarium Patient in Need.

"Dear Miss Brown: I am a patient at a tuberculosis home for men. Up to three months ago I was receiving some support from my father, but he now is ill with pernicious anemia and the only help I receive has been cut off completely. I am wondering where I am to get clothing for the winter. I am 5 feet 11 inches tall and weigh 160 pounds and wear size 40.—O. P."

This man is allowed to leave the sanitarium occasionally on a pass and offers to call for clothing on his free time, since he is unable to pay postage, although it would be much more convenient if articles could be mailed to him. He needs an overcoat and sweater, and shoes, size 10 C.

Man Badly Needs Clothing.

"Dear Miss Brown: I am writing to you, hoping that you will be able to assist me. I am a man 55 years old and am partly incapacitated with an infected leg and am unable to make a decent living for myself.

"My main need is winter underwear, size 40, a suit of clothes, a sweater, and an overcoat of the same size. I have somehow maintained myself without applying for relief, but am unable to get clothing—J. O."

home in Kent road, Winnetka, for Tom and Jerries.

The Longmeadow's season closes officially on Sunday but, as Clark Lawrence, the M. F. H. says, "we will go right on hunting until the ground is frozen solid."

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence are giving a hunt breakfast Sunday and on Dec. 8 the Longmeadow will give its annual party for the landowners over whose grounds the hunt rides. It will be a buffet supper and entertainment at the Shawnee club and Ross J. Beatty Jr., is in charge of the committee planning the party.

Du Page Hunt Enjoys Successful Season.

The DuPage Hunt' season will not close, either, until the ground is so hard it is impossible to jump. In spite of the illness of the M. F. H., Mrs. Robert R. McCormick, who has not been riding this year, this hunt has had more and better runs this season than ever before, due, no doubt to the new chicken coop jumps that have been installed in the countryside around Wheaton where the hunt rides.

Heretofore Aiken [brush] and post and rail jumps have been the only kinds on the course but the chicken coops have in advantage for they can be put temporarily over farmers' fences without harming them. The DuPage Hunt always has a small field for it is an invitation, not a membership, affair, and the hounds are the property of the master. The hounds did not meet last Sunday or the Sunday before on account of unfavorable weather but it is expected that they will meet this coming Sunday. Not today, however.

Mill Creek Hunt Will Have Party After Run.

The Mill Creek Hunt is meeting today at the stables in Millburn at 11 o'clock and after the run Mrs. Samuel J. Walker, Mrs. J. Andrews King, Laurance H. Armour, and Sanford Otis will give a cocktail party in the clubhouse, which closes for the season on Dec. 1. The buffet luncheon usually held on Sunday will be held today, with Mrs. Otis, Mrs. Philip Peck, and Mrs. Byron S. Harvey entertaining fairly large parties.

On Thanksgiving the luncheon varies from the regular Sunday ones because of the toasts and speeches that are made and the presentation of gifts to the joint masters, Austin H. Niblack and S. Prentice Porter.

The masters are supposed to be surprised, of course, when the members remember them in this way, but, since there have been such presentations on previous Thanksgivings, Mr. Niblack and Mr. Porter probably would be more surprised if something of the sort did not materialize today.

On Sunday at 11:25 o'clock there will be the finishing field of the Mill Creek, but this only means that it will be the last scheduled run. From then until the weather is too unfavorable the members will telephone the stables each day to find out if the hounds are being taken out, and you may be sure the enthusiastic members will be out, too, as long as the hounds are.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1937: By Ely Culbertson.]

Yesterday's question was:

Question 50: You are East and vulnerable. North-South are not vulnerable. The bidding was:

East	South	West	North
1 spade	Pass	1 no trump	3 diam.
Pass	3 no trump	Pass	Pass
Pass

Dummy and your hand are:

♥ 10 7
♦ A K J 10 8 6 4
♣ Q J 5

EAST
♥ K J 4
♦ 7 3 2
♣ A 9 7

West, your partner, opens the six of clubs. Dummy plays the jack and you win with the ace.

What card do you return?

Answer: You should return a heart, preferably the king or jack. Your three low diamonds are warning that declarer needs only a singleton diamond [he hardly could have bid three no trump with a diamond void] to run seven diamond tricks. Declarer is marked with the spade king and probably holds the heart ace. If you [East] shift to spades or continue clubs you will establish declarer's ninth trick. The only hope, therefore, is that West holds the heart queen and that two defensive heart tricks can be set up before declarer can establish either a spade or a club trick. [For failure to win first club lead and shift to hearts, take a two point demerit.]

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question 51: You are West, declarer at a six spade contract. Your hand and dummy are as follows:

WEST	EAST [dummy]
♠ A K Q 9 7	♠ J 10 8 6 5
♥ A K	♥ 5 2
♦ A 6 3	♦ K 4 2
♣ K 10 2	♣ A J 9

North opens the heart queen. South plays the heart nine. Is there any possibility of your being defeated at your slam contract? State in a few words how you play the hand, as declarer.

TODAY'S HAND.

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

♥ K 10 6 3
♦ J 10 5

WEST
♠ K 10 5
♥ Q J
♦ 9 7 4 3 2
♣ J 10 5

EAST
♠ J 9 3 2
♥ 9 8
♦ Q 6

SOUTH
♠ A Q 6
♦ A K 8
♣ 9 7

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 heart	Pass	1 no trump	2 clubs
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

A glance at the four hands will disclose that there was no method by which the two club contract could be defeated. It goes without saying that North-South received a bad match point score on this board.

The fault had been 98 per cent North's. South, with four and a half top tricks, was not greatly to be criticized for doubling two clubs, despite his lack of trump strength. He decided that with any strength in North's hand two clubs ought to be defeated at least one trick, which would be a better match point score than the partial that appeared probable for himself. He could not know that his heart suit would be solidified by North's holding. But, even granting that South's double was slightly optimistic, there still was no excuse for North's leaving in the double. He had chosen to bid no trump, rather than raise the hearts, because of his miserable 4-3-3-3 distribution. With this choice I have no complaint. But when the two club double came around he should not even have considered passing. Aside from the anemic jack-10 of diamonds, North's only high card was in partner's suit, and his length in hearts should have suggested offensive, rather than defensive, play. Obviously, South could have made three-odd in hearts.

Let it not be thought that I have overlooked East's atrocious two club overcall, which succeeded only through a combination of sheer luck and coöperation of the enemy.

Hand Holding Is Popular at 'Tristan' Opera

BY INDIA MOFFETT.

"This must be almost every Chicagoan's favorite opera," said some one connected with the management of the opera company last night as he looked at the house, in which every seat was occupied, and remembered that thousands more had tried to get seats.

Whether Wagner's great music drama telling the story of the luckless lovers, Tristan and Isolde, is the favorite of so many or whether it was the fame of the names in the cast that attracted so many to the performance I do not know. And it does not matter, but it was a gala performance, as gala a one as those who continually sigh for "the good old days" could desire.

There were some there who later went on the Bachelors and Benedicts' ball, and they, of course, were in their very best, which added to the beauty of the picture at the opera, without a doubt. One reason that Chicago opera today is not the spectacle that it was some years ago is that opera has become so much "for the people" that usually more street clothes are seen than formal ones. And opera gains by having glamor on both sides of the footlights. It did last night.

To list those who held hands during the beautiful love music would be unfair as well as in bad taste but it is safe to say that there were many couples who indulged in hand holding during much of the performance. And they weren't all young couples, either, for some of our best known citizens who are no longer in the first flush of youth were doing it.

An attractive party was that made up of the junior Charles H. Morses, the Jefferson Curriers and the junior Fred E. Fairmans. They were going on to the ball, as were Miss Valeria Harris and her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Harris. Miss Harris was charming in flowered taffeta against a black background and Mrs. Harris was stunning in a black velvet robe de style with an Irish lace off-the-shoulder yoke. Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Harris accompanied the young people of their family to the opera.

The young Mitchell Follansbees, too, were going on to the ball and so was Miss Martha Fitts, smart in white with a black velvet wrap lined in crimson, and escorted by two young men.

Among others in the audience were beautiful Mme. Melchior, Marion Claire, whose husband was conducting, Elen Dosia and her husband, Andre Burdino, the junior Joseph T. Eowens, the Albert A. Spragues, the Charles B. Goodspeeds, the Jacob Bischofs, Arthur Meeker Jr., and the John Alden Carpenters.

Others were the Walter Kirks, the John C. Murphys, Miss Helen Bournique, Mrs. Killian V. R. Nicol and her daughter and son, Miss Margery Nicol and Hunter Nicol; the George F. Henneberrys, the Chauncey Blairs, the Jason Whitneys, the Frederic Woodwards, Howard Tracy, the Charles H. Swifts, the Tiffany Blakes, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Hume, the Howard Fentons, Mrs. Stanley Morrill and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bernays.

Smartly Styled for Woolen

There is nothing smarter for late fall and winter days than woolen. And if there is a smarter treatment of woolen than that achieved in this dress, we've never seen it. It's the type of model that suits both the schoolgirl and the matron absorbed in her club activities. You see, there are two versions of the dress and both are extremely chic. At the left is the frock styled especially for "sweet young things." It's grand in embroidered woolen, with the collar, cuffs, and buttons in a contrasting shade to match the knots in the fabric. The original is fashioned of black woolen, the soft, cuddly kind, with the silken dots embroidered in white. Therefore, the lingerie touches and the buttons also are white. No belt is needed for this dress.

The version at the right suits the matron well. It has a V neckline and a lingerie collar embroidered with the aid of pattern No. E-713, available for 10 cents extra. The dress, otherwise, is the same.

Style No. 2029 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 4⅜ yards of 39 inch material, with one-half yard of 35 inch contrasting for short sleeves.

Burns and Allen Able Helpers for Astaire in Rollicking Movie

"A DAMSEL IN DISTRESS."
Produced by RKO-Radio.
Directed by George Stevens.
From a story by P. G. Wodehouse.
Presented at the Palace theater.

Jerry	Fred Astaire
George	George Burns
Gracie	Gracie Allen
Lady Alyce	Joan Fontaine
Keggs	Reginald Gardiner
Reggie	Ray Noble
Lady Carolyn	Constance Collier
Lord Marshmorton	Montagu Love
Albert	Harry Watson
Miss Ruggles	Jan Duggin

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Merry nonsense this—with music and a couple of surprises.

Gracie Allen provides Surprise No. 1. You know she's funny but DID you know that she could dance?

She can—and beautifully. Some of her routines with Mr. Astaire are on a par with any Ginger Rogers has given us—and she does it all so easily, and as if it were so much fun.

Surprise No. 2—Joan Fontaine. A newcomer whose poise and beauty will delight you. Watch for these ladies—and give them a great, big hand!

The story is, really, too silly for words, but with the sort of silliness we need as a release valve these strenuous days.

Fred Astaire is seen as an American actor over in England. London ladies are mad about him . . . George Burns is his secretary. Gracie Allen is George's secretary. . . . Miss Fontaine is the "damsel" of the title and she's distressed because she's supposed to wed Mr. Ray Noble—her one man band ass of a cousin. . . .

Damsel lives in a country castle manned by an amusing staf of servants and presided over by a stern Aunt Carolyn. Damsel's papa, Lord Marshmorton, would rather be a gardener than the lord he is and funny neighbors are forever crowding in to sing madrigals. One day a week the castle is thrown open to tourists. It is famous especially because of a leap for love taken from one of its turrets by an ancestor named Leonard. . . .

As Damsel flees castle pursued by castle steward who's job it is to prevent her from doing that little thing, she encounters Mr. Astaire. . . . From here on the action is mad but amusing. A. H. E., sends you away from the theater—H.

Mr. Astaire is his usual facile, entertaining self. And, O—those dancing feet! Constance Collier as Lady Carolyn and Montagu Love—remember him?—as Lord Marshmorton are intriguing. Harry Watson, playing a page boy, bears a disturbing resemblance to Charlie McCarthy, and is a comical child. . . . You're bound to get a great kick from the madrigal singing neighbors!

"SPANISH EARTH."
Produced by Contemporary Historians, Inc.
Directed by Joris Ivens.
Commentator Ernest Hemingway.
Presented at the Sonotone theater.

"Thank God we live in America!" You'll think it over and over again as you watch this authentic, unsparing news film dealing with life in Spain today.

It's terrible; it's true. And, as Ernest Hemingway, commentator, proceeds with his quiet narration, you feel a clammy touch—it can only be a touch for us who have never been through such things—of the terror and desolation now part of the daily existance of the Spanish people.

The photography is splendid. Some of the shots make you think of rare old tapestries.

WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Sentz of Marshall, Mich., announce the marriage of their daughter, Louise, to Robert Lee Headen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Headen, 6242 Greenview avenue, at the Holy Name cathedral today. A wedding breakfast at the Edgewater Beach hotel for the immediate families will follow the ceremony.

BEG YOUR PARDON

The engagement of "Tovarich" at the Selwyn theater will open on Dec. 20, instead of Dec. 13, as stated yesterday. "Brother Rat," now at the Selwyn, will remain there until Dec. 18.

Permanent Fair Authority Resignation Is Accepted

Mayor Kelly and the city council yesterday accepted the resignation of the Chicago Exposition Authority, formed to organize and manage a permanent lake front fair. Members of the authority submitted their resignations several months ago, because no funds are available to carry out the plan. The mayor said that before turning the lake front land back to the park district the authority had improved it with the help of the WPA. Walter L. Gregory was chairman of the authority.

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

Listen, Kids.

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 24.—You are amazed, after two months in Hollywood, to discover that everyday life is a lot like the making of movies. Out here, for instance, they use stand-ins, people who are engaged to save the stars and featured players the wear and tear of standing before the lights while a shot is being lined up.

I guess your mother would correspond most closely to that position in real life, because like the stand-ins, she takes everything but the bows.

Out here, they often shoot the last scene of a picture on the first day, because of space limitations. You see, when they build a set, they make up a schedule of all scenes that will be played on that stage, and shoot them all together, so that the set can be dismantled, knocked down.

As a result, you never know exactly how a picture will turn out until it is finally assembled. Life certainly is like that because we stumble along in our own separate ways, often not knowing what we're aiming at until our daily efforts are assembled years later. The idea is to play each scene as best you can as you go along, I guess.

The stars out here, even at parties, do a surprisingly little amount of drinking. If they can't handle liquor, it can be doubted seriously that you can.

There are a lot of fakers out here, producers, directors, writers. That is natural because this is a town where talk goes a long way. A convincing talker, or even a loud talker, can get by for some time. To counteract this Hollywood has a credit system, so sooner or later somebody looks at the record and the fakers are thrown out. Don't fake; you can only get away with it for a short time. There's no percentage in it.

A lot of famous stars of the old days are working here as extras. So remember Jimmy Walker's classic line: "The cheers of yesterday have a short echo." Get in the habit of saving your money.

Every star out here gets tired of being typed in certain rôles. Performers who won their spurs as gangsters want to play comedy rôles; Shakespearean actors want to play gangster parts; glamour girls want to go tragic. Occasionally, if they are important enough, the studio humors them and lets them make the pictures they wish to make. The result is that fans throughout the country stay away from those pictures, on the grounds that they have been gypped. So do the thing that you are best fitted for.

At previews of pictures out here they have a fairly good system. They distribute cards to every one in the theater and ask for criticism of what they've just seen. It's a pretty good survey, but you youngsters have it beaten a mile. Your family, your teachers, and your pastor fill out the cards on you every day, and your conscience is a fairly good notary public.

There are a raft of foreign stars in this town. No good for Annabella or Darrieux or Gravet or Olympe Bradna to tell the directors how good they were in Paris or Budapest. They've got to deliver HERE. Remember that, you kids. Actions always speak louder than words, and there's no substitute for performance.

A lot of hooey has been written around the phrase: "The show must go on." But it's true, on the stage and in life. I've seen performers working on lots out here so ill that their doctors visit them twice a day. So don't think you're going to have easy sailing. In your own sphere you'll learn that the show must go on, regardless.

Occasionally, all of us get a terrific kick when some unknown youngster clicks overnight in a picture. It seems that success is a hit-or-miss proposition, doesn't it? But remember this—that in a picture a player has a limited time in which to do his or her stuff.

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

The huge crystal chandeliers in the grand ballroom of the Palmer House gleamed like mammoth ruby eardrops last night at the annual Thanksgiving Eve Bachelors and Benedicts ball. The lights of the chandeliers were dark—the gleam coming from reflected red light.

The gold and burgundy backgrounds behind the orchestra and the temporary gold bar were flooded with light and reflected the colors of the Bs and Bs. Burgundy candles flamed from low gold candlesticks on the tables, highlighting the centerpieces of burgundy and orange chrysanthemums. Burgundy shields covered the bulbs in the wall bracket lights; and burgundy and gold patterns were reflected on the walls above the balcony and sparkled in the mirrors high at one end of the room.

Swags of burgundy disguised the railing of the balcony. But handsomest and most unusual of all the decorations were the two floodlighted gold pedestals, filled with burgundy mums, that stood at each side of the orchestra.

Instead of spending money for a floor show, the Bs and Bs concentrated on their decorations, and they must have felt well repaid when eight of the fairest young women in social circles, wives of the benedicts of the committee, wearing their newest ball gowns and corsages of burgundy orchids, tipped in yellow, lined up to receive the 450 guests just inside the ballroom.

The receiving line did not form until after 11 o'clock, and it was not until much later that the party really got under way. Most of the guests came on from dinner parties that started late, and which did not break up for the most part until midnight.

John M. Simpson, chairman of the ball, and his pretty wife, the former Constance Hasler, naturally were prompt arrivals, and so were a number of other benedict hosts and their wives. Mrs. Simpson was charming in a simple black velvet gown and long white kid gloves and orchids. She and Mr. Simpson gave a dinner in their home before the party. Among their guests were Mrs. Simpson's brother, Wyndham Hasler, also a member of the committee, and Mrs. Hasler, the former Cornelia Ranney, who took her place in the receiving line wearing a gown of white fringe, made very plainly.

Mrs. William B. Cudahy, the wife of another committee member, also wore a white fringed gown, but hers was caught in at the waist with two beaded bands and was rather Grecian in effect. She wore long white kid gloves. The Cudahys were guests at dinner of Mr. and Mrs. John Peale Bent, who entertained at the home of her mother, Mrs. Kersey C. Reed, at 1550 State parkway.

The James O. Heyworths came from Detroit for the party, and after dining with the Byron S. Harveys at the Tavern they hurried on to the Palmer house, where Mrs. Heyworth hurriedly cast aside her evening wrap to join the receiving line. She wore a handsome gown of red velvet. The wife of another committee member, Mrs. Frederic McLaughlin II., also wore red velvet, made with a square neckline, and, like Mrs. Heyworth, she pulled on long white gloves. The McLaughlins dined with the junior Stuyvesant Peabodys.

Mrs. George A. Poole Jr. came from the Racquet club where she and Mr. Poole gave a large dinner. She wore a simple gown of chartreuse, shot with silver, with rhinestone fastenings at the back. Mrs. Potter Palmer III. repeated the colors of the Bs and Bs in her new ball gown. It had a burgundy and gold moire top and a burgundy tulle skirt. Mrs. Hugh McBirney Johnston, the former Deborah Butler, wore black and silver net.

The wives of two of the benedict hosts, Mrs. A. Watson Armour III. and Mrs. Gaylord Donnelley, did not join the receiving line. Mrs. Armour, the former Jean Schweppe, is out of town, but her husband, as well as the bachelor hosts, who included Peter Fortune, Garfield King, Donald R. McLennan Jr., Howard F. Gillette Jr., and Dustin Grannis, were there to help make the party go. Another bachelor host, George A. Ranney Jr., did not come back from his studies at the Yale Law school for the party. Neither was his fiancée, Miss Nancy Ryerson, there, for she is in the east for Thanksgiving.

Almost as many brides as second year girls were attending their first Bs and Bs, among them Mrs. John Stuart Jr., the former Nancy Whiting, and Mrs. Corwith Hamill, the former Joan Smith. The Stuarts were guests at dinner of his sister, Mrs. Poole, and Mr. Poole.

Mrs. Barrett Wendell III., the former Margaret Mitchell, wearing a charming gown of ivory tulle trimmed with dubonnet ribbon shoulder straps and sash, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. F. Lee H. Wendell, the former Camilla Alsop, were two other brides.

The Barrett Wendells and the John B. Erskines, she wearing a form fitting rose lame gown made with the skirt slightly higher in front, and long and swirling in the back, dined together.

The Lee Wendells were guests at a dinner given by the young Jay Morse Elys in his mother's, the senior Mrs. Ely's, Division street home. Young Mrs. Ely, also attending her first Bs and Bs, was lovely in blue marquisette trimmed with blue rhinestones.

RUN! By Patricia Wentworth

[Copyright: 1937: By Patricia Wentworth Turnbull.]

SYNOPSIS.

Delivering a new car to a customer James Elliot, lost in the fog, finds himself on some one's estate. Stopping his way to the dark house he stumbles over a bicycle. The front door is ajar. Entering his flashlight reveals a girl who commands him to "Run!" A shot whistles after them as they lie in the hayloft. The girl tells James she was searching for a necklace her dying Aunt Clementa had told her was hidden in the house. James cannot believe the tale.

INSTALMENT IV.

THE MYSTERY GIRL.

James did not explain all this to a total stranger in a hayloft. He said moderately, yes, his father had wanted him to go into the army, and no, he, James, hadn't wanted to. He had had a small legacy from a great-aunt, and had used it for a premium. It was very important to get into a good firm. He was with Atwells. They were very good people.

He looked at his watch and said abruptly.

"We'd better be getting along. Any one who was going to clear off must have done it by now. If there is still any one there, we shall probably get shot at again. A nice crew you keep in these parts, I must say! What we ought to do is to go straight to the police."

"You said that before. I'm not going to."

"That's because you know who the fellow is."

She must have got up, because he heard her stamp her foot in the hay. He heard her stamp, and he heard her wince. Then he heard her catch her breath.

"I say, have you got a handkerchief?" she said.

"It's got petrol on it. What do you want it for?"

"My foot's cut. If I go dripping blood all over everything, it'll be a give away."

"How did you cut it?"

"How on earth do I know? That blighted bicycle, I shouldn't wonder. You don't mind if I tear the rag, do you? Because I must hitch it on to my ankle somehow."

She hitched it, and they came down the ladder and back to the house. The bicycle lay sprawling where it had fallen. The door was shut and fastened. The fog brooded over all. Miss Aspinall produced a key, opened the front door and was gone. It was exactly like a disappearing trick on the stage. One minute she was here with her shoulder practically touching his, making little clinking sounds with a keyring and keys, and the lock which one of the keys was supposed to fit, and the next there was neither sound nor feel of her.

He listened and got nothing at all from the silence. He called to her under his breath, using a slightly conventionalized variant of the "Hi, you there!" type of address, and still he got nothing. He raked out his torch and switched it on. She said she had left her shoes just to one side of the stair foot. Well, she might have been telling the truth, or she mightn't, but it was a bed rock cert that there were no shoes there now.

He went to the top of the stair and flicked about with his torch. The main flight divided half way up and led on either side to dark, empty feeling corridors which ran away to the right and to the left.

James called into the empty feeling space, "Are you there?" but nobody answered him. He began to experience symptoms of the parental temper. If this dashed girl thought he was going to search this dashed house for her, she could just start thinking again.

He scowled at the left hand passage. And then, from the hall below he heard a sound. He leaned over the gallery and an uprush of cold air came to him. He had left the hall door shut, but it was certainly open now. The sound he had heard was the sound of shod feet treading lightly. Miss Aspidistra Aspinall was evidently no longer shoeless. The crocodiles had been recovered. Her voice came up to him in a faint, floating "Coo-ee!" He stared down and could see nothing. The smell of the fog came drifting up. The girl's voice came with it.

"Good night, James Elliot."

It took James one solid hour to feel and grope his way as far as Staling. He got there in the end more by luck than good management, having first crawled down the drive into what proved to be a wildish lane, and then continued along the lane at a snail's pace until it brought him out upon the road. The road ultimately brought him to Staling, and just as he came to the first house of the village he ran out of the worst of the fog.

He knew where he was now and the road was drivable. He decided to go on, and in half an hour was clear of the fog and making up for lost time on the long straight stretch over Wilder's Heath.

His mind was now free to consider the whole adventure. The Aspidistra girl was certainly a most unblushing liar. Only impudence of the first water would have produced a name like that. It was, of course, arguable that it could hardly have been intended to deceive, but this only added to his just annoyance, to be offered a completely unbelievable lie being a gross insult to one's intelligence.

He wondered a good deal about the shooting. There was something very odd about it. The shot might have been a random one intended to scare an intruder off the premises, but not meant to hit. This theory would have made everything much easier. James felt obliged to reject it. The shot had passed too close to him at a moment when his torch was affording a mark. It must have been quite obvious that there were two people in the hall. James had an unpleasant conviction that the person unknown had aimed at one of them. He couldn't possibly have wanted to kill James, who was a total stranger. Then he must have been aiming at the girl.

One fact emerged quite plainly from the confusion, and that was that the girl could make a pretty good guess at who had fired the shot.

But she wouldn't go to the police. Why wouldn't she?

Two reasons suggested themselves. She might be mixed up in whatever it was that he had butted into, in which case she wasn't in a position to denounce a fellow criminal. Or—she might be afraid——

James thought about this.

He gave her marks for courage. Most girls would have screamed if they had been shot at in the dark, and most girls would have cried in the hayloft. Girls could be extraordinarily brave, but they nearly always cried afterward. This girl hadn't—at least not as far as he knew. And she had cut her foot pretty badly too. He found himself admiring the presence of mind with which she had grabbed him and said "Run!"

He only just stopped himself on the edge of reflecting that she had a very pretty voice. On the other hand, she was the most infernal little liar. All that bunk about her Aunt Clementa and a diamond necklace—whoever heard of a name like Clementa? The girl just couldn't speak the truth. She couldn't even produce a reasonable, plausible lie. If the aunt had had any of the names which aunts do have, he might—no, not he, but some more gullible man might have believed her.

James was not gullible. He knew far too much about girls.

Three fourteen cousins had taught him a lot about the general untruthfulness of girls. His Cousin Daphne, with whom he had once been in love, had considerably undermined his faith in women by getting engaged to three separate men during three successive dances at her coming out ball. James was one of the three, and though he now regarded Daphne as a Lucky Escape, the incident had added considerably to his native caution. His native caution told him not to believe a single word the girl had said. It added with no uncertain voice that he had better put the whole thing out of his mind and keep it out.

He had a good quick run back to town, with only one more belt of fog, and that not very thick. He bought a paper in the Fulham road whilst he was held up in a traffic block. He thought the names of the Scottish Rugger team might be out. He put away the car and was glad to have a walk to stretch his legs.

He was, for the moment, occupying his cousin Gertrude Lushington's studio in Simpson's Mews, Gertrude being on a walking tour somewhere in Eastern Europe. She might turn up at any time or she might stay away for a year, strolling in a casual manner just when the family had decided that she had definitely got herself murdered this time and they better see about going into mourning. She refused to take any rent, but James was determined to contest this point when she returned.

"Beg and Borrow" is another one of those old quilts recently rescued from the brink of oblivion. It was popular about 100 years ago in the eastern states, but for some reason never enjoyed favor in the middle west. Red and white formed the favorite color arrangement of this design, although blue and white print and white were a combination used fifty years ago. "Beg and Borrow" is not a difficult design to set together, and an entire quilt composed of pieced blocks forms a handsome coverlet for a man's room or for twin beds in a boy's room.

Give Children 'Own' Money to Buy Gifts

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Now of course you can give a sum of money to your five year old son or your ten year old daughter and say, "This is yours to spend for Christmas gifts just as you want to. You can plan it all out yourself or we'll talk it over together." And a child can really feel it is his or her money.

But if your child has been having an allowance and has been saving from it, he certainly has a different feeling about the money he has refrained from spending in order to buy gifts. That does seem to him indeed his "very own."

It may be, though, that your little son or daughter to date hasn't had a regular allowance. There hardly would be time for him to accumulate much of a little hoard for spending by Christmas; so here we might make an exception to our regular principle of not paying the children for doing their share of the family work, and give them a chance to earn some money.

In this case I would put it forth as a proposition:

"Would you like to earn some money that would be your very own to spend for Christmas?" Most children are delighted with the idea because they really love to plan and give at this time of the year if they're given the slightest encouragement. And their enthusiasm persists for weeks, too, as you'll find if this is your first year of letting the children do a lot to share in Christmas preparations.

In giving them a chance to earn money, try to choose work that has the air of being a little different from their usual chores. "I've needed to get this hall closet cleared out for a long time; it will be such a comfort to get it done," or, "This scrapbag has gotten so messed up I can't find anything; it would be wonderful to have all the pieces of silk and satin and gingham and linings rolled up and tied." Make this work seem a little "extra."

Or for an older child a comment like, "I can't seem to find time to paint the kitchen chairs," or, "Here's the material for the bathroom curtains still waiting for me to make it up," or, "I wonder if I ever will get that old tea table scraped down to the wood," makes the piece of work seem like an extra job that it is logical to pay for.

You may have other ways of achieving your purpose; but however you do it I think you'll find it interesting and worth while to give the children a chance to have money of their very own to spend for gifts.

The leaflet, "Christmas Gifts the Children Can Make," will be helpful to parents. We also have a double-sized Gift leaflet. Each leaflet will be sent out on receipt of a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

The Housewife

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

A great space saver for a china closet shelf is a metal and rubber rack for plates. By stacking your best plates in this rack you'll find they take up much less space and are just as accessible. The rack is adjustable to varied sizes of plates and will hold twelve.

A friend who has made housekeeping a fine art and whose household runs on the smoothly oiled wheels of skillful organization tells me that if you use wall paper paste to apply oilcloth to your china closet or cabinet shelves it will stay in place perfectly and it can be scrubbed much more easily. Also, she says if you will polish it with furniture polish it will be less slippery and will stay clean longer.

Your best plates deserve a cover of the new dustproof, transparent material. These covers are available in a number of sizes. Pieces of felt between the plates will keep the glaze from being scratched. But they're not needed, of course, if you invest in one of the racks, as the plates do not touch each other then.

Merry Season of Gift Buying in Full Swing

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Bundle-hung shoppers, plentifully populated escalators, and well stuffed elevators are the rule as the Christmas shopping season opens. With less than a month of shopping days ahead, the town will go merrily mad with hustling humanity. All the gift spots are packed to the bulging point with every imaginable suggestion known to clever shopkeepers. Everything from trifles to luxury finds are piled out where you can see them at a glance, encouraging one and all to spend.

This is the week to buy your Christmas wrappings, the stickers, seals, ribbons, cards, and other small but important bits that make gift boxes the tempting array they always become.

New this season are the various widths of tie ribbon, especially beautiful are the midnight blues sprinkled with dusky silver stars or with snow flakes. Some new satins come in red, green, and blue, with lively scotty pups rushing from yard to yard.

Fancy wrapping paper comes in henna and russet tints; designs include giddy scotch plaid patterns, bubbles, modernistic trees, and skiers in vivid costumes. Some smart black paper has stunning designs of mistletoe or holly tied with red or white ribbon banding. Tissue papers of every known tint provide the imaginative person with lots of new mixtures and ideas. Some smart looking packages were achieved last year with smoke gray tissue and magenta stickers, with the ties of silver. This year you can use honey beige, jade green, dusky pinks, and powder blues, electrical blues, canary yellow, even mauve and imperial purple with contrasting stickers and ribbons.

Holiday Bride

Miss Margaret Mary O'Malley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. O'Malley, 4837 West Hirsch street, will be a Thanksgiving bride today. She will be married to William E. Doherty, son of Mrs. James E. Doherty and the late Mr. Doherty. The ceremony will take place at noon at St. Peter Canisius church. The Rev. Father Martin W. Doherty, brother of the bridegroom, will read the service.

Margaret Kiernan to Be Wed at Services Saturday

Miss Margaret C. Kiernan, 1901 East 73d street, for 15 years chief telephone operator in the United States courthouse, will be married next Saturday to Policeman William V. Degan of the Sheffield avenue station in the St. Philip Neri church, 72d street and Merrill avenue. The couple will live at 5736 North Campbell avenue.

Finds Artistic Gold Mine in Bali and Java

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

A delightfully fresh and decorative note is struck in the exhibit of paintings, drawings, and water colors made in Java and Bali by David Leavitt, an exhibit which is hanging this week and next in the Quest galleries, 310 North Michigan avenue.

Mr. Leavitt built up an intelligent background for himself as a painter before he went to the South Seas. He studied first in Amsterdam and traced to their source various legends and histories of Bali and Java, finding in his studies a great many interesting facts which threw light on the picturesque problems the islands set before him when he undertook to paint their people and customs.

Bali and Java are both still primitive places. Gods and magic are practically visible sources of good or bad luck among the natives. Several of Mr. Leavitt's most fascinating compositions are based on the fantastic religious ceremonies found in Bali. The curious masks and costumes worn by the priests and holy men during these ceremonies are fearful and stunning, and the artist has made the most of his material.

A bit of American humor creeps in to one drawing, where an awesome god is scaring a little boy, the child running away in much the same manner that our Halloween ghosts make our American babies run.

There are a number of attractive portrait sketches in the show and an exquisite study of an orchid, a fascinating water color. The "Slamat Djalan" is one of the most intriguing pictures in the exhibition; it portrays a two wheeled cart drawn by a gayly harnessed horse driven by a native coachman, an interested group of passengers seated behind.

The Hoosier gallery, 211 West Wacker drive, is showing a colorful group of Mexican sketches by Stanley Bielecky, of which the black and white sketch, "The Mercado Merced," is one of the best, and a tranquil group of portraits and flower studies by Mrs. Karl Brandner. Several of the portraits are delightful. The work of Flora Lauter, which completes the show, is not particularly striking.

The exhibition will continue through Nov. 30.

BEARS BATTLE LIONS; NEAR CHAMPIONSHIP

WOODS ARE FULL OF ALL-STAR TIMBER AGAIN

Clint Frank Is No. 1 Candidate.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 24.—As the collegiate football season moves to a spectacular conclusion in sectional and intersectional games tomorrow and Saturday, it is accompanied by an ever increasing list of selections of all-conference, all-American, and all-opponent elevens. With exception of choices named by news services, based on consensus, these are individual opinions, and frequently they are dictated by an understandable desire to give each section or conference representation.

At best, these teams represent a mythical honor, frequently disputed, and always handicapped by limitation to eleven players. The outstanding all-American selections for the last four years have been those made by the fans of the nation in the annual poll conducted by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and more than 150 associated newspapers.

Frank Is No. 1.

Last summer more than 5,000,000 votes were cast in this poll and sixty-six players, so chosen, composed the all-American squad which defeated the Green Bay Packers, 6 to 0, at Soldiers' field before more than 80,000 spectators.

The merits of this national vote are obvious. While only seniors who have completed their collegiate competition are eligible, the number of outstanding sophomores and juniors is negligible and, of course, as in the case of Capt. Clint Frank of Yale, who was regarded as one of the nation's most brilliant backs last year, as he is again this season, these men eventually become candidates in the national poll.

Frank unquestionably is one of the greatest of football players of this or any year. He has been praised unstintingly by opponents, as well as by his teammates and spectators, as worthy of highest honor. Frank undoubtedly will be elected in THE TRIBUNE poll next July. If he is elected to an all-American position, you'll have a chance to see him and his All-Star teammates against the champions of the National Professional league.

Unknowns Stand Out.

There are others, now unknown except in their immediate section, who will have opportunity to prove their ability just as others have risen to the heights. Sammy Baugh, for instance, proved beyond question last September that he is one of football's greatest passers. Before the All-Star game, however, few outside of the southwest had seen Baugh.

Professional football long since has demonstrated that big name universities have no monopoly on All-Star players. THE TRIBUNE'S All-Star games have furnished further proof. Tony Blazine, unknown except in the state of Illinois, was a star lineman in this annual game and in 1936 Tuffy Leemans, whose reputation was confined to Washington, D. C., proved to be the outstanding ball carrier for the All-Stars in their game against the Detroit Lions.

The task of choosing the All-Star squad for 1938 will be more difficult than ever, because of the greater number of meritorious players. Only seniors in the group, however, will be eligible. In the east, none questions the ability of Princeton's Jack White, although White, because of the Tigers' indifferent success this fall, probably will not be an All-American by any one's appointment.

Pitt Has Stars.

Alex Wojciechowicz, center, and Joe Franco, tackle, bulwarks in Fordham's great line, are largely responsible for the Rams' undefeated season. Wojciechowicz, like Frank, received recognition last year but now is eligible for selection of the All-Star squad.

Pittsburgh has such gridiron greats as Frank Patrick, full back; Frank Souchak, end; Tony Matisi, tackle, and John Michelosen, quarter back. Other stars—Goldberg, Stebbins, Stapulis, Delich, Lezouski—must wait a season for nomination to the All-Star squad. And in 1940 you probably will hear from Dick Cassiano, Goldberg's substitute at left half back.

Yale has Gallagher, center, and Colwell and Hessberg, backs, who will be overshadowed in current All-Star selections by Frank. Villanova, now en route to the Pacific coast to meet Loyola at Los Angeles, has a great tackle in John Mellus; a fine end, John Wysocki, and a smashing full back, Art Raimo. Missar, a guard, is rated highly.

Capt. Edward Hughes, a center; Holland and Green, ends, and Hooper, guard, of the Cornell team, which plays Pennsylvania here tomorrow, are given credit for the sudden return of the Ithaca eleven to eastern prominence.

Another Isbell Bobs Up.

Harvard's Kavorkian, a tackle, and Struck, full back, cannot be omitted in a survey of the men who have brought the championship of the Big Three to Cambridge. Bergner and Case of Navy, and Ryan, Capt. Jim

THE GUMPS—LOOKS BAD FOR BABY

Yale Captain Flies Home

Thursday, Nov. 25—Celebrates Thanksgiving.

Friday, Nov. 26—Celebrates his nineteenth birthday.

Saturday, Nov. 27.—Celebrates the completion of one of the brightest prep football records in Chicago history by leading Austin High's City league champions against Leo High, Catholic league title holders, at Soldiers' field in the annual interleague battle for Chicago's Own Christmas Benefit.

A large three days for any youth, but to William and thousands of high school enthusiasts who will attend the game Saturday the largest is that on which he and his colleagues will march into the lake front stadium.

Faces Big Task.

The turkey in the De Correvont menage today doubtless will be as tasty as that on any other American holiday board. Tomorrow Bill will attain his nineteenth year. But Saturday is the big day, and many an adult citizen, aroused by the tales of the Austin half back's proven prowess, will be at Soldiers' field to see what manner of person De Correvont can be in one of the most searching tests to which a high school player has been subjected.

The Christmas benefit game marks a milestone in the De Correvont progress which began in the same contest last November, when he led Austin to a hair raising 19 to 19 tie with Fenwick's Catholic league champions. Since that date the eyes of Chicago football fans have been on the boy. Last Saturday they saw him head a rally which overcame Senn of the north section in the official city league title argument.

Leo Makes Third Appearance.

Saturday De Correvont and his mates will be faced with the problem not only of satisfying several thousand onlookers but also of convincing Leo that the south siders are not quite good enough to beat a City league team.

And there will be more than enough incentive for Leo to strive for a real upset. This will mark the third appearance in the Christmas benefit of the Catholic league eleven coached by Whitey Cronin, a record unsurpassed by any team in the four years it has been conducted. In 1934 and 1935 Leo came up to the battle facing the same opponent, Lindblom, and each time they were sent away 6 to 0 losers.

Those two Lindblom teams were paced by a couple of great ball players, Ted Hennis and Tony Juska, who this year performed with credit in Purdue university's back field. But neither of them had a De Correvont. That is why Leo Saturday will be extending itself to halt De Correvont on every move he makes.

Look Out for Galvin.

Against William and Austin, the south siders' ablest man will be Johnny Galvin, a half back who proved in the regular season that he can do just about everything that De Correvont had done, and just about as well. He climaxed his season last Sunday with a fifty-three yard return of a St. George punt for the only score of the Catholic league final.

Thus it is that the battle Saturday resolves itself into a personal duel, De Correvont vs. Galvin, which should produce one of the best games in local high school history.

MISS COLEMAN, DIVING STAR, IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Georgia Coleman, former Olympic games diving champion, was reported critically ill in a private hospital here tonight. Miss Coleman, in private life Mrs. Roof Gilson, first became ill about a week ago with what was believed to be intestinal influenza.

The young aquatic star won honors in the 1928 Olympic games at Amsterdam and at the games here in 1932 she swept virtually every event in the diving contests.

3 MORE TROJANS HURT; SCHINDLER IS DEFINITLY OUT

Cripples Move East for Notre Dame Game.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Bad luck, which has been dogging the Southern California football team all season, got close enough today to take a good-sized nip. Capt. Chuck Williams, end; Mickey Anderson, half back, and John Dehetre, first reserve center, were injured this morning during practice at Carlsbad for Saturday's game with Notre Dame.

Dr. Packard Thurber, team physician, said he did not believe any of the trio would get into Saturday's game. Anderson twisted an ankle; Williams suffered a hip injury, and Dehetre suffered a broken rib, which was fractured originally two months ago.

Ambrose Schindler, star quarterback, is definitly out of the game, Dr. Thurber said today. Grenny Lansdell, a sophomore, will start in his place. Phil Gaspar, consistent tackle, was declared out of the lineup three days ago, and another regular tackle, Miles Norton, is on the hospital list.

Anderson was one of four right half backs. Red Morgan probably will start in his place, with Joe Shell and Beans Russell in reserve. Ralph Stanley will take Williams' place at end. Gene Hibbs will be in the other end.

IRISH BALK SNOW

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Notre Dame held its only midweek practice of the year in the stadium today, the 50th anniversary of the first football game played by the Irish, in preparation for the Southern California game Saturday.

Coach Elmer Layden was able to hold a long, thorough dummy scrimmage, the squad reporting at 2 o'clock because of the dismissal of classes for the Thanksgiving holiday. Cartier field was still covered with snow, so the workout was shifted to the stadium, which has been protected by a tarpaulin.

Many Coaches Attend.

The Irish and Trojans will be under the critical eye of some of the ablest coaches in the game Saturday. These include Frank Thomas of Alabama, Bob Zuppke of Illinois, Lynn Waldorf and Bert Ingwersen of Northwestern, Bo McMillin of Indiana, Mal Elward of Purdue, Francis Schmidt of Ohio State, Dr. Clarence Spears of the University of Toledo, Glenn S. Warner of Temple, and Peter G. Dwyer of Clarkson. Dwyer played with the Notre Dame 1909 team.

Scouts from U. C. L. A., Southern California's next opponent; Alabama, with whom the Trojans open next year, and Minnesota, which plays here next fall, also will be present.

21 Seniors End Careers.

Besides the incentive Notre Dame's twenty-one seniors, eight of them regulars, will get from playing in their final game, and from the desire to erase last year's 13 to 13 tie, the Irish will be trying to square the series as played in Notre Dame stadium.

Notre Dame has won six games to four, and tied once in football's oldest intersectional series involving a Pacific coast team. But the Trojans have won two of the three games played in the new Notre Dame stadium. The scores were 16 to 14 in 1931, and 19 to 0 in 1933. The Irish won, 20 to 13, in 1935.

Plenty of seats remain for the game. Tickets will be on sale at the stadium Saturday. The kickoff has been advanced to 1:30 o'clock. A crowd of 50,000 is expected.

Tanforan Owner May Enter French Horse in Handicap

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 24.—(AP)—John W. Marchbank, owner of Tanforan race track, today announced the purchase of a French-bred thoroughbred, Soleil du Midi, which he plans to nominate for the Santa Anita handicap in January. The horse, a five year old, is by Teddy, out of Midnight Folly. Both the sire and dam are noted European stakes winners. Soleil du Midi, now en route from Liverpool, has won stakes on the English tracks.

Full Speed Ahead for Notre Dame

11,000 Watch Opening Night of Ice Show

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The holiday spirit made its first 1937 appearance at the Chicago Stadium last night in the form of the amphitheater's sixth annual ice carnival. A crowd of 11,000 citizens, who have come to regard this form of amusement as one of the most popular of winter attractions, made it plain by their applause that a well blended program of ice skating in its more finished phases still holds a charm for the majority superior to competitive racing.

The first night of the carnival, which will continue each night through Sunday, with a Sabbath matinée added, was given a right purty setting by Donald MacLeod, Stadium superintendent of production. Main feature of the stage was a huge ice castle at the east end of the building, surmounted by Al Melgard and his organ. The company of artists, one of the largest ever to appear in a local ice show, went through its stunts on a varicolored rink dominated by hunter's green.

Crowd Likes Them.

Headliners of the cast were Roy Shipstad of St. Paul and Bess Ehrhardt of Superior, Wis., the twosome which in pair or solo performance already had proved to Chicagoans that Americans can match the perfection of grace and rhythm heretofore credited to Europeon born skaters. They proved themselves again as a duet in a ballet number entitled "The Anvil Chorus." In subsequent solo presentations, both of the stars demonstrated their respective claims to local popularity.

The individual triumph of the evening was scored by Lois Dworshak, the Duluth, Minn. brunet, who made her debut at the stadium last year while still a student at Carleton college. Miss Dworshak's terpsichorean routines on skate blades received nearly as many encores as the headliners of the show.

Performers Are Generous.

The customers were greatly pleased by the first portion of the show, demanding several encores, even though the program was so arranged as to insure the return of most of their favorites in the concluding section of the evening's entertainment. The encore urge reached its apex in the Swing Dance number which preceded the intermission. Not only were the eight couples applauded into returning twice, but the cheering was such that a third turn was exacted of the

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 24.—Cries for tickets went unanswered tonight as the Detroit Lions and Chicago Bears awaited their National league engagement at the University of Detroit stadium. All seats were sold two weeks ago, assuring a crowd of approximately 25,000 tomorrow when the Lions close their season with one last long shot bid for a share of the western division championship.

The customary demand for accommodations to this annual Thanksgiving morning contest, perennially a sellout, has been stimulated this year by the civic celebration planned for Earl [Dutch] Clark, Detroit's coach and football's outstanding quarter back. This is expected to be Clark's last game as a player.

Lions Still in Running.

Clark will be presented with an automobile and other gifts and will be guest of honor at a banquet for the team at a nearby country club in the evening. He ends his remarkable career without having gained better than a tie against the Bears at Chicago. The Lions' four victories in the 16 game series since 1930 were achieved at Portsmouth, where the team played before coming here, and in the Detroit stadium.

The Lions announced tonight that four other members of the team will close their careers tomorrow. They are Ox Emerson, guard; George Christensen, tackle, and Ed Klewicki and Harry Ebding, ends. All are entering business.

Detroit, strengthened at the guards through which Jack Manders and Bronko Nagurski bolted for 180 yards when the Bears won, 28 to 20, at Wrigley field on Oct. 24, stood ready tonight to present Clark with a farewell victory and keep alive the team's mathematical chance of tying for the championship. The squad survived last Sunday's game against the Cardinals without an injury. Making good the promise to Clark, however, may develop complications.

Bears Need Two Victories.

The Bears need two triumphs in three games to clinch the division title and qualify for the league playoff. In addition there is a little matter of a 13 to 7 defeat suffered here a year ago, one that rankled at the time and has become more irksome in retrospect. The Bears are out for revenge. Their 1937 schedule was arranged with the idea of concentrating on tomorrow's game, and Coach Halas is bringing his squad down to the kickoff prepared to avenge what amounted to an insult a year ago.

Star Kicker Returns.

Lion followers, second only to the Green Bay loyalists for rabid enthusiasm and partisanship, were confident of victory tonight. Much of their confidence emanated from an analysis of the Oct. 24 contest in Chicago. The Bears reached their peak that afternoon. They have not played as well at any other time this season. Yet against this superb exhibition the Lions were able to score three times.

Poor kicking led to much of the Lions' embarrassment in Chicago. Frank Christensen, veteran left half back and one of the league's outstanding punters, was unable to play very much and when he did take his place in the lineup, an injury prevented him from kicking. Christensen returned to the lineup for the New York game two weeks ago and was the star of the Lions' 17 to 0 victory. He will be available tomorrow, providing Lion followers with another pregame argument for success.

Bears Well Rested.

Physical qualities play an important part in all Lion-Bear games. The Bears, for a change, appear to have the edge in this respect. They have been idle for ten days resting for tomorrow's test, while the Lions have been busy engaging the Giants in New York and the Cardinals in Chicago last Sunday.

Much of the Lions' defense will center on Bill Karr, the Bears' great right end. It has become traditional for Karr to star in Lion games. He played a leading rôle in the 20 to 20 tie at Chicago two years ago, scored on a pass in the 14 to 2 Bear triumph in Chicago last season, and four weeks ago again made himself the chief Lion tormentor by slipping by

Isbell, and Woody Wilson of Army—these teams meet Saturday in the annual service battle which will be decided before the largest crowd of the season—have been prominent throughout the campaign. Bergner, however, will not play Saturday, because of injury.

Capt. Merrill Davis, Frank Schildgren, Roy Duckworth, Fred Hollingworth, Warren King, as well as MacLoed, a junior, have figured prominently in Dartmouth's undefeated record. Dr. Eddie Anderson's undefeated Holy Cross eleven at one time had five sophomores in the lineup. But of the veterans, Bill Osmanski, full back, and Mautner, center, are worthy of All-Star recognition.

Injury frequently prevents a great player from being given a place on honor teams. New York university, now preparing for its game with Fordham, has a splendid pass receiver, George Savarese, who will start for his first time since early October. Bernie Bloom, Milton Miller, and Fred Fiore, are other seniors who haven't been heard of west of the Hudson, but who can play football with the best.

Luckman Is a Favorite.

Sid Luckman of Columbia may be the reason for an upset by Columbia over Stanford which would duplicate last year's 7 to 0 victory and the conquest in Rose Bowl four years ago, if there is an upset. Stanford, however, is rated at least two touchdowns stronger.

Manhattan's Fuchia, left half; Daly, an end, and Moffitt, a tackle, and Katalinas, a tackle of Catholic university, are players who cannot be overlooked.

Andy Farkas of Detroit university is regarded by Coach Gus Dorais as an All-American and approval by Dorais, who coached the All-Stars to their first victory over the professional champions, should be sufficient. Brumbaugh, quarter back and half back; Maras, a tackle, and Platukis, an end, are tops at Duquesne university.

Many Big Ten Candidates.

Competition for All-Star rating in the national poll by Western conference athletes will be more keen than ever. Outstanding players who have finished college competition at Big Ten universities are:

MINNESOTA—Ray King and Dwight Reed, ends; Lou Midler, tackle; Bob Weld, guard; Vic Spadaccini, full back and quarter back; Andy Uram and Rudy Gmitro, half backs.

INDIANA—R. L. [Jick] Kenderdine and Frank Petrick, ends; Jim Sirtosky, guard; George Miller, center; Corby Davis, Frank Filchock, and G. L. Fowler, backs.

IOWA—Homer Harris and Bob Lannon, ends; Floyd Deheer and Frank Gallagher, tackles; Shipley Farroh, guard or tackle; Dick Anderson, center; Bush Lamb and Emil Klumpar, backs.

Notre Dame will have the following outstanding candidates for the All-Star team: Leonard Skoglund, Chuck Sweeney, and Joe Zwers, ends; Joe Ruetz and Joe Kuharich, guards; Pat McCarty, center; Andy Puplis and Chuck O'Reilly, quarter backs, and Jack McCarthy and Nevin McCormick, half backs.

Husker Tackle Stands Out.

Nebraska's great record this season has advanced the candidacy of Fred Shirey, tackle, and Elmer Dohrmann, end, for All-American rating.

Joe Kilgrow of Alabama is one of the greatest half backs in the south, a worthy successor to a long line of ball carriers and passers which have brought the Crimson Tide national recognition. Frank Kinard of Mississippi is one of the game's greatest tackles. Davey O'Brien of Texas Christian, quarter back and passer; Wolf of Texas; George Ewing, Southern Methodist half back; Bill Patterson, Baylor; Ernie Lain, Rice half back; Harry Appleby of Georgia Tech; Bob Davis of Kentucky; Jim Fenton and George Kenmore of Auburn; Tut Warren, Alabama, end; Honey Hackney of Duke; Joe Rouett, Texas Aggies' guard, and Dick Todd, a half back, are others who have been spotlighted this fall. All, however, are not seniors.

Whizzer and Shooter, Too.

No list of football players would be complete without mention of Ambrose Schindler, Southern California's quarter back; Byron [Whizzer] White of Colorado; Shooter Popovich of Idaho; Joe Gray, Oregon State half back; Douglas, Santa Clara center, and Meek and Herwig of California, champion of the Pacific Coast conference.

This list, of course, might be extended. There are scores of other players representing small colleges and universities who may win All-American rating in the national poll. And when this vote is held, you'll have a genuine All-Star squad, one which you will see play at Soldiers' field next September.

Entries Listed from 14 States in Horse Show

Entries from fourteen states are listed for the International Horse show which will be held during the International Live Stock exposition that opens Saturday at the International amphitheater and runs for eight days.

Large Saddle Horse Show.

It will be one of the largest saddle horse and hunter and jumper shows in the United States in 1937, Henkle says. Classes for harness horses and competition for ponies also are well filled, he reports.

All events on the opening night have been fashioned for horses owned by exhibitors in Chicago and its suburbs. One of the contestants will be O. W. Lehmann, once owner of some of the finest show animals in the country, who has nominated four jumpers from his stable at Lake Villa.

Delaine Hours Entered.

Among the contenders in the saddle horse classes will be the famous Delaine Hours, listed by Delaine farm of Glenview, and Midnight Star, the entry of Miss Amy N. Freeman of San Antonio, Tex. Rotarian, a brilliant saddle horse that scored heavily at last year's show, is to be exhibited by B. C. McClure of Chicago.

Prominent among the visiting exhibitors will be:

R. C. Flannery, Kansas, Ill.; Mrs. Mary Froelich, Appleton, Wis.; Miss Fredericka Fry, Greenwich, Conn.; Heyl Pony farm, Washington, Ill.; Dr. R. A. Kidd Jr., Columbus, O.; Miss Judy King, Atlanta, Ga.; O'Neill Brothers, Manteno, Ill.; George J. Hunters Have Reason to Be Thankful, Too

BY BOB BECKER.

Although the hunters in Illinois may feel they haven't much to be thankful for today when they look back on the 1937 season and consider the peculiar weather and resultant poor shooting that attended this year's waterfowl season, most of us who like to hunt wild game really can add up a pretty sizable list of items for which we may be grateful on this Thanksgiving day.

First, sportsmen everywhere can be thankful that there is any duck hunting at all in view of the situation prevailing a few years ago. With drouth and over shooting the waterfowl flocks were going fast.

Methods Bear Fruit.

It hasn't been easy to undergo shortened hunting seasons and reduced bag limits in recent years, but the program featuring these curtailments and establishment of feeding and nesting areas are bringing back the ducks.

We have the feeling that there will be even larger numbers of waterfowl coming south another year and possibly there will be slightly less severe restrictions on the hunting. There is no occasion for hunters to be especially thankful for this year's brand of duck hunting [which mostly was medium to poor], but we can be thankful for the future which looks bright.

Organization Lends Aid.

Sportsmen also can be thankful today for Ducks Unlimited, that international organization which quietly is going ahead on a long program which will make secure the future of America's waterfowl population. Thousands of sportsmen already have contributed money to Ducks Unlimited to the end that marshes, lakes, and sloughs in the breeding areas will be purchased and preserved for the birds.

Any sportsman who is helping in this tremendous project, which links the United States and Canada in a common purpose, may well be thankful today that he is doing his bit to perpetuate a wonderful sport . . . waterfowl hunting. The man who is helping with the program has every right to feel good today when he carves the turkey and counts up his opportunities for fun in the outdoors.

Farmers Are Lenient.

Another thing which sportsmen may think about today is this: they can be thankful that not every farmer has posted his land against hunting, considering how many have suffered from outlaw hunters, potshooters, and others who have ignored the rights of the landowner. Still another reason for Illinois sportsmen to give thanks is the section in the new game code which makes it possible for a few shooters to get together, take out a game breeders' license, raise their own pheasants, and hunt on their own land over a long season.

MARCH INJURED; STAYS HOME AS HAWKS GO EAST

Open Three Game Trip to Detroit Tonight.

Harold [Mush] March, Chicago Blackhawk wing, will be left at home when the club makes a three game National Hocky league road trip, because of a pulled leg muscle suffered yesterday in practice.

The injury to March, who teams with Paul Thompson and Doc Romnes as the Hawks' best line, will delay a deal in which either Billy Kendall, Oscar Hansen, or Vic Heyliger, spare forwards, will be sent to the St. Louis club of the American association.

Continue East.

The Red Wing game tonight will be the Hawks' first in Detroit under their new manager, Bill Stewart. Last year's game resulted in a 2 to 0 victory for the Chicagoans.

It's Break for Wings.

Detroit has been stumbling along under the burden of several unfortunate breaks but has just about readjusted itself and is ready to begin a drive to another championship. The injury to March enhanced its hopes for a victory tonight.

The Hawks will be seeking to regain second place in the league standings by duplicating an earlier triumph over the Red Wings, who were beaten, 3 to 1, at the Chicago Stadium.

35 PITT PLAYERS PACK GRIPS; SET TO INVADE DUKE

Pittsburgh, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The thirty-five University of Pittsburgh football players designated to go to Durham, N. C., for their final regular game of the season against Duke packed their grips tonight.

The Panthers leave at 1 p. m. tomorrow and will arrive early Friday on their special train at Chapel Hill, 10 miles from Durham. The team held another brief workout today at Pitt stadium, with all members reported in excellent condition.

PHILADELPHIA'S FOOTBALL ORGY STARTS TODAY

Penn, Cornell Clash to Attract 60,000.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 24.—Philadelphia's annual football orgy, which will be climaxed Saturday when the two service schools, United States Military academy and the Naval academy, meet before more than 100,000, gets under way tomorrow afternoon at Franklin field. Sixty thousand will see the forty-fourth renewal of the rivalry between the University of Pennsylvania and Cornell, which began in 1893.

Pennsylvania not only has won the last three games from its Ithaca rivals but boasts of a series advantage of 31 victories as compared to ten defeats. Two games have been tied.

Cornell has been the surprise eleven of the east this season, bursting from the obscurity of a decade of defeats with a top heavy triumph over Colgate. Victories later were scored over Penn State, Columbia and Princeton. More important, however, was the tie with Dartmouth, which finished its season undefeated but has one other tie, that with Yale, 9 to 9, against its record.

Beaten by Yale, Syracuse.

Yale and Syracuse have defeated the Big Red eleven, coached by Carl Snavely.

On the basis of its record—defeats by Yale, Columbia, Penn State, and Michigan and a tie with Georgetown, with only two victories, against Maryland and Navy, Pennsylvania probably does not rate to win tomorrow. But Bill Koepsell, sophomore quarter back, who has been on the side lines for the last three weeks, will be in the starting lineup. His return has bolstered Pennsylvania's hopes.

Ned Fielden, an end, will be Penn's only noncombatant tomorrow. Cornell will have full strength except for Dick Morgan who was injured in practice this week. Pennsylvania finished its work last night when a coterie of former stars, including Lew Elverson of last year's eleven, assisted Coach Harvey Harman in preparing a defense for Cornell's air attack.

With Koepsell returning, the rest of the Penn back field will be Jim Coulter, blocking and kicking back; Mike Burke, wing back, and Jim Connell, full back.

Cornell On Hand.

Cornell arrived early this evening and immediately went to the Green Hills Farms hotel, which will be headquarters for the squad until tomorrow. Elliot Hooper, of Aurora, Ill., will start at right guard for Cornell. Two sophomore squad members, Bill Worcester, tackle, of Aurora, and Fred Jaicks, an end, of Hinsdale, also are from the state of Illinois.

featured artists, Miss Dworshak and Eddie Shipstad. The latter more than demonstrated his versatility in this act, for few in the house recalled that only a few minutes before he had functioned as one half of the Old Gray Mare number so familiar to regular ice carnival enthusiasts.

The aforesaid equine presentation was, as usual, one of the hits of the evening. The component parts of the aged mare, which ambles around the ice with a youthful abandon, were identified as Shipstad and Oscar Johnson, and they, too, were summoned back for an added whirl.

"Miss" Brock Makes Amends.

Following the opening number, which enlisted a ballet of twenty feminine skaters, with Laverne Busher as soloist, the announcer presented a Miss Henrietta Brock. La Brock, it was stated, was scheduled to have appeared in the opening ballet, but was detained, and now wished to make amends for her defection. Not until the lights struck the manly shanks of Heinie Brock, former University of Minnesota athlete, flaunting all of the laws of gravity beneath a ballet skirt and a brace of scarlet bloomers, were the guests aware of the tardy artiste's identity.

Harris Legg, the former Canadian amateur speed skating champion from Toronto, who does a varied routine on a pair of racing skates, climaxed his turn with a series of leaps over a number of barrels, touching off the performance by hopping over seven of them and through a blazing hoop.

Others Well Received.

The Four Nelson sisters from St. Paul; Chicago's Valerie Fink, and Laverne Busher, and Osborne Colson, senior figure skating champion of Canada, also were well received, as were the debut pair of the evening, Ruby and Bobby Maxon, junior pair champions of the northwest.

The cosmopolitan touch of the night was furnished in a European festival dance which saw couples representing Ireland, Russia, Norway, Austria, France, and Spain doing folk duets before joining in an ensemble interpretation. Ruth Mack and Everett McGowan thrilled the gathering with their famed Apache dance just before the West Point ensemble, which concluded the performance.

WASHINGTON TO PLAY ST. LOUIS FOR TITLE TODAY

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—The twenty-second renewal of the city championship battle between Washington university and St. Louis university will be played at Francis field, home of the Bears, tomorrow afternoon.

In a series which began thirty-seven years ago, Washington holds a margin in total victories with thirteen to its credit. St. Louis has triumphed on six occasions and two contests have resulted in ties.

Talaber, Outweighed 20 Pounds, Pins Grubmyer

Frankie Talaber scored an outstanding victory by tossing Gorilla Grubmyer last night at the Rainbo Fronton. Outweighed by twenty pounds, Talaber pinned Grubmyer with a series of body slams and a toe hold. Grubmyer had to be carried from the ring. Al Williams and Roy Rickenbacher wrestled to a thirty minute draw. Joe Rogotski made short work of Frank Welger, pinning the latter in four minutes.

Jack Zarvich threw Ken Fenlon, 15:02.
Tony Martini downed Al Wescott, 20:10.

Schwartz's Job Jeopardized by Team's Defeats

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—After a disastrous season, the wolves are out after Marchmont Schwartz, completing his third year as Creighton university coach. Creighton defeated St. Benedict's and Grinnell, lost to St. Louis, Kansas State, Oklahoma A. & M., Drake, Xavier, and Detroit. A game with Texas Tech tomorrow completes the season.

Schwartz, former Notre Dame star, has no contract at Creighton, but holds an agreement which calls for his retention through the 1940 season. He has been quoted as saying it might be best if the Texas Tech trip were his last.

The university's student newspaper today inferentially laid blame for the poor season on the team itself, asked if failure was "because players from thousands of miles away, from Chicago, Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Arkansas, and Minnesota couldn't work up the enthusiasm they would for a home team?"

Commenting on Schwartz's early season statement that Creighton school spirit is "putrid," the newspaper commented:

"The records show his football team is also pretty bad. Since he made the remark, there has been an increase in spirit, but there has been no comparable upturn in the team."

Look Out for Caddel.

The Bears, meanwhile, will pay special attention to Caddel on wide reverses and Gutowsky on spinners to the weak side. These two plays, evolving about each other, have always been the Lions' leading ground gainers. It was on the reverse that Caddel gained 183 yards alone last Thanksgiving day. His advances were restricted to a minimum at Chicago last month, however. And as long as Karr is in the game, it is not likely that he will go too far on any one occasion tomorrow.

The Bears will return to Chicago immediately after the game to prepare for their first annual homecoming celebration at Wrigley field Sunday. The Cleveland Rams, led by John Drake, former Chicago prep star and Purdue all-around back, will furnish the opposition.

Anthony Motisi Hopes Third Time Is Charm in C. Y. O. Final

He'll Try Again

ANTHONY MOTISI.

Anthony Joseph Motisi, who has been one of the brightest students in the boxing curriculum conducted annually by the Catholic Youth organization, yesterday announced that he is contemplating graduation, depending upon the success of his examinations in the seventh annual C. Y. O. championships next Wednesday night at Chicago Stadium and the Golden Gloves quiz on the same premises next spring.

Tony feels that he has passed his sophomore and junior requirements very well and that, if he gains more than a passing mark in the forthcoming senior tests, he will be ready for graduation into the professional class.

There is plenty of precedent for a C. Y. O. boxer to take the big step which the rugged Motisi is planning. Boxing customers are well acquainted with the professional success of such former C. Y. O. champions as Leo Rodak, Johnny Brown, Jimmy Christy, and Max Marek. Tony's own record in amateur competition and his obvious enthusiasm for fighting make him a real candidate.

Third Appearance in Finals.

Next Wednesday night will mark Motisi's third appearance in the C. Y. O. finals. In 1935 he reached the featherweight title bout against another Tony, the able Carlucci, but lost the decision. Last year he encountered Will Goldsmith, south side colored boxer, in the final bout for the lightweight crown. Will's southpaw style proved a trifle baffling for Tony, and he again lost the decision, despite a grand third round rally after having been floored for no count in the second round.

Tony, representing the Guardian Angel parish from Chicago's near west side, is making no predictions as to the outcome of his 147 pound bout with Stanley Murczek in the Stadium ring next Wednesday but is confining himself diligently to daily drills at the C. Y. O. center gym.

Boxing Three Years.

Tony, who has been boxing for three years, first took to the sport of punching after having left Lane Technical High school. He is 5 feet 6 inches tall and weighs 145 pounds. In the 105 bouts he has waged since joining the C. Y. O. he has scored 85 victories, 4 of them by knockouts. He attained the novice semi-finals of the Golden Gloves at the Stadium two years ago but there succumbed to Southpaw Goldsmith for the first time. A decision victory over Ray Cannick of Joliet won him his rôle in next Wednesday's championship bout.

Motisi has been one of the real handy men of the C. Y. O. when it comes to battling outside competition. In the intercity bouts with New York he scored a decision against Bernie Miller. As a lightweight, Tony assisted in the 11 to 5 C. Y. O. victory over South America last August at Soldiers' field by whipping Luis Petrone of the Argentine. His biggest thrill came when he was chosen a member of the team which journeyed to Honolulu and defeated a Hawaiian team, 7 to 1.

CANCEL FOOTBALL GAME.

Because of the possibility of a post-season football game De Paul university seniors have canceled a game with the Chicago Gunners at St. Philip's stadium scheduled for this morning.

INVITE FORMER WILDCAT STARS TO N. U. BANQUET

Invitations have been extended Northwestern university's All-American football players of the past to attend the annual football banquet to be given by the Northwestern University Club of Chicago at the Stevens hotel Dec. 4. It is expected that a dozen former Wildcat stars of national reputation will be present.

Among those invited are Pug Rentner, Moon Baker, Hank Bruder, and Paddy Driscoll, half backs; Reb Russell and Tiny Lewis, full backs; Frank Baker and Edgar Manske, ends; Jack Riley, Dal Marvil, and Bob Johnson, tackles; Tim Lowry, center, and Steve Reid, Paul Tangora, Jimmy Evans, and Wade Woodworth, guards.

Over 1,200 will attend the banquet in honor of the 1937 football squad. The captain for next year will be elected and the most valuable player for the season just closed will be selected at the dinner. Varsity letters and freshman numerals also will be awarded.

Speakers on the program will include Coach Lynn Waldorf, Tug Wilson, athletic director; President Walter Dill Scott, and Maj. John L. Griffith.

What's the Use?

Football was the topic of conversation at the dinner party. The word was "crossbuck." The lady at my left was asked if she understood the term. She replied, "I think it is some kind of deer, isn't it?" Which explains why some fellows no longer spend $3.30 for a ticket to take a lady to the game.

Navy's Offense Given a Secret Drill for Army

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—The lid was clamped down so tight on the football practice of the Navy team this afternoon that even Rear Admiral Sellers, superintendent of the academy who has been a regular attendant at practice, was not in his usual place. Head Coach Hank Hardwick put final touches on the special plays which will be used against the Army Saturday.

As to the work of the week, upon which the chances of the Navy in its final game depend, Hardwick said that things have moved along normally. There have been no more injuries and the team will be in shape for its final effort, he said.

The squad was at full strength for the workout, and Coach Gar Davidson lined up his varsity as it is expected to start the Navy game, with Ryan at quarter back, Schwenk at full, and Long and Wilson at half back.

SCHALK NAMED NEW MANAGER AT INDIANAPOLIS

Takes Over Post Vacated by Wade Killefer.

Ray Schalk, one time catching star with the White Sox, yesterday was named manager of the Indianapolis American association club. The contract was signed here after a conference with N. A. Perry, owner.

Ray Schalk.

Schalk, who for the last six seasons had piloted the Buffalo club of the International league, succeeds Wade Killefer, who resigned as Indianapolis pilot to assume the leadership of the new Hollywood Pacific Coast league club.

Wants to Strengthen Club.

It was from the American association that Schalk made his leap into the majors, the Sox purchasing him from Milwaukee in 1912.

As manager of the Buffalo club, Schalk won one pennant, finished third twice, fourth once, and fifth twice. He plans to strengthen the team at the minor league meeting opening in Milwaukee Dec. 1, hoping to acquire two pitchers, a new first baseman, and a pair of outfielders for the Indians. The team will train this year at Bartow, Fla.

All Jobs Taken Now.

With the signing of Schalk to pilot Indianapolis, the managerial roster of the American association is complete for 1938. Billy Meyers succeeds Dutch Zwilling as manager of the Kansas City club, with Babe Ganzel taking up the reins at St. Paul, succeeding Phil Todt, who replaced Gabby Street late last season.

Street signed to coach the St. Louis Browns and may become the manager. Zwilling will manage the Oakland, Cal., club in the Pacific coast league next season.

DETROIT MEETS DUQUESNE TODAY BEFORE 18,000

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 24.—(AP)—The Titans from the University of Detroit worked out today on Forbes field, where they clash tomorrow with crippled Duquesne in a football homecoming.

Coach Little Clipper Smith sent Duquesne through its final heavy scrimmage yesterday, and the squad took things easier today. Boyd Brumbaugh, star half back, who has been hampered by injuries, was in the announced starting lineup.

BRITAIN PUSHES BILL TO SEIZE COAL INDUSTRY

Plan Is Strongly Assailed by Many Interests.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Another government commission to control another British industry is slated for organization in the near future through the government's coal bill, which last night passed the second of the required three readings in the house of commons. Described as the most important measure of the current session, it replaces a bill defeated by the owners of coal royalty rights last year. It is expected to pass the third reading despite opposition.

The bill is having a stormy passage through parliament because the Tories say it is too socialistic and the Laborites say it yields too much to vested interests.

Main Points of Plan.

The five main points of the present bill are:

1. A coal commission will be established to take over all coal deposits known now or discovered hereafter.

2. The commission will pay $332,250,000 to landowners now drawing royalties on the mining of coal under their properties.

3. Three and a half years from Jan. 1, 1939, to July 1, 1942, are allowed for the valuation awards to royalty owners.

4. The commission will be empowered to force amalgamations among 1,000 firms now mining coal, as it deems desirable.

5. The bill will give the commission exclusive rights to seek new deposits and will make it illegal for any one else to do so.

Plan Strongly Attacked.

It has been attacked bitterly by labor circles on the grounds that the royalty award is unnecessary and imposes an unfair burden on tax payers. It is opposed by royalty owners on the grounds that the award is too small, and that their property is being expropriated. Furthermore, they do not like the amalgamation provision.

The defense against both arguments is that this is the only possible solution of the present tangle which has reduced the coal industry to the point where coal miners are one of the chief groups among the idle.

The huge sum paid out in buying royalties will be disbursed through a sinking fund. In the period from 1927 to 1936, about 4,300 persons drew coal royalties totaling $264,000,000. Many of Great Britain's leading families draw much of their income from this source. The Marquis of Bute receives about $550,000 a year, Viscount Tredegar $370,000, and the earl of Dunraven $250,000.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

How to smoke turkey is only one of the many interesting subjects treated in the fascinating 94-page book, "Day by Day on the Farm," by Frank Ridgway, Tribune agricultural editor. Get a copy for the family today. On sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower, and at the Tribune Wheaton farm. Price, 25 cents. Postpaid, 32 cents.

Turkey Dinner.

Nov. 24, 1937.

FAMILIES on the Tribune farms are going to feast on turkey tomorrow. Outside of feeding the live stock and doing necessary chores, there will be no work scheduled on either of the places.

Workers will be glad to have a day of rest after harvesting of one of the biggest crops grown on the farms in recent years. The last of the corn had been picked just before the last cold snap and snow storm hit this section. All the crops are now under cover except roughage such as corn and cane fodder and soy bean hay. These crops are in shocks or cocks not far from the feed yards whence they can be hauled as they are needed.

Ear Muffs Are Out.

Since the first real blast of winter struck the farms last week, there have been fresh signs of it daily. Frost forming on the windows was the signal for workers to bring out their ear muffs, fur lined caps and coats, sweaters, heavy gloves and overshoes.

Pumps and water pipes in many cases had to be packed to keep them from freezing and to insure a regular water supply in the feed yard tanks. Sleds have been drawn out and repaired and are ready for use in hauling roughage out of the fields.

Managers instructed the workers to watch the ventilation of the horse barns and cattle sheds to prevent sudden exposure of the live stock to cold drafts. Two lambs died of pneumonia at the Wheaton farm the other day and measures are being taken to prevent other losses.

Care for Flowers.

Plants and bulbs in the flower and vegetable gardens have been taken in when necessary or covered for winter protection. However, borders with perennial flowers including phlox, delphinium, iris, thalictrum, peony, veronica, junka, gypsophila, lily of the valley, and anemone will be left uncovered in the Wheaton farm flower garden until the ground has been frozen to a depth of about one inch. The head gardener's tests reveal that if the perennial beds are covered before they are frozen, field mice and other rodents eat off the roots and young shoots that spring up under the mulch.

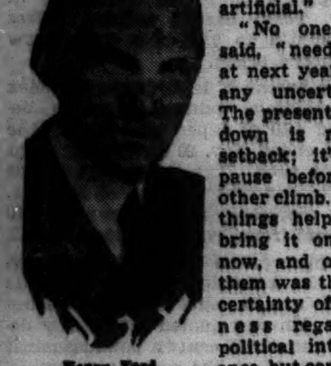
TRADE SLUMP ONLY A PAUSE, FORD ASSERTS

Blames Out of Date Money System.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Henry Ford, in an interview today, said that the present business recession is "temporary and artificial."



Henry Ford.

"No one," he said, "need look at next year with any uncertainty. The present slowdown is not a setback; it's the pause before another climb. Two things helped to bring it on just now, and one of them was the uncertainty of business regarding political interference, but congress is taking care of that. The other was the stock market fluctuation.

"Everybody knows the stock market has no permanent effect on business, but it does have an effect on the state of mind of the American business man who plays the market. He often mistakes his personal depression for a business depression. The stock market has no more real effect on American business than the results of a dog race in California."

Money System Assailed.

A contributing factor to the present "pause," Ford said, has been the fact that money too long has been a "principal commodity of commerce."

"Money," he said, "has become a business in itself instead of an adjunct to business. Money is not wealth; wealth is what money buys. But that has been turned upside down. The present system has got us twisted into producing things to buy dollars with, when what we need is a money system that will produce dollars to buy goods with. Under the present system the tail wags the dog. Money is just part of society's transportation system for moving goods from man to man; it breaks down so often that it is time our financial engineers developed a better model.

"Entirely Out of Date."

The present money system as exemplified by those "who manipulate it for profit," Ford said, is entirely out of date, and is in large measure responsible for recurring business recessions. "It is a system that seeks to control labor; wants to control government, finance, food, industry, and even the schools," he asserted. "It manifests an avariciousness that would control everything."

Ford explained that he had no overnight panacea for what he termed the out-moded money system. But any system that seeks profits alone is terribly handicapped to begin with, he said.

"Here is a nation that might be the richest nation in the world when actually we haven't enough of anything, because there is not enough production," he said. "The need is here; the ability to produce is here; the stoppage is in the system that puts profit before production—and that is the money system."

View on Surplus Tax.

Ford referred to the tax on surplus earnings as "a move on the part of certain exponents of an out-of-date financial system to control industry."

"Our lawmakers may not know this," he said, "but that's the way it works."

The solution, Ford said, lies in teaching the coming generation the real purpose of money and "an understanding of a system that may have been adequate for society's needs many years ago, but no longer meets its requirements today.

"Honest financiers," Ford went on, "have done a good job of making the present system work as well as it has, but there will be a new race of financial engineers coming along whose pride will be the social efficiency of the system, rather than its profit-making possibilities. Their efforts, however, may be hindered unless there is a more general understanding of the shortcomings of the present system."

Referring to the great cash surplus the Ford company maintains, Ford said it was as much part of his company's equipment as are the drill presses, blast furnaces, and assembly lines.

Explains Big Ford Surplus.

"We could not operate without that surplus," he said. "If we had to borrow money we could do so only on terms involving surrender of control of our plants. Then we could not be justly called a business. There are too many laws on the statute books that, if they are not modified, will drive independent manufacturers into the arms of the money lenders—and that simply means putting industry back under the financial control from which it has been freeing itself."

Asked whether periodical depressions were unavoidable, Ford said:

"There may be natural reason for a period of business recession, and if there is, such a recession is meant to be beneficial, but certainly there is no reason why a period of business recession need be a period of human distress."

Banks and Markets Will Close Today

Banks and leading domestic commodity and security markets, including live stock exchanges, will close today for the Thanksgiving holiday. Foreign markets will stay open.

Illinois Bell Phone to Pay $2.75 a Share

The flow of extra and larger year-end dividends by corporations to reduce surtaxes on undistributed earnings continued yesterday with declarations by a large number of companies.

Illinois Bell Telephone company directors voted a dividend for the final quarter of $2.75 a share on the common stock. In each of the preceding quarters this year, the company paid $2 a share. In 1936 four quarterly payments of $2 each were made.

Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company announced a dividend of $2 on the common stock and the same amount on the participating preferred shares. This makes total dividend payments on each this year $6 a share.

Votes 75 Cents Extra.

An extra dividend of 75 cents and the regular quarterly payment of 50 cents a share on the capital stock were declared by the Perfect Circle company, maker of piston rings for automobiles. An extra of 50 cents was paid in July, bringing total 1937 disbursements to $3.25 with the current declaration.

Northern Illinois Finance corporation voted a special dividend of 20 cents on the common stock. The company has paid four quarterly dividends of 25 cents each this year.

A year-end dividend of 75 cents was declared on the common stock of Hercules Powder company, after the 2 for 1 split-up recently authorized was made effective. Prior to the split-up the company paid dividends of $1.50 each on March 25, June 25, and Sept. 25.

Declares Extra 25 Cents.

J. D. Adams Manufacturing company declared an extra dividend of 25 cents on the capital stock. On Oct 15 the company paid an extra of 30 cents in addition to the regular quarterly 15 cent dividend.

American-Hawaiian Steamship company voted an extra payment of 40 cents, in addition to the usual quarterly disbursement of 25 cents.

American Home Products corporation declared an extra of 20 cents and the regular monthly dividend of the same amount.

A quarterly dividend of 15 cents in cash and a year-end special of $1.40 in 4 per cent promisory notes were authorized by directors of Ruberoid company. The notes will carry a due date of Dec. 20, 1940, but may be redeemed at the face amount and accrued interest at any time after March 20, 1938.

A dividend of $7 to apply on arrears on the preferred stock was voted by directors of American Locomotive company. The company paid $3 on Dec. 18, 1936. On Sept. 30, accumulations on the issue amounted to $32 a share.

Will Pay $1 Special.

American Smelting and Refining company declared a special dividend of $1 on the common stock. Dividends of 75 cents each were paid in February, May, and August, and a payment of $1.75 was ordered in September payable Nov. 30.

George W. Helme company voted an extra dividend of $2 and the regular quarterly payment of $1.25 on the common stock.

Veeder-Root, Inc., declared an extra dividend of $2 and the usual quarterly dividend of 25 cents on the new stock which was recently split 2 for 1. On Sept. 15 the company paid $1 extra and 50 cents quarterly on the stock prior to the split up.

The regular quarterly dividend of 30 cents on the common stock of P. Lorillard company was declared payable on Dec. 15 instead of Jan. 2 when it would ordinarily be paid.

Directors of Continental Casualty company declared a special extra dividend of 30 cents on the capital stock, bringing the total for 1937 to $1.50 a share, compared with $1 in 1936.

Standard Gas Files New Plan to Reorganize

The Standard Gas and Electric corporation, holding company for utility properties valued at nearly one billion dollars, yesterday filed a new plan of reorganization with the federal District court at Wilmington, Del. Coincident with the filing of the plan, Bernard W. Lynch, president, announced that the company plans to register as a holding company under the public utility act. The step will be taken, he said, within 60 days after the plan of reorganization is effected.

The plan is the second presented to the court by the company. The first was filed last May and was subsequently changed by amendment. The new plan differs in many respects from the original proposal and is said to have the backing of virtually all the organized security holders of the company.

Started Proceedings in 1935.

The company started its reorganization proceedings under section 77B of the bankruptcy act in 1935 after the Securities and Exchange commission rejected a plan proposed by the company for extending a maturing note issue.

The new plan provides for a ten year extension of funded obligations of the company that are past due, and at the same time, by collateral agreement, would grant to all holders of the company's funded securities the right to convert their holdings into new securities maturing in twenty-five years. Voting rights would be given to the holders of the prior preference and preferred stock, enabling holders to get representation on the board of directors. The common stock would not be disturbed in the reorganization.

Original Plan Cut Debt.

The company's original plan had proposed a reduction in the funded debt by nearly 50 per cent and the elimination of dividend arrearages on the senior stocks through the issuance of dividend certificates. This feature is not included in the present plan.

The $24,649,000 of 6 per cent notes which matured in 1935 would be extended under terms of the plan for ten years after the consumation of the reorganization. There would be no change in the $49,000,000 of debentures constituting the remainder of the company's $73,649,500 of funded debt.

It is planned, the company announced, to give holders of all the funded securities the option of retaining their present securities or exchanging each $1,000 principal amount for $500 of new 4½ per cent 25 year debentures, 25 shares of common stock of the Philadelphia company, two shares of Pacific Gas and Electric company, and three shares of San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric company. The San Diego stock would be new common shares resulting from a four for one split-up of present shares.

Carry Purchase Option.

The new 4½ per cent debentures would carry with each $500 principal an option to purchase ten shares of Philadelphia company common stock at $15 a share, good for 10 years after issuance.

The plan further provides that the holders of the $7 and $6 preferred stock would be entitled to elect two members of the board of directors. The $4 cumulative preferred stock as a class would elect two directors and would vote on the remaining four directors along with the common stock. Each share of the $4 stock would have 1½ votes in such election. Neither the preference nor the preferred stock have previously had voting power.

Claims now pending against certain officers and directors of the company that were brought by preference stockholders would be transferred to a special trustee to litigate. An offer to settle these claims for $1,000,000 was rejected by the federal court several months ago.

Bell, Boyd, and Marshall to Be 'El' Trustee Counsel

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson yesterday approved the appointment of Bell, Boyd, and Marshall as counsel for Col. A. A. Sprague, trustee for the Chicago Rapid Transit company [elevated lines]. The firm succeeds Schuyler & Hennessy, recently disqualified as Col. Sprague's counsel by the United States District Court of Appeals because of the firm's connection with Commonwealth Edison company, a creditor and principal stockholder of the elevated company.

WIEBOLDT STORE SALES FOR QUARTER TOTAL FAR ABOVE YEAR AGO

Wieboldt Stores, Inc., yesterday reported sales for the three months ended Oct. 30 totaled $6,488,314, compared with $5,343,474 in the same period of 1936, an increase of 21.4 per cent. Sales for the nine months ended Oct. 30 totaled $19,419,870, an increase of 23.4 per cent over a year ago, when sales amounted to $15,741,429.

E. F. Wieboldt.

E. F. Wieboldt, president, said that sales for the current year include those made in the new Oak Park store since its opening on March 4. He said that the indicated net profits to date are somewhat below 1936, but are in excess of regular quarterly dividends.

WEEK'S STEEL OUTPUT SET AT 1-3 OF CAPACITY

Steel ingot production this week was estimated yesterday by the magazine Iron Age at 33 per cent of theoretical capacity. This is 2 points below the estimate at this time last week, but is 2 points higher than the estimate of the American Iron and Steel institute last Monday.

Operations in the Chicago district are 3 points higher than last week at 30½ per cent of capacity, according to the trade journal. In the Cleveland-Lorain district the rate rose to 29 per cent, compared with 18 per cent last week, resulting mainly from resumption of operations at two Cleveland plants that were idle last week.

"For the first time since the week before Labor day," Iron Age said, "the decline apparently has been halted at Chicago, where both production and consumption of steel is more widely diversified than in other industrial areas."

[Copyright: 1937: By the New York Times.]

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 24.—A 400,000,000 peso [about $112,000,000] budget for 1938, the largest in Mexico's history, will be proposed to congress by President Lazaro Cardenas, it was learned officially today when the president approved the schedule of expenditures for eight of the ten government departments.

The government this year has far exceeded the current budget of 330,000,000 pesos [$92,400,000]. In an attempt to improve its budget showing the government is suspending all but four heads of diplomatic missions abroad to cut expenses until the end of the year.

The Bank of Mexico in its weekly statement showed that metalic reserves had fallen more than 5,000,000 pesos [$1,400,000] and coverage from over 49 per cent to 46.41 per cent.

REPUBLIC STEEL UNIT TO CLOSE ON LACK OF ORDERS

Cumberland, Md., Nov. 24.—(AP)—The N. and G. Taylor company, a subsidiary of the Republic Steel corporation will close its plant here, due to lack of orders, Paul R. Steffe, employment manager, said today. The six hot mills will close tonight and other departments will close as rapidly as tinplate sheets turned out by the mills are processed. About 450 men are employed in the plant.

The closing came one week after the national labor relations board completed hearings on charges of discrimination brought by the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, affiliated with the C. I. O.

Morrell & Co. Has $700,000 Loss for Year

John Morrell & Co., packers, operated at a loss in the fiscal year ended Oct. 30 for the first time since 1911, President T. Henry Foster announced yesterday.

The operating loss for the year was about $700,000, President Foster said. The final figures for the period will not be completed for another thirty days. Net income of the company in the 1936 fiscal period was $619,490 and operating profit totaled $1,721,000.

The company specializes in the packing of pork products, operating plants at Ottumwa, Ia., Sioux Falls, S. D., and Topeka, Kas. Its business suffered acutely this year because of the decline in hog marketing.

Other Packers Yet to Report.

None of the Chicago packing companies has yet reported for 1937. The fiscal years of all the packing companies end in October. A decline in inventory values is understood to have cut down profits of the companies in the latter part of the year.

General Finance corporation, instalment financing firm, reported net earnings of $713,000 for the first eleven months of its fiscal year ended Oct. 31. Net earnings totaled $384,124 in the preceding year. Gross business handled was $31,649,701, against $18,431,737 in the comparable period of the preceding year.

September quarter net profit of $181,562 was reported by Truax-Traer Coal company. Net profit was $149,015 in the corresponding 1936 period.

Fees and expense allowances totaling $110,000 in connection with the reorganization of Chicago Elevator Properties, Inc., were granted yesterday by Federal Judge William H. Holly. The company controls a number of grain elevators in Chicago and downstate. Reorganization under section 77-B of the bankruptcy act was begun after the failure of the parent firm.

The principal allowances approved were: Chapman and Cutler, attorneys for the bondholders' committee headed by Herbert L. Harker, $24,000; the Harker committee, $14,000; Irving Herriott, attorney for Paul Darrow, trustee, $14,000; Pam and Hurd, attorneys for the City National Bank and Trust company, trustee for the bonds, $12,000; Johnson, Swanstrom and Wiles, attorneys for the Rosenbaum Grain corporation trustees, $13,000; Paul Darrow, trustee, $8,000.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Automobile plants today suspended operations for the Thanksgiving holiday and the majority will remain closed the balance of the week. The principal units of the Chrysler corporation will not reopen until next Tuesday.

Exceptions to the general shutdown are the Packard and Graham-Paige plants which will be closed tomorrow but will operate full shifts Friday and Saturday.

The Ford plant also will operate Friday. The Hupp plant will operate that day on a short shift.

The Chrysler corporation announced that approximately 10,000 of its 55,000 employés in Detroit plants have been laid off and the work reduced from 40 to 32 hours.

BOARD OF TRADE PROBES SHORTS IN ALL GRAINS

Broad Investigation Under Way.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

A sweeping investigation of short selling in the grain market is being pressed by the Chicago Board of Trade in connection with the inquiry into the September corn market "squeeze," it was learned yesterday.

A special committee, headed by William H. McDonald, is making an exhaustive study of the market operations not only in corn, but in other grains. The appointment of the committee was announced several weeks ago, but the scope of its inquiry was not generally understood until recent developments showed that investigators were digging into all angles of the market developments that led up the wide price fluctuations in September.

Cargill Action Only One Phase.

The citing of the Cargill Grain company and its officers for rules violation is only one phase of the inquiry, it was learned. The company, one of the largest operators on the exchange, was cited because it refused to liquidate part of its corn holdings when ordered to do so in September by the business conduct committee of the exchange. Directors are scheduled to hold a hearing on the charges Dec. 21. The outcome of this action, it is said, will not influence in any way the more basic inquiry that is now being pushed by exchange officials.

The prospect yesterday was that the exchange may initiate disciplinary action against operators who were short on the market in September as well as against those who had a long position. Board of Trade officials refused to discuss that prospect, however, pending the completion of the study of the McDonald committee.

September "Squeeze" Acute.

The "squeeze" that developed in the corn market was one of the most acute in the history of the board and because of the wide price fluctuations that occurred it received more notice than market developments in other grains. In determining on a broad investigation, however, the exchange instructed the McDonald committee to delve into the operations in wheat and other grains as well as corn.

The study will result in the assembling of comprehensive data on the part that short selling has played in the grain markets this year. The investigation is comparable to that made by the New York Stock exchange into the short selling during the September-October break in stock prices.

MacMillan Sends Protest.

Kenneth S. Templeton, president of the board, yesterday received a protest from John H. MacMillan Jr., president of the Cargill company, against the decision of the exchange directors to follow the precedent of many years standing by not allowing the Cargill interests legal representation when charges against the company are heard next month.

"We don't care how many lawyers they hire," an exchange representative said, "but we see no reason for abandoning our custom of barring attorneys from the hearing room."

In his protest to the exchange, MacMillan said: "May we point out that the refusal of your directors to grant us the right to employ professional counsel exposes the Chicago Board of Trade to the charge in the public eyes that it is being conducted too much like a private club and without due regard to the public interest. We may, therefore, in our common interest, ask that our request be reconsidered."

WEEK'S OUTPUT OF ELECTRICITY UP 2.1 PER CENT

Electricity output by the electric light and power industry in the United States during the week ended Nov. 20 rose 2.1 per cent to a total of 2,224,213,000 kilowatt hours, compared with 2,176,557,000 kilowatt hours in the preceding week, the Edison Electric institute reported yesterday.

Output in the like week of 1936 amounted to 2,169,715,000 kilowatt hours. The advance over the preceding week was more than the usual seasonal gain.

The electricity output of the four companies serving the Chicago district for the week ended Nov. 20 was 134,015,000 kilowatt hours, an increase of 4.5 per cent over the 128,278,000 kilowatt hours generated in the preceding week, and an increase of 3.9 per cent over the like week of 1936, when output totaled 128,949,000 kilowatt hours.

UNION CARBIDE UNIT WILL BUILD $5,000,000 PLANT

The Electro Metallurgical company, subsidiary of the Union Carbide and Carbon corporation, will construct a $5,000,000 plant on the Tennessee river near the TVA Wilson dam project, according to a Dow-Jones dispatch yesterday from Tuscumbia, Ala.

The company has purchased a 299 acre plant site and is expected to start construction by March 1, 1938, Dow-Jones & Co. said. It is understood that the company will use the new plant for production of calcium carbide and ferro-alloys.

The company recently entered into a 20 year power contract with TVA. Under terms of the contract Electro Metallurgical will begin to take TVA power Jan. 1, 1939.

N.Y. Exchange Bans Specialist for 3 Months

New York, Nov. 24.—[Special.]—John J. Phelan, a member of the New York Stock exchange operating as a floor specialist in Nash-Kelvinator stock, was suspended from floor trading privileges for three months today by the governing committee of the stock exchange. The exchange further announced that Phelan should be censured by the president of the exchange, Charles R. Gay.

Phelan was found guilty by the governing committee of a violation of section 8 of article 17 of the exchange's constitution, in that he, acting as a specialist, withheld from the market stock which he had purchased for his own account and thereby failed to maintain a fair and orderly market in the stock.

Buys at Half Price.

Specifically, Phelan bought Nash-Kelvinator stock at the opening of trading Oct. 19, at a price of $5 a share, against a closing price on the previous day of $10.50 a share. The shares closed Oct. 19 at $9.62½ a share.

The exchange, it was said, did not object especially to the purchase of the block of stock at less than half the previous closing price, but it held that Phelan was not justified in withholding the shares from the market.

This was the first case of disciplinary action voluntarily taken by the stock exchange and made public in a year and a half and was looked upon as significant in view of the charges made earlier today by W. O. Douglas, chairman of the Securities and Exchange commission, that the and Exchange commission, that the ing its disciplinary powers over its own members.

23 Minutes Involved.

The statement of the stock exchange was:

"The substance of the charge and specification was that John J. Phelan, a specialist in the Nash-Kelvinator corporation capital stock, on Oct. 19, 1937, having purchased as principal 8,100 shares of said stock at the opening, failed for approximately twenty-three minutes thereafter to make any of said stock available to the market, although during that interval the market price of the stock advanced rapidly, and that John J. Phelan thereby failed to fulfill his duty as a specialist as prescribed by the committee on odd lots and specialists in its circular dated April 28, 1937, and entitled 'Instructions to Specialists, to endeavor to maintain a fair and orderly market in the said stock.'"

The exchange said that the governing committee, having in mind the abnormal conditions prevailing at the time, did not believe that Phelan's failure to perform his duties properly as a specialist was a willful act, and consequently the committee refrained from imposing on him a more severe penalty.

Stock Specialist Defined.

A specialist on the exchange functions as a dealer in stocks assigned to him. In Wall street parlance, he "keeps the book" on a stock—that is, has custody of orders from other exchange members for purchase and sale of shares in which he specializes. Thus he assumes the rôle of a dealer to whom brokers with orders from the public go for execution of their business.

In relation to his rôle as a market maker for stocks, the specialist in general has been under fire repeatedly. The SEC has been studying the activities of these specialists to determine what, if any, changes should be made in exchange practices governing their functions.

Phelan is a former member of Nash & Co. Philip W. Nash is also a floor member of the firm, the other two partners of which are William B. Nash and Reynolds S. Pickering. Phelan was admitted to membership in the exchange on July 10, 1930.

EGGS SET 4 YEAR NOVEMBER LOW, THEN RECOVER

Egg prices fell to the lowest level for November in four years on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday and then recovered to close at approximately the preceding day's level. Eggs for delivery this month closed ⅛ of a cent per dozen lower at 17¾ cents. The market break and recovery followed Tuesday's sharp slump in quotations when futures lost 1 to 1⅛ cents a dozen.

Withdrawals of eggs from storage were larger than the corresponding day last year, the mercantile exchange reported. Country collections were reported larger.

Closing prices on butter futures were only slightly changed from the preceding day. Butter for November delivery advanced ⅛ cent to 33⅜ cents a pound.

COURT ASKS UTILITIES IN TVA FIGHT FOR DATA ON SMALL UNITS

"Previous testimony has shown us that the eighteen complaining companies fall into two categories—large and small," said Presiding Judge Florence Allen. "The typical large company has been described through testimony concerning the Alabama Power company. Now we wish information as to the small firms."

A recess was granted to allow utility lawyers time to map out the plan of procedure called for.

The court request temporarily halted the power companies' attorneys' planned program of calling in technical experts to aid in their assault on the authority.

STOCK MARKET SPLIT IN WAR OVER CONTROL

Explains SEC's Plan to Clean House.

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Warfare between two powerful groups of opposing interests within the New York Stock exchange threatens to result in sensational changes in the character of that institution, THE TRIBUNE learned last night.

Charles R. Gay, president N. Y. Stock exchange.

On one side are lined up the professional traders—largely specialists and floor traders—who have controlled the exchange for many years. On the other side are a large number of partners of commission houses with branches throughout the country, who regard themselves as representatives of the nation's millions of investors and who have long been irked by the practices of the professional group.

Encouraged to Strike.

Outnumbered and outmaneuvered in the past in elections and other political doings within the exchange, the large commission houses have regarded themselves as powerless to combat policies of the exchange's tight management with which they have disagreed. Recent events in the market and in Washington, however, have encouraged them to strike now in an attempt to unseat the management.

This conflict of opposing interests, it was learned, is the real story behind the statement issued Tuesday night by Chairman William O. Douglas of the Securities and Exchange commission in Washington. Douglas sharply criticized the practices of the "professional crowd" of specialists and floor traders and announced that as a result of an impasse between the SEC and the management of the exchange the SEC would cease waiting for the exchange to clean its own house and would do the job itself.

SEC Gets Its Excuse.

The split between the commission houses and the professional group comes as manna from heaven for Douglas and his associates on the Securities and Exchange commission. For weeks they have been looking for an excuse for their failure to prevent the big break in stock prices which has been under way since last March and which has been particularly severe since the middle of August.

For weeks representatives of the New York Stock exchange management have been running down to Washington at the request of the SEC to collaborate with SEC officials in investigations of the cause of the market slump and studies of the delicate mechanism of stock trading. These studies in themselves have been tacit admission by the SEC bosses that they do not understand fully the intricate business of securities trading, and Chairman Douglas himself has admitted this to be a fact.

Lack of Harmony Disclosed.

The prowling process, however, did disclose to the SEC the lack of harmony between the professionals and the commission houses and in the process of making this discovery the commission houses and the SEC found that they had a mutual interest in attempting to dislodge the clique that has been in control of the exchange for years.

Out of this discovery, it was learned, has sprung the scheme to have the SEC do for the commission houses what they have to date been unable to do for themselves because of the political setup in the exchange. The floor traders and specialists, according to the plan, are to be squelched and partners of the commission houses placed in control.

This is believed to explain the series of conferences at Hyde Park and Washington between President Roosevelt and Joseph P. Kennedy, chairman of the maritime commission and former chairman of the SEC, and Paul Shields, partner of Shields & Co., a leading commission house. While representatives of the exchange management were being quizzed by the SEC in Washington, Kennedy and Shields are reported to have been furnishing ammunition for a flank attack on the professionals.

Shields Offered SEC Post.

Shields, it was learned, was even offered one of the two vacancies on the Securities and Exchange commission, but declined to accept.

The battle on the stock exchange reopens the feud which flared into the open two years ago when the commission houses which handle a large volume of business for the public, aided in the election of Charles R. Gay as president of the exchange against Richard Whitney, who, with the backing of the old guard of professional interests, had held the presidency for several years. At that time Gay was regarded as a representative of the commission houses, but since then there has been growing feeling against Gay by some of the groups that helped place him in office.

A preview of what may be in store for the exchange if the commission house interests succeed was contained

Stocks, Bonds

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 24.—Stock prices sank fractions to three points today in a quiet preholiday session. The turnover was only 987,240 shares, compared with 1,640,000 on the preceding day. Most of the activity was attributed to evening-up transactions.

After opening irregularly lower, selling in the leaders pointed the entire list downward. However, the liquidation soon eased and from then on movements were irregular. Trade news continued a depressing influence.

Motors and steels came in for the bulk of attention today. General Motors and Chrysler were in constant supply and dropped 1¼ and 2⅜ points, respectively. U. S. Steel common, Bethlehem, and Republic were in the forefront of the steel group, with losses ranging from ½ to 2 points.

Rails eased fractions for the most part, with interest at a minimum. Public utility shares were subjected to moderate pressure.

Fractional declines predominated in the oil, copper, merchandising, and aviation groups. In the chemicals, du Pont fell below the 100 mark on a drop of 3⅝ points.

Many observers said they did not regard the statement by Chairman Douglas of the securities commission, warning exchanges to reorganize themselves or be subjected to further federal regulation, an important market factor.

New York Bonds.

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Most corporate bonds sold lower today. Half hearted support in late trading failed to stem the tide as traders studied none too cheerful business news. United States government loans were irregular, but little changed.

Wider losers included Armour 4s at 79¼, off 3¼; Cuba Northern Railways 5½s at 37, off 1½; International Hydro-Electric 6s at 62½, off 1½; International Paper 5s at 92½, off 3; New Haven 6s at 35, off 2½, and Western Union 5s at 68, off 1¾.

Foreign dollar loans were narrow and inactive. Abitibi Power and Paper 5s dropped 2½ to 56, and Argentine 4s dipped 1⅛ to 81½.

Turnover for all bonds totaled $7,906,000, face amount, compared with $8,836,400 Tuesday.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks drifted slightly lower yesterday in a dull trading session. Price movements were narrow and only 31,000 shares changed hands. Of 94 issues traded 21 advanced, 40 declined, and 33 were unchanged.

The most active stock was Chicago corporation common, which regained the ⅛ of a point it lost Tuesday to close at 2¼ after 3,450 shares had changed hands.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago bank stocks were quiet yesterday. First National shares were quoted $2 lower, and Continental Illinois $3.50 to $4 lower by various dealers. Others were unchanged from Tuesday's prices.

Last Will and Testament—2.

There are two general types of wills, one providing for outright distribution of an estate, and the second providing for deferred distribution of a part or all of an estate. An executor administers the first type of will; an executor and trustee the second.

An executor serves only long enough to carry out the provisions of the will through legal processes and turn the estate over to the beneficiaries as provided in the will. A trustee receives from the executor that portion of the estate which is not disposed of immediately and manages it until such time as the will directs for final distribution. The same persons or institution can act as both trustee and executor.

The executor pays all taxes or claims against the estate, sells or liquidates holdings as the will directs, distributes the property, and, when all provisions of the will have been carried out, makes a final report to the court. Powers of the trustee and executor are limited by laws which vary in the several states.

COTTON

Firmness in Liverpool and trade buying more than offset scattered hedging sales of cotton futures yesterday. The aggregate business was light, with operators both here and abroad disposed to go slow pending further developments in proposed farm legislation at Washington.

Closing trades on cotton futures on the Chicago Board of Trade were .05 cent higher to .02 cent lower. Other markets were .05 cent higher to .02 cent a pound lower.

There has been a letup in spreading operations between the New York and Bombay, India, markets of late and the difference in price between the two markets was only .12 cent yesterday compared with a premium of .30 cent a pound a week ago.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to .05 cent higher, with New Orleans and New York 8.05 cents, Houston 7.75 cents, and Galveston at 7.70 cents a pound. Prices, in cents per pound, follow:

Commodities

An irregular price trend developed yesterday in the principal commodity markets. The index of commodity futures prices, compiled by Dow, Jones & Co., declined 0.32 to 52.03. The Associated Press index of cash commodity prices, based on 1926 average prices as 100, advanced to 76.12 from the preceding day's level of 76.02.

The recent weakening in the metal markets was reflected in announcement by scrap dealers in Pittsburgh that the nominal price on No. 1 heavy melting steel scrap had been reduced 50 cents a ton to $13 to $13.50.

Chicago dealers reported that No. 1 scrap is nominally quoted here at $11.50, no change having been made recently. The present price differential between Chicago and Pittsburgh is a normal one, dealers said.

Hide prices fell 0.25 to 0.30 of a cent yesterday in the New York futures market, the December delivery closing at 7.82 cents a pound. Rubber futures advanced 0.14 to 0.24 of a cent. Crude rubber for November delivery closed at 14.60 cents a pound.

The bureau of labor statistics index of wholesale commodity prices declined 4-10 of 1 per cent during the week ended Nov. 20 to the low point of the year. The index now stands at 82.9 per cent of the 1926 average. This represents a decrease of 6 1-10 per cent from the high point of April 3.

Copper prices were steady following the reduction in the domestic price from 11 cents to 10.75 on Tuesday. Tin was quoted for nearby delivery at 41.875 cents a pound against 41.50 cents on the preceding day.

GRAIN PRICES RANGE LOWER IN DULL TRADE

But Late Rally Wipes Out Most of Losses.

CHICAGO GRAIN FUTURES

	Yesterday.	Tues.	Yr. ago.
Wheat	$ .89¼	$ .89½	$1.15⅝
Corn	.56½	.57	.99⅝
Oats	.29⅞	.29¾	.44½
Rye	.67½	.67½	.91¼
Soy beans	.94¼	.93¾	1.32¾

Weakness in security markets was reflected yesterday in a lower range of grain prices. Trading, however, was restricted, and a short covering movement which came in the last few minutes of the session to even up for the Thanksgiving holiday wiped out most of the loss. Closing trades on wheat were ¼ cent lower to ⅝ cent a bushel higher, the latter on July. Price changes in corn and other grains were largely confined to small fractions of a cent a bushel.

Action of the grain markets was regarded as typical of pre-holiday affairs with little attention paid to routine developments. Winnipeg closed 1 cent lower to ⅜ cents lower, the former on November despite estimates that Canada had only 47,000,000 bushels of wheat remaining for export.

Flour Demand Lags.

Reports from all sections of the country yesterday indicated a slow demand for flour, business being restricted by the erratic price fluctuations and fears of a processing tax being levied in connection with proposed farm legislation.

Liverpool wheat futures closed at the high point of the day with net gains of 1 to 1⅛ cents a bushel, firmness in English security markets being a factor. There was no demand for American hard winter wheats, while sales of Manitobas were estimated at 250,000 bushels.

Country Offerings Small.

Corn futures held within narrow price limits with spreading furnishing a good part of the trade. Country offerings of corn for deferred shipment were again small and the basis in the spot market was firm.

The winter wheat crop is in fair to good condition except in parts of Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas, where additional moisture is needed, the weather bureau reported yesterday. Subsoil moisture reserves continue short over the larger part of Kansas, it said. Husking of corn has made fairly good progress except where delayed by recent snow and rain.

Saks-Fifth Avenue to Open Beverly Hills, Cal., Branch

Saks-Fifth Avenue will establish a $500,000 branch shop at Beverly Hills, Cal., Adam L. Gimbel, president, announced yesterday. Building plans have been completed and construction is to begin soon. A branch store was opened recently in Greenwich, Conn.

Columbus Venetian Stevens Bldg.

Investors' Guide: I am holding a bond of Stevens Brothers' building. Please give me some information.—Miss A. M. G.

Answer: Columbus Venetian Stevens Buildings, Inc., Chicago, was formed in a reorganization of the Stevens Brothers corporation, which was placed in effect Sept. 1, 1936. Confirmed under provisions of the federal bankruptcy laws, the reorganization is binding on all security holders.

The new company has capitalization of $7,470,400 of first mortgage income bonds and 58,057 shares of stock deposited in a voting trust. All new bonds and 64.3 per cent of stock went to holders of old first mortgage bonds, who received $800 of new bonds and four shares of stock for each $1,000 of old bonds and unpaid interest since 1932. Twelve shares of stock were issued for each $1,000 of old series B mortgage bonds. Old stockholders received 12 per cent of new stock.

Interest up to 5 per cent annually is payable on the new bonds to the extent earned. Unpaid interest is not cumulative prior to Sept. 1, 1940. No interest can be paid unless working capital [current assets minus current liabilities] exceeds $100,000.

Current assets amounted to $337,000 and current liabilities, including accrued taxes, totaled $386,000 on June 30, 1937. Respective figures were $230,000 and $338,000 on Dec. 31, 1936.

Total income was $692,000 and net before depreciation was $118,000 in the ten months ended June 30, 1937. Out of this the company set aside $101,000 toward establishment of the required $100,000 working fund.

Total income was $785,000 and net, before depreciation and $151,000 reorganization expense, was $157,000 in 1936, compared with $752,000 and $158,000, respectively, in 1935.

Property of the corporation consists of three downtown Chicago buildings and part of the land on which they stand, together with leases on the rest of the land. The buildings are the fourteen story Columbus Memorial building at the southeast corner of State and Washington street, the thirteen story Venetian building, 15 East Washington street, and the nineteen story Stevens building, 17 North State street.

STOCK EXCHANGE IS SPLIT IN WAR OVER CONTROL

Explains SEC's Decision to Clean House.

in Chairman Douglas' statement Tuesday night.

The plan he proposed included the following points:

1. Strict punishment of members guilty of unethical or illegal activities.
2. Transfer of exchange management from committees of exchange members to paid and impartial experts.
3. Reduction in the number of exchange members.
4. Regulations to give full or adequate market effect to the transactions of small investors in odd lot, or less than 100 shares trading.
5. Restrictions on floor trading of members and specialists.

Object to Specialists' "Cut."

The proposed reduction in the number of members, it is believed, would hit particularly at the professionals. One source of irritation for the commission houses has been the fact that those which do not have their own representatives on the floor of the stock exchange have been required to pay professional floor traders 15 per cent of their commissions.

"All those fellows do," said the Chicago partner of one commission house yesterday, "is fill orders. We are the ones who go out and develop business and who have all the overhead. Those fellows are little more than order clerks and yet they run the show."

Short selling has been another sore spot. Representing as they do hundreds of thousands of investors and small traders who are almost all on the "long" side of the market, the commission houses resent the professional short selling on the floor of the exchange, particularly when it comes in extraordinarily large volume.

Makes Strange Bedfellows.

Most of the partners of the commission houses are believed to agree with the recent statement of President Gay charging the current slump in the market to Washington discouragements and restrictions imposed by the Securities and Exchange commission, but in the particular matter of shaking up the management of the exchange they have found a temporary community of interest with Douglas and his associates on the securities commission.

Douglas' flat statement that the SEC proposes to force the changes in practice that he mentioned indicates that the commission houses will be able to effect the revolution of exchange methods and toss out the ruling clique.

FRISCO RAILROAD REORGANIZATION PLAN IS FILED

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 24.—(AP)—A plan of reorganization for the St. Louis-San Francisco [Frisco] railroad, which would scale down fixed interest charges from nearly $13,000,000 to $3,956,000 a year, was filed by the board of directors today in United States District court.

In exchange for existing bonds, stocks, and bank loans which make up the railroad's capitalization of $405,598,400, the reorganization contemplates new issues of stocks and bonds which would reduce obligations to $388,914,200. Of this debt, only $102,416,200 would require fixed interest payments. Interest and dividends on the remainder would be contingent on earnings.

There would be three classes of stock, each with equal voting rights —504,878 shares of 5 per cent prior preferred, of 294,944 shares of 5 per cent second preferred, and 1,452,062 shares of common.

A CORRECTION.
On several recent days we advertised a 1936 Dodge trunk sedan, with radio and heater at $395.
The price was inaccurate as the car was available at this figure only if the customer would also pay for substantial repairs in our shop.
We regret this error and pledge it will not return.

BRITAIN'S ILLS IN HOLY LAND LAID TO ITALY

Arabs Themselves Want No More Trouble.

[Copyright: 1937: By the New York Times.]

JERUSALEM, Nov. 24. — Unless there is an end of Britain's strained relations with Italy, who has been trying to cultivate Arab friendship since her conquest of Ethiopia, it is doubtful whether peace will be restored in Palestine. Visits to Arab centers and talks with their inhabitants reveal that the present troubles are caused by outsiders.

"We've suffered enough and we don't wish to have any more trouble," was the unanimous cry of farmers and village elders in Arab villages.

"May Allah curse them and cut off the lives of those intruders who are disturbing our existence," is the cry of urban Arab business men whose economic situation is desperate as a result of continuous troubles.

Trouble Makers in Trouble.

Unlike last year's disturbances, when Arab rebels in the hills received supplies of food, water, and even ammunition from the Arab villages, today a handful of Syrian mercenaries and terrorists who, beyond all doubt, are solely responsible for the present troubles and who have been smuggled into the country and financed by a mysterious source, not only receive no assistance from the farmers, but actually have been told to leave some districts and in some cases have been driven out.

Another proof that the present terroristic movement does not originate locally is the attitude of the Arab press, which is now refraining from extreme nationalistic articles justifying violence, and for the first time in the history of the Palestinian Arab national movement is condemning terrorism. Much to every one's surprise, the Arab dailies, which for years have heralded the most extreme nationalism, this week published the conspicuous manifestoes of the Arab and Jewish councilors of the Jerusalem municipality appealing to the public for peace.

A recent pamphlet violently attacking Great Britain, that cites Moslem religious phrases with the object of inciting Arab farmers to a holy war against Britain, is also not a local product, but is printed in Egypt, where "mysterious" foreign agents are very active. Although the pamphlet had not the slightest effect upon Arabs here, it is sufficient proof that certain sources are working energetically and spending large sums of money to annoy Britain. Palestine provides the most fertile field for their activities.

Extended to Jews.

Recently these activities were extended to a section of the Jews in Palestine. Jewish agitation in recent weeks is alleged to have been the work of Zionist revisionists who are known for their Fascist sympathies. Their retaliatory acts were committed in spite of the strongest appeals from Jewish leaders to abstain from violence.

Experienced observers familiar with conditions in Palestine are convinced that there is not the slightest chance of an Arab revolution or rebellion and that on the contrary, no one is more eager for peace than the Palestinian Arabs themselves.

But it is now freely asserted that trouble is the work of Italy, fishing in troubled waters to irritate Britain.

MARINES TO FLY IN ALL-AMERICAN MANEUVERS DEC. 2

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Navy Swanson announced today that three aircraft squadrons of the fleet marine force, based at Quantico, Va., will participate in the all-American air maneuvers which will be held at Miami, Fla., on Dec. 2, 3, 4, and 5, 1937.

The squadrons authorized to participate are fighting squadron 1 [VMF-1], scouting squadron 1 [VMS-1], and bombing squadron 1 [VMB-1] and will be composed of 42 planes. In addition utility squadron 1 [VMJ-1], 10 planes, will fly to Miami to transport members of the staf and mechanics of the participating squadrons' planes.

Under the command of Col. Roy S. Geiger, U. S. marine corps, the squadrons will demonstrate various phases of formation flying, give bombing and tactical maneuvers, but will not participate in any of the racing events.

Co-operate in Correction of Stream Pollution

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Voluntary correction of stream pollution by offending industries is rapidly gaining ground, the United States bureau of fisheries reported today. Extensive scientific studies of pollution have convinced the bureau that most cases of stream pollution can be remedied with a moderate expenditure, especially if the coöperation of the officials of industrial plants is enlisted.

Roosevelt Pledges More Apples from His Farm

New York, Nov. 24.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt has pledged himself to grow at least 250 bushels of apples on his estate at Hyde Park, N. Y. That was announced this week by the New York and New England Apple institute. The President, in joining that institute, according to the announcement, promised to give more time to his farm.

Dionnes Reherse Opening Scene of Turkey for Five

[World Copyright: 1937: By NEA Service, Inc.]

A turkey is a mighty suspicious bird at this season, and you can hardly blame this specimen for suspecting foul play. Judging from the grip Emilie has taken his worst fears are to be realized.

THANKSGIVING STILL RANKS HIGH AS RELIGIOUS DAY

Change in Methods of Worship Pointed Out.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Despite the claim that Thanksgiving day has lost most of its religious meaning during recent years, church leaders arise to support its essential religious significance even though churches are not so full today as they used to be on Thanksgiving.

John D. Allen, chairman of the Episcopal Church Club of Chicago, declared that because modern folk do not follow the exact patterns of religious observance of their fathers, it is no proof at all that worship is really running second to the Thanksgiving turkey and pumpkin pie. He referred to Puritan fathers who shouldered their guns and plodded off to Thanksgiving services [as famed pictures show].

Weapons Unnecessary Now.

"The fact that we no longer sling a rifle over our shoulders and pack the family off to church afoot on Thanksgiving morning is no proof that this festive day is not as important religiously as it formerly was," said Mr. Allen. "Today culture, social organization, and police combine to make the carrying of personal weapons unnecessary among decent folk. Electricity, steam, and gasoline power have replaced footpower.

"Radio receivers and newspapers bring Thanksgiving messages to millions. People used to go to church to get the news. They don't have to do that any more. The radio and the press as well as the church now help to preserve the spirit of Thanksgiving. Most men are consciously thankful for what they have received."

Bishop Speaks of Thanksgiving.

"We respond as a nation at Thanksgiving to the call of civil authority to act like thankful human beings who, entering the dark season of the year, lift high our cup and drink like gentlemen a toast to God, to the lord and giver of life and health and strength and comradeship.

"Thanksgiving is a good thing because it indicates a noble nature. Nobility is the quality in us that responds. In metal it is called resilience. If you strike a pile of putty with a hammer there is no rebound. If you strike an anvil it rings with a song.

"Thanksgiving is what we call in music, tone; in flowers, fragrance. In human beings we call it gratitude."

Conference Is Called on Better Care for Mothers

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Katherine F. Lenroot, chief of the children's bureau, United States department of labor, today announced that at the request of various professional groups and national organizations interested in maternal and infant health and welfare, the children's bureau is calling a conference on better care for mothers and babies to be held in Washington, Jan. 17 and 18, 1938.

LABOR COLLEGE CLOSED; LACK OF FUNDS BLAMED

Several of Its 'Grads' in C. I. O. Strikes.

New York, Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Brookwood Labor college in Katonah, N. Y., where potential union leaders were trained in the midst of wealthy Westchester county, has been closed for good. That has just been learned.

Julius Hochman, vice president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers union, who is chairman of the college's board of directors, confirmed the report that the institution ceased to function at the beginning of October, when the term was to begin.

Several of its graduates have figured prominently in recent C. I. O. strike disorders in the middlewest and elsewhere.

Blame Lack of Funds.

Lack of funds was given in responsible quarters as the reason for abandoning the fifty-three acres of wooded hillside, the attractive colonial building, dormitories, and cabins where the country's first resident labor college was started in 1921. Well to do friends of the project had given most of the money for upkeep, one woman contributing a woman's dormitory. These contributors had stopped or had reduced their gifts, it was disclosed.

Labor unions have contributed chiefly in the form of scholarships. Earlier this year it was proposed that the Garment workers' union take the place over, but the suggestion was not followed. Mr. Hochman would not say what disposition would be made of the property or whether the college ought to move to the city, where upkeep might be less expensive, but said he would make a statement soon.

Others on Committee.

On the liquidation committee with him are Roger N. Baldwin, director of the American Civil Liberties union; Mr. Baldwin's wife, Evelyn Preston; Prof. Eduard C. Lindeman, director of the New York School of Social work; Fannia M. Cohn and Abraham M. Mustee, former executive director.

Brookwood college, which graduated nineteen students last March and once as many as fifty, has experienced previous storms, but weathered them. In 1929 it lost the support of the American Federation of Labor, which charged it with "communistic" teachings. However, the communists attacked it, too, as "namby-pamby," and Dr. Arthur W. Calhoun was dismissed in 1929 for alleged communistic leanings.

Mr. Mustee Resigns.

Mr. Mustee resigned in 1933 when the directors put pressure on him to drop outside activity in the Conference for Progressive labor action. Nineteen of the twenty-eight students who were enrolled at the time and six teachers and administrative officers walked out with him.

The college recovered so well that Tucker H. Smith, the new director, described it a year ago at a mass meeting here as an "established fact, with its feet on the ground and its eyes on the goal."

ISSUES SUGGESTIONS TO PERSONS WHO PAY THEIR TAXES BY MAIL

County Treasurer Horace G. Lindheimer has issued a list of suggestions to persons who wish to pay their tax instalments my mail and thus avoid the crowds that besiege the treasurer's office as the Dec. 1 deadline approaches.

Checks, he said, should be made out to him as "county collector," and not as "county treasurer." If the latter designation is used the checks have to be returned to the sender. Mr. Lindheimer also said that checks must be accompanied by proper legal descriptions of the property.

Persons who are paying past due taxes at this time should see that the penalties are figured correctly. To aid them Mr. Lindheimer has prepared a table of penalties on taxes due since 1928 and up to the due date of the first half of the 1936 taxes.

PARK ART CLUBS UNCOVER HIDDEN PAINTING TALENT

8,000 of All Occupations Attend Free Classes.

More than eight thousand Chicagoans, including housewives, doctors, lawyers, truck drivers, janitors, and persons of many other occupations who never studied art until this year, are learning to paint in Chicago park art clubs, according to George T. Donoghue, Chicago park district general superintendent.

The art clubs, so named by James E. McBurney, who heads that department, because he thinks the word classes is too formal, are conducted in sixteen small parks. The three largest clubs are at Hamilton, Town Hall, and Garfield parks. All are open to any one from 12 years of age up, according to Mr. McBurney, and all are free.

Many Discover Talent.

"We believe that a person doesn't have to be born an artist to be able to paint good pictures," said Mr. McBurney. "With training, any normal person can paint. After attending our classes many discover a talent they didn't know they had."

Al May, director of the art club at Independence park, said that one of his most promising artists is a truck driver, Frank Lambert, 3740 North Harding avenue, who is obtaining a job as a commercial designer because of the art work he has learned at the park.

Spring Exhibit Planned.

Mr. May said many women members are married and consider the art activity comparable to the work of a woman's club. He said several are business women who come to the art club to combine relaxation and education.

Mr. McBurney plans a city-wide park district art club exhibit in the spring. "We may even rival the show at the Art institute," he said.

ANNUAL BOOK FAIR WILL OPEN DEC. 2 ON N. U. CHICAGO CAMPUS

A booklovers' paradise will be created when the annual Book Fair for the benefit of Northwestern university's medical school clinics is held on the institution's Chicago campus Dec. 2, 3, and 4.

Rare prints, first editions, costly bindings, manuscripts, and numerous prized volumes will be exhibited in the Law School building. Prominent authors will lecture and a book auction will be held on the fair's final day.

The three day event will end with a book ball at the Knickerbocker hotel, at which all guests will be required to wear costumes depicting literary characters.

FARMER MISSING EXACTLY AS KIN WAS YEARS AGO

Spirit Falls, Wis., Nov. 24.—Rudolph Ott, 72 years old, wealthy farmer, walked off into the woods two months ago and never returned.

Posses beat through the underbrush for days, but found no trace of the missing farmer.

Authorities recalled that it was just seventeen years ago that Ott's brother-in-law, Oscar Frederickson, walked off into the same woods never to return. No trace ever was found of him.

Sherif Elmer Krueger, who directed the search for Ott, said he was certain of only one thing—that Ott's body is not in the woods.

Krueger said it had been established that Ott carried only a few coins with him when he disappeared.

COUNCIL RULE BY DEMOCRATS TAMMANY HOPE

May Block La Guardia; Keep Old Jobs.

New York, Nov. 24.—[Special.]—The city Democrats are coming out of the gloom of the recent election defeat as it begins to appear on the basis of the slowly accumulating counting that they may control the new city council which succeeds the board of aldermen on Jan. 1. They possibly may be in a position to block the plan of Mayor La Guardia and the fusion administration to eliminate county offices.

Several hundred Democratic jobs are at stake, depending on control of the new legislative branch of the city government elected by the proportional representation system.

Plans to Consolidate.

Under the referendum on that subject and the charter provisions, the intention of the mayor has been to consolidate departments by the elimination of the county posts of sherif, register, county clerk, and public administrator, and to revamp other borough offices, stripping the organization of patronage.

The incomplete count tends to indicate that the Democrats may elect fourteen of the twenty-six councilmen. The other twelve are scattered among six groups, including five American Laborites, two Republicans, two Non-Partisans, one Communist, one Fusionist, and one Independent.

Minorities May Help.

Even if the final tally fails to give the Democrats a straight majority, it still will be possible, and quite probable, that they will control the council as the split minority groups hardly can be expected to stand together long. There are two or three of the minority members who are believed likely to tie up with the Democrats as offering the best advantage for the long pull.

Tammany with its patronage cupboard bare and facing three years of starvation rations from the federal government, sees this situation as a lifesaver. The Manhattan organization lost the offices of borough president and district attorney which had supplied its main source of sustenance for the last four years.

The outlook until now has been that the offices of sherif and register and the other county jobs would go into the discard, leaving the organization practically destitute except for its judicial hold-over posts.

La Guardia's Program.

On the other hand, should the La Guardia-Fusion combination win control of the city council, it is accepted as a foregone conclusion that the county offices will be absorbed. The mayor's proposal has been that the sherif should go into the department of correction.

The Sullivan-Lyons bills, providing for county and departmental reorganization, have been before the board of aldermen, following the adoption of the referendum calling for revision of the machinery of the borough and county administrations. The aldermen have kicked the measures around on the long chance that something might happen to thwart the plan to dump those ancient and politically important posts.

Now the bills go into the new council, where if Democrats control they probably will find a permanent resting place in an obscure pigeon hole. It is recalled that the referendum was permissive, so the Democrats would be within their constitutional rights to balk reorganization.

Hawaiian Sportsmen to Use Bows on Wild Pigs

HONOLULU, Nov. 24.—Sportsmen here have decided to go native in the hunting of wild pigs hereafter. They will use only bows and arrows. The deep valley near the government reservation where federal restrictions have prevented hunting for a number of years past, has become so infested with wild pigs that the bow and arrow experts will make their first assault there.

ADDAMS HOUSES FAMILIES TO BE SELECTED DEC. 1

Board Is Named to Review Tenant Selection.

BY AL CHASE.

Selection of the 304 families who will qualify for residence in the Jane Addams houses, federal housing project at Gilpin place and Sibley street, completed Nov. 3, will be finished by Dec. 1, according to John Fugard, chairman of the Chicago housing authority. On that date the local authority will take over the actual management of the three federal housing projects in Chicago.

While the present federal staf, which has been conducting an investigation of the several thousand applicants for homes, is finishing its work, a new group of Chicagoans, named yesterday by Fugard, will review the work already done. This board of review comprises six women. Ferd Kramer of Draper & Kramer, realtors, is chairman.

Staf Will Continue.

The women members are: Miss Charlotte Carr of Hull house; Miss Florence Nesbit of the United Charities; Miss Helen Wright, University of Chicago school of social service administration; Miss Lea Taylor, Chicago Commons; Mrs. Jennie Zetland, assistant director of Jewish Social Service bureau, and Mrs. Helen Hohman of Northwestern university.

Fugard announced yesterday that the entire staf of local workers who started as employés of the housing division of the Public Works administration, and who recently automatically became employés of the new United States housing authority, are to continue to operate as an organization under the supervision of the Chicago housing authority.

Sherman Aldrich, manager of the three housing projects, yesterday said that the north half of the Julia Lathrop homes, at Diversey parkway and the river, probably would be ready for occupancy about Dec. 15. Trumbull Park homes, in South Chicago, also will be ready early in December, he said.

One hundred and sixty more units in the Jane Addams houses addition will be completed this week, it was stated, and the remainder will be ready during the latter part of December and in January.

Fugard yesterday said that it had been estimated that the annual rent roll of the three projects, based on a 95 per cent occupancy, would be $748,155. Of this amount $107,835 has to be paid to the United States housing authority as the annual rent charged the Chicago housing authority, and $39,731 will be given the city as an annual service charge in lieu of taxes. It has been estimated that the 160 employés on the United States housing authority staf in Chicago who, after Dec. 1 will be on the pay rolls of the Chicago housing authority, will cost approximately $200,000 annually.

This would make a total of about $450,000 annually in outlay by the local housing authority. Deducting this from the expected approximate $750,000 income would leave a balance of about $300,000. This cash, it was stated, would be forwarded to Washington.

Lynch Replies to Critics.

A reply to the criticism of realty men that the federal housing projects are competing with private enterprise was made yesterday by W. J. Lynch, building contractor and member of the Chicago housing authority.

"The rents are below what private industry can afford to make," he said. "Therefore they don't compete with buildings of the same character and will only affect families who live in substandard homes."

WOMEN DRIVERS FOUND IN MORE MINOR MISHAPS

UNIVERSITY, Ala., Nov. 24.—The belief that women are bad automobile drivers is not a myth after all.

A reliable study of the respective abilities of men and women as drivers shows that the latter have from two to three times as many accidents as the men, according to J. Stannard Baker of the National Safety council.

Baker is in charge of instruction at the southern trafic officers' training school at the University of Alabama.

Baker said figures from a survey made by Prof. M. S. Viteles of the University of Pennsylvania of men and women drivers in Philadelphia disclosed that, while women have more mishaps, men are involved in more fatal accidents.

The safest drivers are between the ages of 30 and 33, Baker said. A man does not really learn how to drive until at least ten years after he starts operating a car, he reported.

"Only 5 per cent of all accidents could be prevented if cars were perfect," Baker said. "Only 15 per cent could be prevented if highways were perfect."

CRA TO DISMISS 260 EMPLOYES TO CUT EXPENSES

Fund Shortage Forces Staf Reduction.

BY WILLIAM O'NEIL.

The Chicago Relief administration is planning to dismiss 260 of its 1,800 employés Dec. 1. One-half of these will be taken from the so-called professional staf, which does the work of keeping in touch with the reliefers, and the other half from the clerical staf.

"The staf reduction is necessary because of the state law which says that we cannot spend more than 8 per cent of our relief funds for administrative work," said Leo M. Lyons, head of the Chicago Relief administration [CRA]. "The shortage of funds which has existed since last September also cuts into the money that can be expended for administrative work."

Expect Million Shortage.

Estimates of the CRA needs for December have not been completed, but it is expected the city will be at least a half million dollars short of the money needed. The needs during recent months have been approximately $3,100,000 a month, but this figure will probably be increased because of fuel and clothing requirements during the colder months.

Downstate counties and townships are limited by state law to 5 per cent instead of 8 per cent of their total relief expenditures for administrative purposes. Nearly all of these administering bodies have exceeded this allowance for several months. In some cases the administration expense goes above 10 per cent.

Many relief administrators say they could make better use of relief money if permitted to spend more than they do for administration purposes. Social workers in Chicago insist they cannot do a good job when their staf is so limited that each worker must handle from 150 to 220 cases, or units receiving relief.

Average Near 8 Per Cent.

"On a year long basis we have come close to remaining within the 8 per cent limitation," Lyons asserted. "In some months we ran over, but in others we were enough under to balance."

The Illinois Emergency Relief commission distributes $2,900,000 of state money each month to local relief agencies on a basis proportional to the needs of the communities. The IERC, however, does not have power to force changes in administrative procedure beyond determing the legitimacy of the need of each community.

The commission has recognized that, in some instances at least, the inability of particular communities to stay within the legal administrative cost is unavoidable.

NEW LIGHTHOUSE TENDER IS GIVEN HER TRIAL TRIPS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—The trial trips of the new lighthouse tender Elm were held at Bay City, Mich., on Wednesday, Nov. 17. This vessel virtually has now been completed by her builders, the Defoe Boat and Motor Works of that city, according to an announcement made by the bureau of lighthouses, department of commerce.

The Elm is a twin screw Diesel lighthouse tender of steel construction, which will be used principally in the inside waters of the New Jersey coast. It is to replace the lighthouse tender Pine, a wooden vessel, the report stated.

The builders will make every effort to get her through the New York state barge canal before that waterway is closed by ice, according to the commerce department.

Remember, It's the Turkey, Not You, That's to Be Stuffed

One way to avoid that overstuffed Thanksgiving feeling is to avoid overeating at dinner time, but Dr. A. O. DeWeese, student health director at Kent [Ohio] university has another suggestion that will help. Instead of waiting until late in the day to have dinner, tell Uncle Joe and the other guests to get there early and serve the dinner at the regular time. "When people wait too long before satisfying their hunger they are bound to suffer from overeating," said Dr. DeWeese.

'TIME FALTERS' WHEN TWENTY SEAMEN IN FILM GO ON STRIKE

New York, Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Time marches on—but it faltered in its step for a little while in one of its most recent marches.

The makers of the movie version of "The March of Time" hired twenty members of the National Maritime union to portray Alaskan fishermen in scenes devoted to recent protests of the Alaskans that Japanese fishermen are invading their fishing grounds.

They offered to pay the seamen $2 each for a day's work. One of the bright young men in the group called the Screen Actors' guild and found out that the union rate for movie extras is $5.50 a day and the twenty seamen promptly went on strike in the studio.

After some delay the movie makers gave in and the movie making started. Later the directors of the piece bawled out one of the seamen who couldn't seem to understand what he was supposed to do. The leader of the group stepped forward.

"You can't talk to union actors that way," he said. "Quit riding this guy or there'll be no picture."

JUSTICE DEPT. FINDS PUZZLE IN OWN MOTTO

Translation and Origin Both in Dispute.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—In its own motto the department of justice has a puzzle almost one hundred years old. The motto has been the department's since the middle of the last century, but Attorney General Cummings, probably the outstanding Latin scholar in federal official life, won't attempt to trace its origin.

The Latin motto reads: "Qui pro domina justitia sequitor."

By a liberal translation, widely accepted, this would mean: "Who prosecutes on behalf of justice." The translation, which is disputed, does not ask a question, but propounds a statement, according to its followers.

Traced to Queen Elizabeth.

Scholars have traced one interpretation of the motto back to Queen Elizabeth, when punning was in flower. According to the story, Elizabeth was addressed by her attorney general as follows:

And, prompted to show off his knowledge of Latin, he delivered the last of the sentence in that tongue. Elizabeth, who loved a play on words almost as much as a bit of gallantry, shifted the phrase from "domina regina" ["our lady the queen"] to "domina justitia" ["our lady, justice"]. It is, one must admit, hardly worse than many such bon mots.

Pound Gives Explanation.

Roscoe Pound, respected dean emeritus of the Harvard law school, when confronted with the puzzle, said the motto was taken from the beginning of pleadings by English prosecutors, which were formerly given in Latin. He said it was the practice to begin such proceedings with "Now comes so and so, who prosecutes on behalf of our lord, the king." This, in the reign of Elizabeth, was shifted to "our lady, the queen," he said.

Mr. Pound's explanation seemed to clear up the matter of origin, but other authorities insist that "domina" means "the sovereign power" or "the people," and that "domina justitia" doesn't make sense. Most all agree that the motto, if not bad Latin, is certainly too wordy for the translation popularly ascribed.

Bee Hearing Scheduled for Dec. 6 at New Orleans

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—The agricultural adjustment administration announced today that a public hearing will be held at 9:30 a. m., on Dec. 6, 1937, in the Monteleone hotel, New Orleans, La., to consider a proposed marketing agreement and order for the regulation of interstate and foreign commerce in package honey bees and queen bees produced in the United States. The agreement and order would replace a marketing agreement program in effect since May, 1934.

TEACH MARRIAGE LAW'S VALUE, SAY FOES OF SYPHILIS

Education Is Sought to Make Plan Work.

Two leaders in the city's campaign against venereal disease yesterday emphasized the need of public education concerning the dangers of syphilis in order to make the operation of the Saltiel hygienic marriage law fully effective.

Dr. Rachelle Yarros, secretary of the Illinois Social Hygiene league and educational director in the campaign, and Miss Pearl Hart, attorney and law secretary on Mayor Kelly's anti-syphilis committee, joined in declaring the public was not sufficiently apprised of the need of such a law when it was passed last summer.

Physical Examination Required.

The law requires that a marriage license shall be issued only after a physician certifies that both principals are free of syphilis and gonorrhea within 15 days before their application.

Before the law took effect July 1 couples stormed the marriage license bureau in the county building, running the total number of licenses issued in June up to the all time high record of 9,925.

But in July the total number issued sank to 619, and Cook county marriage license figures during the months since July have remained from 30 to 50 per cent below average. This was blamed on fear of the cost of the examination and on reluctance to delay marriage to take the examinations.

Work Out Ways to Evade Law.

Two methods of evasion sprang up. The first was to patronize the marriage mills at Crown Point or at Valparaiso. This course was chosen despite the fact that marrying justices and clerks made the cost greater than that in Chicago, examinations included.

The second method is far less common but more insidious, according to marriage license bureau officials. An infected person disqualified for marriage by one physician may go to a less reputable one, willing to risk the penalty for a price, and obtain a clean bill of health. This is possible because the bureau has no record of persons contemplating marriage who have tried to qualify and failed. Physicians' certificate blanks issued by the bureau are returned only by couples who pass the tests.

Miss Hart declared that both types of evasion could be stopped by amendments to the law, although she doubted whether this step should be taken.

Education Is Task.

"Every one should have venereal disease examinations at frequent intervals," she said. "But one cannot make health measures compulsory and expect them to be generally obeyed until they are desired by the public. Our task is to create this desire."

"There is a lot of sentiment connected with marriage, and it should take place under the best possible health conditions," said Dr. Yarros. "Before that can apply to every one, however, people must learn to protect themselves and their children from venereal disease. Like prohibition, the marriage law came before public opinion was ready for it. We now must educate people to the value of obeying it."

NEBRASKANS MAY VOTE ON A STATE CHAIN STORE TAX

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Petitions for a chain store tax in Nebraska is being circulated in Omaha and elsewhere in the state in an effort to place the proposal on the next general election ballot.

Revenue from the tax would go to public schools, modeled after a Louisiana statute upheld by the United States Supreme court. The proposed law would provide taxes ranging from $3 to $550 annually per store, depending on the size of the chain.

Rufus FitzGerald Named Provost at Pittsburgh U.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Rufus H. FitzGerald, a graduate of Guilford college and the University of Tennessee, has been named provost of the University of Pittsburgh. The title provost, a new one at the university, replaces the title dean of administration, which position has been vacant for seven years. FitzGerald, for the last fourteen years at the University of Iowa, comes to the university Feb. 1.

MUSEUM EXHIBIT GOES TO 700,000 SCHOOL CHILDREN

Wednesday Marks 25th Year of Harris Foundation

The Field Museum of Natural History will observe next Wednesday the silver anniversary of its organized direct service to 700,000 children of the schools of Chicago.

It was 25 years ago that the late Norman Wait Harris, banker, endowed the museum with $250,000 to enable the institution to serve the city's schools. The foundation was called the N. W. Harris public school extension.

By means of traveling exhibition cases the Harris extension is in daily contact with every public elementary school in Chicago and with most of the high schools, parochial, practice, continuation, parental, private, and other types of school. More than 1,200 of the traveling exhibits have been prepared and placed in circulation.

Family Carries on Work.

The philanthropy of Mr. Harris is being carried on by his family. His son, Albert W. Harris, continues his father's interest in the Feild museum's educational work. A member of the museum's board of trustees and a vice president of the institution, he has made gifts totaling $199,000 in recent years. Other members of the Harris family have given $20,000.

The largest of the series of traveling exhibits is devoted to zoölogy and includes mammals, birds, insects, fishes, reptiles, and amphibians. In most of these the diorama method of exhibition is used, employing scenic backgrounds curved to proper perspective and foregrounds reproducing plants, rocks, water, sections of ground, and other features of habitat.

Another series of cases contains realistic reproductions of wild flowers and plants in natural settings. There are many cases showing steps in the preparation and manufacture of foods, clothing materials, glass, paper, chinaware, linoleum, and other industrial products. Some cases contain such things as models of prehistoric animals and miniature mines.

Stimulates Spirit of Inquiry.

This department provides instruction in pleasant form, Clifford C. Gregg, director of the museum, says, and creates appreciation of nature in a large number of children. It constantly enlarges the number of the museum's visitors and stimulates in them a spirit of inquiry and desire for the knowledge the museum can make available.

Adults have opportunities to examine the cases at various centers, such as social settlements, community clubs, Y. M. C. A.'s, Y. W. C. A.'s, and employés' organizations in industrial plants. Branches of the Chicago public library use the cases to stimulate interest in books on nature.

FOREIGN FIRMS' BOOKS MUST BE KEPT IN IRANIAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TEHERAN, Iran, Persia, Nov. 24.—The Iranian government recently ordered the offices of foreign banks, oil companies and commercial houses in this country to keep their books in the Iranian language. This order, when fully put into effect, not only will afford income tax control, but will assure jobs for many Iranians who know both their native tongue and a foreign language—in most cases English is required. The income tax now is 4 per cent.

American schools and colleges in north Iran have for some time had an increasing number of students who wish to know English in order to get one of the increasing number of jobs offered Iranians in foreign enterprises. English schools in the south also have many such students.

Responsible officials now will have to be familiar with the Iranian language to be fully informed about their records. Foreign firms are allowed to keep duplicate books in their language.

MAY-DECEMBER LOVE INTERESTS PSYCHOLOGISTS

LONDON, Nov. 24.—British psychologists and others are taking benevolent interest in the many recent cases of elderly clergymen marrying young women.

The latest case was that of the Rev. G. S. Stubbs, vicar of West Chinnock, Somerset, 60 years old, who announced his engagement to Miss Betty Fewings, 18, one of his parishioners.

Previously the Rev. B. Stewart Priston, 55, rector of Barton, near Ipswich, married Miss Hilda Hall, 17 year old chorus girl, and the Rev. Herbert T. Green, vicar of Meavy, Devon, 69, married Miss Olive Vanstone, 23.

"It is a normal thing for elderly people to surround themselves with younger companions," one Harley street psychologist said. "It is due to an instinct to fight the approach of old age. This is particularly strong in clergymen, who may also need a young partner to give practical help in parish work."

"I would venture a bet that most of the clergymen concerned were widowers," another said. "An elderly man needs companionship, and naturally turns to somebody much younger than himself, who can comfort—if you like, nurse—him in his old age. Having lost one wife, there would be a subconscious instinct to take the only possible precaution against being left alone in the world a second time."

Asked why the clergymen chose very young women rather than women in the 40s, both authorities could only suggest that younger women would be more attractive.

Discovers Third Form of Uranium

Pointing into the intricate "cloud chamber" at the University of Rochester, Prof. T. Russell Wilkins demonstrates apparatus with which he trapped the rare third form of the chemical element uranium with a camera for the first time in history. This form is known as actino-uranium. Smaller than rays of light, these tiny particles are invisible and can be detected only by paths they leave in the chamber. The cameras are shown above. Dean P. Crawford, one of Prof. Russell's associates, is at the left. [Acme Photo.]

SLUMP DOESN'T BOTHER WALL ST. BUT WIDGETS DO

Disappear; Come Back from Strange Places.

New York, Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Wall street admittedly is jittery. But it isn't the business recession; it isn't the high taxes; it isn't the Roosevelt administration's new legislative program.

One Used for Every Trade.

They are about three inches long and one inch in diamter, the most numerous gadget in the life of finance, having to do with every trade in listed stocks or bonds, though wholly unimposing and inconsequential so long as they keep to their appointed service.

But they have been disappearing—by thousands—and under mysterious circumstances. Exchange officials for months have had under way an investigation into these disappearances, but thus far it only has intensified the mystery.

One was mailed back to the exchange from St. Louis the other day. Inside it was a note penciled by the mailer saying it had been found floating in the Mississippi river.

Come from All Corners.

Another was mailed back from Boston with a note saying it had been found under a table at a night club there. Nearly every day, two or three are returned to the exchange by mail, and—to quote an exchange official—"they come from the damndest places."

Statisticians have been told to examine sweepings from the exchange floor after the trading day ends. But still that leaves an unexplained disappearance of about 3,000 widgets a month, according to reliable authority.

SOVIET RESORT'S AROMATIC BATHS IN OIL POPULAR

BAKU, U. S. S. R., Nov. 24.—Garan, a small station in Azerbaidjan, is becoming a popular health resort. It is believed to be the only place in the world where a peculiar kind of oil, naphthalan, is applied as a cure.

This dark-brown, oily, viscous liquid contains neither benzine, kerosene, paraffin, nor water. It has a peculiar aromatic scent which grows stronger when heated.

Naphthalan baths are used in the treatment of nervous, gynecologic and skin diseases. The effect of naphthalan is said to be stronger and more rapid than that of medicinal muds and the patients stand it much more easily.

The government has allotted 30,000,000 roubles for the development of the "Naphthalan" health resort under the third Five Year plan.

The naphthalan cure had been known from time immemorial. A few hundred years ago, patients from India, Arabia, Iran, and other distant countries used to take the cure. During the installation here of oil derricks there were found Hindu coins, household utensils and crockery, which, according to archeologists, date back 600 years.

E. H. Foley, PWA Counsel, Quits to Join Treasury

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Public Works Administrator Harold L. Ickes today announced "with regret" his acceptance of the resignation of Edward H. Foley Jr. as general counsel of the Public Works administration. Mr. Foley informed the administrator that the resignation was to permit acceptance of an appointment as assistant general counsel of the treasury department.

Defends Her Mural

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—The District of Columbia Artists' union, comprised of artists engaged on WPA art projects in Washington, today indorsed the proposal of Commissioner George Allen, "mayor" of the capital, to have a jury of art critics pass on the merits of the Mother Goose mural in the District Tuberculosis Sanitarium for Children at Glendale, Md.

District Health Officer George Ruhland ordered the mural effaced, calling it grotesque and unsuitable to the dignity of a public institution, but withheld his order to consider possible action for destroying federal property. The mural is the work of Miss Bernice Cross, who defended her painting before the artists' group today.

Now Miss Cross is engaged on another mural which she said she hopes will not be a center of controversy. She said the children in the sanitarium like the Mother Goose painting, which had been up for a year before it aroused criticism.

WPA LIBRARIES ARE CARRIED TO RURAL ILLINOIS

Free Facilities Installed in 171 Communities.

During the last year and a half free rural libraries averaging 1,000 volumes each have been installed in 171 Illinois communities which have lacked library facilities previously, according to Mrs. Mary Gillette Moon, director of the women's and professional division of the state Works Progress administration.

The libraries, which employ 376 persons and are located in 37 counties, are organized with a combination of local, state, and federal aid, she said.

WPA Employs Custodians.

To get a WPA library project a community must guarantee a satisfactory building or room and pay for heat and light. The state library extension division at Springfield supplies the first quota of books, the quantity depending on the size of the community, and the WPA employs a custodian.

Mrs. Moon said that, while the custodians are not trained librarians, many of them have gained enough experience on the projects to aid them in getting jobs in private or municipal libraries.

Some Towns Take Them Over.

"In several communities in the state the municipality has removed the library from WPA status and placed it on a direct tax financed method of operation," she said.

Two of the largest libraries organized under Mrs. Moon's direction are in Elmwood Park and Calumet City. She said that in some of the smaller communities the libraries are located in corners of country grocery stores.

MEXICAN LABOR CALLS BOYCOTT ON JAPS' GOODS

[Copyright: 1937: By the New York Times.]

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 24.—Mexican labor has decided to carry out a complete boycott on Japanese goods, the Mexican Labor News, organ of the dominant National Workers confederation announced today.

The step was taken, it was explained, "as a protest against Japan's invasion of China in defiance of international law and treaty obligations."

Coincidentally, the confederation has sent President Lazaro Cardenas a formal petition "asking the government to establish an embargo on the importation of Japanese goods into Mexico and on the export from this country of all raw materials destined for Japanese war industries."

Instructions on the boycott have been sent to all labor unions. At the same time the powerful maritime dockworkers unions have been ordered to refuse to load or unloan Japanese cargoes or shipments to Japan. This is likely to be as effective an embargo as the president could ordain, it is widely said here.

Meanwhile, in the first official labor comment on the British-Mexican oil deal, the Labor News says: "The news so far available has caused a distinctly unfavorable impression in labor circles, where it is felt that as a result of poor technical organization the government's oil conservation program is broken down and foreign help had to be called in again, thus further retarding the growth of the national petroleum administration."

GERMANY PUTS STREAMLINERS BACK ON RAILS

BERLIN, Nov. 24.—Germany's fast streamlined trains are back in service after a two weeks in the repair shops. Thorough inspection of the trains revealed that the strain of long trips at two miles a minute speed increased the strain on axles and bearings to a far greater extent than on ordinary trains.

Equipped with new axles, the trains are now running under close supervision to determine the exact amount of wear and tear incurred by their high speeds.

COUNTY WORRIES AS TAX PENALTY MINE RUNS OUT

Finds It Tough Problem to Balance Budget.

BY JOSEPH ATOR.

Pay ore in the tax penalty gold mine, which has yielded the county government nearly $38,000,000 in the last ten years, is beginning to thin out. As a result, the county is facing difficulty in balancing its 1938 budget, with the prospect of even harder financial sledding as penalty collections in future years drop to pre-depression levels.

Tax penalties have always been a sore point between the county and other local governments since, in the view of the latter, the county was fattening on their distress. Under the statutes, delinquent taxes accumulate penalties at the rate of 12 per cent a year.

County Gets the Gravy.

As tax delinquencies piled mountain high during the depression, other local governments had to finance their operations by the sale of tax warrants, on which they paid millions of dollars in interest. But when the back taxes were paid they got only the principal, while the county, in accordance with the statutes, kept all the penalties.

Efforts to amend the statutes and distribute penalties to all the local governments in proportion to their share of the collections were defeated. The county commissioners argued, rightly in view of their subsequent financial experience, that they would be unable to finance their budgets if they lost the full penalties.

Before the 1928 reassessment which started the financial troubles of Cook county governments, tax penalties were a minor item in the county budget. They amounted, at most, to a few hundreds of thousands of dollars yearly, and the county's activities were financed, roughly, two-thirds out of the general property tax and the remaining third out of fees collected by various county offices.

Average Seven Million a Year.

Penalty collections were not important during the depth of the depression, largely because the reassessment forced a two year tax vacation. They began to flow in in real volume in 1933, when the Home Owners' Loan corporation began paying up back taxes in connection with mortgage refinancing, and for the last five years they have averaged nearly $7,000,000 a year. Penalty collections since 1927, for the county fiscal year ending Nov. 30 have been as follows:

1928 ....$	760,648	1934 ....$	5,898,402

1931	802,225	1937, est.	7,000,000

One result of the county's penalty income has been that it has not had to ask the legislature for an increase in its tax rates, as most other local governments have, due to the steep decline of assessment rolls in the last six years.

Financing of 1938 Budget.

In contrast to its pre-depression budgets, the county's 1938 corporate [operating] budget will be financed less than 40 per cent out of its general property tax levy, about 20 per cent each from penalties and from county office fees, 3 per cent from state subventions and the remainder from a surplus derived from back tax and penalty collections this year.

Tax penalty collections in 1938 are estimated at only $4,000,000. Several factors influence county fiscal officers in making this estimate, modest in view of the $7,000,000 collected this year. One was the fact that more and more property owners are paying their taxes on time, and thus escaping penalties. Another factor was the recent information on uncollected taxes made available through the new land lot ledger system which has been installed in the county treasurer's office.

As a result of information gathered from the land lot ledger cards, Treasurer Horace G. Lindheimer recently wrote off more than $40,000,000 in real estate and railroad taxes which formerly had been carried on his books as uncollected.

Total Tax Cuts Figured.

Under former bookkeeping systems it was customary to subtract taxes actually collected from the original tax extensions. The remainder was the amount still presumably due. The land lot ledger made it possible to get a total of all of the tax cuts won in court and through action of assessment officials, amounting to $40,581,421 for the levies for 1934 and prior years.

Penalties did not accrue on personal property taxes before 1933, so the millions of dollars in personal property taxes for the previous years still carried as uncollected give the county no promise of revenue.

Less than 10 per cent of the real estate taxes for 1933 and prior years are still due and collectible, and this includes millions of dollars on wildcat subdivisions which it may take a decade or more to put back on the tax rolls. They are not worth paying taxes on at present. These earlier tax years furnished the cream of the penalties in the past, since it was on those bills that the penalties had piled the highest.

Budget Out of Balance.

Despite a 1937 surplus of $3,529,227, the county's 1938 budget is more than a million and a quarter dollars out of balance on the basis of present estimates. Next year, presumably, there will be no surplus, and with a further drop in 1939 penalty collections expected the county will face a financial crisis of the first water.

An increase of its tax rate, if penalty collections dropped to their pre-depression level, would give only partial relief. The state constitution limits county tax rates to 75 cents on each $100 assessed valuation. The county's 1936 rate, for all purposes, was 63 cents. Even if the legislature granted it an increase of the full difference of 12 cents it would collect less than $2,500,000 more in actual revenue.

HAZE ON CHICAGO SKY LINE IS LAID TO LOCOMOTIVES

26 Offending Stacks Are Reported.

Locomotives are contributing more than their share of black smoke to the haze on Chicago's skyline, Frank A. Chambers, city smoke inspector, said yesterday. The condition has improved over former years, however, because recent additions bring the diesel oilburning equipment of railroads here up to ninety-one, Chambers said.

In the first half of this month twenty-six locomotive stacks were reported smoking heavily by city inspectors. The Illinois Central headed the list with five offending stacks reported. The others were: Chicago and Great Western, four; Chicago Belt Line, four; Chicago and North Western, three; Pennsylvania, three; Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific, three; Baltimore and Ohio, two; Nickel Plate road, one, and New York Central, one.

Complain of Roundhouse.

Railroad roundhouses cause a disproportionate number of complaints, Chambers said, but may be excused because a collector stack usually emits the fumes from a number of locomotives. There were three complaints about the Baltimore and Ohio roundhouse at Lincoln and 14th streets within the last month.

"We believe locomotive smoke will be eliminated in a few years within the city on the basis of the increasing use of Diesel engines," the inspector said.

Buildings where two or more violations have been observed within the last month include the Congress hotel, apartments at 909 Foster avenue, and 4943 and 5009 Sheridan road, the laundry at 2163 North Clark street, the office building at 176 West Adams street, and the factory at 152-60 West Walton street.

Fewer Complaints in Winter.

Despite the heavy firing of stokers brought on by the colder weather there are fewer complaints at this time than during the summer. Mr. Chambers explained that windows are closed during the winter against smoke, whereas fumes are wafted indoors in warm weather.

A card index system will be installed soon in preparation for the city's first annual inspection of an estimated 50,000 fuel burning installations in the war against needless smoke. Buildings affected will be six flats or larger, as well as office and industrial structures.

Describing air pollution, Chambers cited figures received from a loop office building where electrical precipitation equipment has been installed to purify incoming air. In the first year of operation the device gathered 600 bushels of solid matter that otherwise would have circulated through the offices.

On the basis of a city analysis these solids were made up 36.85 per cent of ash, 22.88 per cent of carbon, 95 per cent of tar, and 39.32 per cent of sulphur-trioxide, chloride, and ammonia.

Dedicate New $100,000 Sherman Park Library

The new $100,000 Sherman park branch library at Racine avenue and Garfield boulevard, the first to be built since 1932, was dedicated Tuesday night by Mayor Edward J. Kelly and other officials of the city and park board. Joseph B. Fleming, president of the library board, presided.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TOUR FACTORIES, STORES, OFFICES

Trips Recognized as Part of Grade Study.

Visits to grocery stores, fire stations, postoffices and factories are a recognized part of the Chicago grade school courses. Miss Minnie E. Fallon, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of elementary schools, said yesterday. She was commenting on a recent announcement of the New York City board of education that an activity program, including tours of such establishments, was being introduced as an experiment in New York schools.

Miss Fallon said the activity system has been in actual use here since 1930 and has been under experiment for about 15 years. Under the Chicago system grade school children are taken on frequent tours of places related to their subjects. They are told before starting out what questions they should try to answer by means of observation and what problems will be discussed on returning to class rooms.

Set Up Model Businesses.

"After going to grocery and fruit stores and the postoffice, the children return to the class rooms and conduct model businesses of their own," Miss Fallon said. "There they handle empty cans and packages, sell goods, learn arithmetic by computing the sales, and learn geography by becoming familiar with the sources of different products.

"They write letters after visiting the postoffice, thus studying penmanship and English and exchange of letters through a system similiar to the one they observed in operation.

Activity Whets Interest.

"This method emphasizes activity on the part of the child. Actually seeing a streamlined train and the older locomotives at the 67th street station as one class did last week, whets the interest to a keener edge than does any other scheme."

Schedules for the field trips are supervised by school principals and the individual teacher is given considerable leeway in thinking up plans for her own class trips, Miss Fallon said.

GLAMOR GIRLS LOSING APPEAL TO VENUS TYPE

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 24. — The "glamour" girls who typify the present era of lipstick, rouge, and eye mascara are being replaced by the "Venus type" with strength and beauty enough to sway the affairs of a nation, according to Russell Mancuso, beauty instructor.

Mancuso predicted that women of the future will be altogether different and superior to men in strength.

"In fact, as a general rule, they are stronger now than men. Women nowadays have more time than men to seek the open air, the golf course, the swimming pool, and tennis court," he pointed out.

The fundamentals of beauty, according to Mancuso, are character, personality, and health.

"These days all women try to be beautiful," he said. "They've learned most of what there is to know about how to enhance appearance with colors. The next step in competition between women will be along health lines.

"Women will turn their attention from lipstick, rouge, and wardrobe details to more worldly affairs," he ventured. "You might say these future women will be the 'good sport' kind who admire other women for strength and noble deeds, like women did 'way back in the beginning of history."

"Breaking" of Tulips Traced to Disease

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24. — Department of Agriculture scientists, after 10 years research, have shown that the "breaking" of tulips, an age-old puzzle to tulip-growers, is caused by two virus infections, working against each other. Dr. Frank P. McWhorter suggests that gardeners will find it safe to avoid planting lilies that are perpetuated by bulb division among choice seedling lilies that are more likely to be free from infection.

CRIMINAL COURT JUDGES TIGHTEN ON PROBATIONS

Called Thing of Past in Serious Offenses.

The judges of the Criminal court under Chief Justice Cornelius J. Harrington, who took charge last Labor day, have practically put an end to probation for those charged with serious crimes. This was revealed in a report of the activities of the court made public yesterday by First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley.

During the months of September and October, since the new group of judges started to work in the Criminal court, only one probation has been granted in a robbery case where the defendant was armed with a revolver or a dangerous weapon. During that same period ninety-one robbers were sent to the penitentiary for terms of either 1 to 20 years or 1 year to life.

Convictions at High Rate.

The percentage of conviction for robbers is unusually high, the statistics reveal. The month of August showed a 100 per cent conviction record. Twenty-six were sent to the penitentiary, four to the Bridewell, and not one was acquitted of a robbery charge. During September the conviction percentage was 92, with twenty-two men going to the penitentiary.

The conviction percentage was raised to 93 for October, with sixty-nine robbers being sent to the penitentiary and five defendants being acquitted.

Sex crime offenders have found the judges as strict in that type of case as in robbery cases, the records show. During September and October only one sex offender was placed on probation and thirty-five were sentenced to the penitentiary.

Justice Speeded Up.

The administration of justice is being stepped up, Prosecutor Crowley announced. The docket contained only 156 untried indictments as of Nov. 15. Seven of every ten indictments returned by the grand jury are being disposed of in less than thirty days, he said, and if the average so far maintained during the past months keeps up the ratio will be greater. The statistics disclosed that so far 78 per cent of the October indictments have been disposed of with almost two weeks yet to go to boost the average even higher.

UM! PUPILS GET 1,060 GALLONS OF ICE CREAM DAILY

More than 37,000 pints of milk and 11,500 pounds of bread were fed to Chicago public school children yesterday in high school and elementary school lunchrooms, according to F. O. Washam, lunchroom director.

"Our daily average," he said, "includes 7,500 pounds of meat, 1,000 pounds of potatoes, 6,000 dozen rolls, 1,360 gallons of malted milk, 1,060 gallons of ice cream and 4,000 dozen ice cream bars and ice cream cups."

He said he also spends approximately $400 for fresh vegetables each day, in addition to canned vegetables.

Lunchrooms are maintained by the board of education on a non-profit basis, and what profits do accrue go back into improved kitchen and lunchroom equipment, according to Mr. Washam.

Since the lunchrooms were organized under a central head three years ago, $94,000 has been returned to the lunchrooms in the form of new equipment. Mr. Washam said that when improvements are completed on six high schools all lunchroom equipment will be up to standard.

"Rehabilitation of this sort could not be done under the old system, where each lunchroom was separately controlled," Mr. Washam said.

"We will spend almost $10,000 improving the Tuley and McKinley High school lunchrooms during the Christmas vacation and neither of those restaurants could afford improvements if they were on their own."

FIND HOBO SIGNS ARE STILL READ BY REAL BUMS

The same train through Abilene for years has each day carried several weary gentlemen across the western plains of Texas.

Texas and Pacific officials decided to tighten up. The train was "shook down" in Abilene and thirteen of the seventeen men and boys arrested traded their rocking seat for a pick and shovel on the county's chain gang.

The word got out. The next day, hoboes must have been obeying a detour sign. For the first time in years, not a single nonpaying rider passed through Abilene.

Bearded Men Warned Gas Masks Won't Fit

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Every householder in England soon will receive a booklet explaining the perils of gas attacks and describing the precautions which should be taken in the event of an air raid. Eventually it is hoped that every man, woman, and child in the country will have a gas mask. Millions have been produced already, millions more are needed. While all these preparations are going on there is bad news for men with beards. An anti-gas expert has announced that "it is difficult to fit a bearded man with a gas mask, and, should an emergency arise, those with beards more than a hand long may be faced with the alternative of cutting off their beards or getting gassed."

TAXI RIDES SHOW SUPERIORITY OF SUPERHIGHWAYS

Demonstrate Saving in Life and Money.

BY HAL FOUST.

A test drive over two Chicago thoroughfares yesterday indicated the savings in money, gasoline, time and accidents that may be attained by elevated highway construction such as recommended by the new city traction proposals.

A taxicab was ridden south in the outer drive from Foster avenue to 51st street, a distance of 13.9 miles. The same cab was also ridden south in Western avenue from Foster avenue to 61st street, which is also 13.9 miles. The contrast in the experience is informative.

The outer drive presented conditions similar to elevated highways. The pavement of the lake front boulevard was free of pedestrians, cross trafic, parking, street cars, and trucks and comparatively free of stop lights. To give the west side these driving conditions requires elevated highways or, at a prohibitive expense, broad parkways with grade separations for cross trafic and for pedestrians.

Cost Called Excessive.

The drive in Western avenue presented conditions typical of a major street widening at grade. A study by Dr. Miller McClintock, director of the Harvard university bureau of trafic research, found such surface street development is excessively costly, that the construction of elevated highways can provide the same additional trafic capacity for 15.5 per cent of the cost of surface street widening.

In the outer drive the 13.9 miles was driven in 24 minutes and 52 seconds. The top speed was 40 miles an hour. There were four stops for trafic lights, such as would not be encountered in a properly designed and regulated elevated highway. They were at Hawthorne place, Ohio, Randolph, and Monroe streets. The average over all speed from Foster avenue to 51st street was 33.9 miles an hour.

37 Minutes in Western Avenue.

In Western avenue the 13.9 miles was driven in 37 minutes and 3 seconds. The top speed was 32 miles an hour but the average for the distance was only 22.5 miles an hour. This is fast for a cross town trip. Trafic was light and Western avenue has a progressive stop and go system. The driver commented on how well he was meeting the green lights, yet he was forced to shift into first or second gear 23 times.

The taxicab bill on the outer drive 13.9 miles was $2.15. For the same distance in Western avenue it was $2.25. The meter advances 10 cents for each three minutes of waiting time. In rush hours this difference, said the driver, would have been much greater.

The gasoline consumption on the two trips was carefully measured. On the outer drive, it was .9 of a gallon. On Western avenue it was a teacup more than 1 gallon.

Savings Amount to Millions.

One-tenth of a gallon saving may not sound impressive. It means only 2 cents difference in fuel costs. In the aggregation, however, it is significant. Chicago trafic burns approximately $54,000,000 worth of gasoline a year. Ald. John A. Massen [48th], chairman of the council trafic committee, estimated that a comprehensive system of elevated highways would carry at least two-thirds of the city's trafic. On this basis the highways would reduce the city's gasoline bill $3,600,000 a year.

The difference in the accident risk was obvious. On the outer drive the elevated highway characteristics of the pavement saved the chauffeur from braking for pedestrians, ducking between cross trafic, and swinging around cars going into or away from curb parking. On the typical widened street the taxicab driver was repeatedly maneuvering to avoid a mishap.

Fewer Deaths on Lake Drive.

Statistics corroborated the passenger's feeling of ease on the outer drive and his uneasiness on Western avenue. Leslie Sorenson, Chicago trafic engineer, reported that this wide surface street with an average daily trafic volume of 20,000 cars has experienced 24 accidents involving one or more deaths and 541 accidents involving one or more personal injuries on this 13.9 mile stretch since Jan. 1. Otto K. Jelinek, Chicago park district engineer, reported that the outer drive with an average daily trafic volume of 70,000 cars has experienced 10 accidents involving one death each and 290 accidents involving 306 personal injuries on this 13.9 mile stretch since Jan. 1.

In Western avenue there has been an accident involving a death or a personal injury for every 11,487 car miles of travel. In the outer drive there has been an accident involving a death or a personal injury for every 75,600 car miles of travel. In other words, it is almost seven times as safe to drive the lake front boulevard rather than a widened surface street. Elevated highways have a safety record even better that that of the outer drive.

SALVAGE $75,722 IN MONTH FROM RELIEF CLIENTS

The Chicago relief administration salvaged $75,722 last month from insurance policies, real estate, securities, probate cases, workmen's compensation, and judgments due persons on relief, according to Leo M. Lyons, Chicago relief administrator.

The CRA demands that any policies held by relief clients be reduced to $500 benefits and that the remaining cash, allowing a sufficient amount to pay two year's premiums, be used by the person seeking aid. In many instances adjustments are made with insurance companies on overdue policies to enable the relief client to get a little cash, Lyons said.

Life insurance disability and death claims brought $56,214 to persons on relief last month. The sale of equities in real estate provided $2,616 and the sale of investments $1,043.

JURY HOLDS DEATH SUICIDE.

A coroner's jury held yesterday that the death of Mrs. Sadie Rouhan, 63 years old, of 2347 Wilson avenue, who fell from a fourth floor window of St. Joseph's hospital, 2100 Burling street, on Monday, was a suicide.

PRESIDENT'S SON JIMMY IS NO. 2 AT WHITE HOUSE

Other Secretaries Thrust Into Background.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt's "little son, Jimmy," in the short space of a year has become the most important personage at the White House next to his father.

He has thrust his secretarial colleagues, Marvin Hunter McIntyre and Stephen Tyree Early, into the background. McIntyre has become little more than the man who opens the handle of the big white door leading into the executive office and Early, who always enjoyed more confidence and respect from his chief than McIntyre, has found himself overshadowed by the somewhat bald six footer, who is the "boss'" eldest son.

Arrival Welcome to Early.

To Early, Jim's advent in the White House has been most welcome. It has taken from his shoulders much of his burden. Since the death of Louis McHenry Howe, No. 1 secretary, almost two years ago, Early had done all the White House secretarial work, except McIntyre's greeting and social lioning.

With his entrance into the White House, Jim took a share of Early's burden. On the trip to the peace conference at Buenos Aires, Jim took over press relations and he has on several presidential trips since that time assumed Early's task of press relationship.

From the first Jim was entrusted with management of the administration's legislative program. All through the last session it was he who plotted details of strategy with administration leaders and reported back to his father.

Holds Conferences.

It was no surprise, therefore, when the President appointed him to meet with little cabinet officers and report back on their problems. Jim devotes two days a week to a series of conferences with commission, agency and bureau heads.

Little doubt exists as to Jimmy's real status in the administration. He is regarded as the political heir of his father—the heir apparent of the Roosevelt family tradition. The President appears to consider James the most promising of his four sons as far as a political career is concerned. Within the administration, James is considered as undergoing an advanced course of training as crown prince of the royal family.

Getting Experience.

With his mentor as one of the most glib politicians of the age, Jim is getting experience that many a politically minded youth would give his right arm for. Up until his connection with the White House, Jim had knocked around for four years with nothing to show for it but a fat purse, made plump through selling insurance.

He alternated insurance selling with a venture in Massachusetts politics. This got him little more than a few hard knocks. During the Boston interlude he was frequently in hot water—once when he opposed the child labor amendment—an objective of his father—and again when he asserted his father was going to revive the NRA.

Back Bay State Loser.

Then Jim erred in his selection of a band wagon. He climbed aboard that of Gov. Curley and went down to defeat with the Curley machine. Father decided it was time to take Jim out of Massachusetts and put him in charge of the management of the family estate at Hyde Park, New York.

He then brought Jim under his tutelage by bringing him along as secretary on the South American cruise. Immediately after the cruise he was made an executive clerk at the White House and in July a full secretary.

Jimmy has the Roosevelt personality. He has a speaking voice strongly reminiscent of America's No. 1 radio voice. And he has an appetite for politics. Undoubtedly James has the best chance of any of the four boys to follow in any measure his father's footsteps and father is seeing to it that he make the most of that chance.

Tests Faith Cure

[Acme Photo.]

As a final test of a faith cure of four years ago, Kenneth Baily, accountant of Bournemouth, England, ran from his home city to Southampton, boarded the Queen Mary and started running around the decks of the liner. He intended to keep this up until reaching Cherbourg and then to run to the Paris exposition.

STUDY INDICATES SARDINES FAVOR JAPAN'S WATERS

Monterey, Cal., Nov. 24. — California's sardine interests have devised a method of ascertaining just what California sardines do before they are put into cans.

What they particularly want to know is whether California sardines, when given complete freedom in the Pacific, immediately go to Japanese waters or whether they stay at home.

The system that has been devised for trailing the sardine is that of tag. Thousands of them are caught each year, a slit made in the side of each, and a tiny metal tag inserted.

The sardine is then thrown back into the Pacific, the wound quickly heals and the sardine is left with the telltale metal tag inside. When it eventually is caught, whether it be in Japanese waters or in American waters, a magnet in the reduction plants attracts and picks up the metal disc.

Recently 1,500 sardines were tagged and set free here at one time. In the past they have been picked up as far north as Vancouver and as far south as San Diego.

However, the suspicion that the sardines go to Japanese waters is supported by the fact that out of one lot of 20,000 sardines that were tagged only 300 were brought to American reduction plants.

Urges City's Housewives to Protest Tax on Wheat

Mrs. Wilbur E. Fribley, president of the Housewives League of Chicago, yesterday called on all housewives to protest to congress against reenactment of the proposed processing taxes on wheat, cotton, and rice. They will result, she said, in a higher cost of living, particularly for those least able to afford it.

TELEVISION FOR ELECTION OF 1940 HOPE OF EXPERTS

Pictures Almost Ready, but Who Will Pay Bill?

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

At 11 a. m. Nov. 11, Greenwich time, a favored few Britons, perhaps a thousand, sat beside their televisors watching a flickering, greenish-cast 7 by 9 inch image of their king standing rigidly at attention before the Cenotaph in the annual ceremony of remembrance.

Scarcely had they heard Big Ben bong the 11th stroke when they beheld a dim figure in trench coat pry through the solid line of guards, affront the monarch and cry "Stop all this hyprocrisy!" It was only an instant before they saw policemen pile upon the madman, crush him to the pavement and bloody his face.

Britons at their television receivers, which had cost them roughly $450 apiece, felt they got their money's worth on Armistice day.

Next morning many an American viewed the dramatic attack before the Cenotaph in newspaper pictures radioed from London and asked himself: Why don't we have television?

The simple, yet truthful, answer is this: America has ready television superior to that of England or any other European country. But the developers do not believe that it is acceptable [even in that limited area where it is already available] to the public in its present form.

The Television Picture Abroad.

Would the American public be satisfied with television in the British manner? Let us examine their pictures-in-the-air in some detail.

In the 16 months England has had television sets on the market 800 dealers [all in London since transmissions will barely reach beyond the metropolitan area] have sold only 1,350 receivers at prices ranging upwards from $375. Total billings of all manufacturers to date have been around $800,000. Profits, for some time to come, appear to be out of the question.

The images are too small to permit steady observation without tiring the eyes. The sulphurous cast is said to be displeasing. The definition is not sharp enough to convey much impression of reality.

Until recently only two hours of programs have been available, mostly given over to news film, short sketches from studios, and outdoor athletic events, such as tennis matches. [Lately a receiver selling for $200 has been introduced and an additional hour of telecasts added. Dealers are hoping this will spur the sale of sets.]

In Dress Rehersal Here.

In America television was brought out of the laboratory and put into dress rehersal about a year ago. Since then many errors have been corrected, many refinements made, costly enough to the telecasters, but ruinous to all receivers available eighteen months ago. Thus, by waiting, the public has been spared the tremendous waste that would have resulted if thousands of television receivers would have had to be junked.

In television, the receiver must fit hand in glove with the transmitter. Thus there is no point in selling receivers until transmission standards have been adopted. Considerable progress has been made in this direction the last year. For instance, images formerly scanned with varying degrees of fineness from 200 to 343 lines, are now generally transmitted at 441 lines. This gives a fineness now generally regarded as satisfactory.

This standard has been adopted by RCA which with its subsidiary has been in the van of television development. Since RCA provided CBS with its new $500,000 transmitting unit, it must also adopt this standard.

In Germany, Hitler has shifted to the 441 line images recently. Der Fuehrer is building two powerful stations, one on a peak in the Hartz mountains, and it is whispered that in 1938 he expects to put on the market an extremely low cost "People's Televisor."

Images Now Black and White.

During 1937 American television research experts have conquered the unsatisfactory greenish image, replacing it with the conventional black and white of our movies. They have vastly enhanced the brilliance of the pictures; they have increased their size to 7 by 10 inches, double the previous area. But what is more significant, they have evolved a method for successfully projecting them on a screen about 3 by 4 feet, providing images similar in size and definition to home movies.

Progress has been made in the development of television program technique; lighting and makeup, sound effects, scenic design; manipulation and control of television cameras.

The Don Lee interests, Mutual network affiliates on the west coast, have launched the first television transmissions for public view in Los Angeles.

The Columbia network, having launched a half million dollar studio layout in the Grand Central station building of New York and transmitter atop the Chrysler building, has sequestered an additional $2,000,000 for the final phase of experiment in this art, according to testimony given recently before the Federal Communications commission.

"We intend to make as many experiments as possible," Gilbert Seldes, former newspaperman, who is directing television for CBS explained recently, "in order to make as many errors as possible in advance."

The Zenith Radio corporation has made application for a television transmitting station, which if granted will give Chicago its first unit.

The Bell Telephone Laboratories have made substantial progress in transmitting pictures over the coaxial cable laid between New York and Philadelphia. Following a demonstration Nov. 12, observers reported the images were as good at the receiving as at the sending end and that they were vastly superior than in any previous demonstration of television. Such a cable, it was stated, would be practicable for distances of 3,800 miles, or from Maine to California.

The most enthusiastic predictions for television during 1937 came from David Sarnoff, president of RCA. This newest art of radio, he expects, will blossom out into a vigorous industry providing many new avenues of employment, offering a unique advertising service to the public.

While Mr. Sarnoff was wary of predicting when commercial video-radio will arrive he did hazard that it is not too bold a speculation to say that the next presidential campaign may be influenced by television.

The General Foods company made application with NBC for permission to sponsor the first commercial television program. This application the chain denied on the grounds that it could not yet safely commit itself to such a program.

Eddie Cantor's sponsor inserted a clause in his new five year contract providing that he shall be available for telecasting, if any.

The Barriers that Remain.

So much for advances. Now as to barriers. While Sarnoff has been the most optimistic of television prophets, E. F. McDonald Jr., president of Zenith Radio corporation, has been one of the most persistent of critics.

Because television's range appears to be limited to about 30 miles, Commander McDonald expects only a few of the larger cities to be able to afford the sky pictures.

"It would take 2,000 transmitters to give adequate coverage to the United States under present handicaps," he told THE TRIBUNE. "To link them together with coaxial cable would take about 90,000 miles of wire costing more than $5,000 a mile."

That alone represents an outlay of $500,000,000. And at that there might be widespread sparsely settled regions that would never come within range of television's eyes.

Then there is the problem of automobile ignition interference. Commander McDonald claims that receivers in the first seven floors of metropolitan centers are greatly interfered with by motor cars. Ordinary homes cannot receive when a car is passing—unless all cars have special expensive shielding equipment attached to them.

If wires were used instead of the air for transmitting pictures this difficulty could be obviated. For this reason McDonald expects that television will find its first application over telephone wires. And he further prophesies that the motion picture interests will be the main television program producers.

The Economic Problem.

Sarnoff, too, sees formidable problems confronting television. Foremost he places the economic problem which however has a direct cause in the limited range of visual radio.

"Television programs will cost much more money than sound programs," he explained recently. "If television programs are to be provided through support of commercial sponsors, they must be furnished with circulations to justify their expenditures.

"The present range of useful television is less than 50 miles. The creation of limited networks, with connection by coaxial cable or radio relays, is a highly expensive undertaking."

NEW YORK AWAITS WINTER AND SNOW FIGHTING FORCES

$7,000,000 Equipment to Be Paraded.

New York, Nov. 24.—[Special.]—When winter comes, New York City will be treated to its greatest parade since the American Legion hoofed it up Fifth avenue.

Seven million dollars will be on parade—$7,000,000 of new equipment purchased by the department of sanitation during the last year.

And manned by experts, Commissioner William F. Carey hastens to add. For, by the time the first blizzard of the season rolls in, most of the Carey snow men will have diplomas from the Lake Placid training school, where embryo snow engineers will have gotten a taste of actual winter conditions before [the commissioner hopes] snow covers the sidewalks of New York.

Placid School Endowed.

The Placid school is endowed by the board of estimate. Commissioner Carey asked $12,000 to provide a curriculum for his snowmen amid the fashionable snowdrifts of the northern resort. The $12,000 will pay the traveling, board, and lodging expenses of the 200 rookies who will go into winter training when, as and if Lake Placid can provide suitable snowpiles in which to bend a shovel.

The addition of new trucks, modern models all, will give the department some 2,000 trucks of the larger type to throw into the first snow battle. That will save the city money, because in previous years hundreds of trucks were hired by the day.

A Joy for All.

There will be "ohs" and "ahs" at the new hundreds of those cute little crosswalk plows that will hemstitch their way through cross walk drifts to make the life of the pedestrian and the motorist, too, more livable, come snow.

With 415 new—and a total of 628—crosswalk plows, New York's intersections ought to be so bone-dry that your modern Sir Walter Raleigh and his cloak will be unemployed.

Seventy-five new-type flushers will wash away the minor snows; some of them already are at work, sluicing the day's dirt.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—The general land office, United States department of the interior, is among the agencies of the government which are operating at a profit to the federal treasury, Commissioner Fred W. Johnson declared today in reporting to Secretary Harold L. Ickes on activities of his organization during the 1937 fiscal year.

With receipts for the year—largest since 1927—aggregating $7,399,839.94, and administrative expenditures totalling only $1,503,010.23, a surplus of $5,896,829.71 remained.

Operations of the land office have undergone a decided change with the enforcement of broad policies of conservation rather than disposal, Commissioner Johnson asserted.

MIDGET BEARS OF AUSTRALIA DISAPPEARING

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 24. — The koala, or "native bear" of Australia, is again in the news.

This little tree climbing marsupial, about two feet in length when full grown, is a great favorite with tourists, and each capital city has its "bear farm," where the animals can be preserved and petted by visitors. They are approaching extinction in a wild state.

Noel Burnet, probably the greatest living authority on the koala, declares that if nothing of a practical nature is done to preserve the tiny animal, it will become extinct in ten years.

To save the animal from extinction, a Koala club of Australia was formed recently. Laboratories will be established to conduct scientific research into the feeding and breeding habits of the koala as well as the diseases to which it is subject. An official of the club said that whereas in 1927 there were millions of koalas, there are now barely 10,000.

WISER SPONSORS CUT COMMERCIAL PROGRAM TIME

Seek Ways to Keep Their Customers Tuned In.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

One of the problems that has long puzzled sponsors and their advisers in advertising agencies and in broadcasting studios is that of how often to insert their commercial announcements and how long to make them. Many sponsors, of course, believe the nation's ears are cupped for their every word. Wiser ones know that there is a limit to the sales talk that listeners will tolerate. They know that today it is simpler than ever to reach over to an armchair radio, press a button, and tune in another channel.

Thus it should be a matter of minor thanksgiving on the part of legions of listeners that another major sponsor—the one that has the Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air on NBC—has decided to cut his commercial copy to a minimum.

Hope to Create Good Will.

"With some misgivings, but with an open mind," this concern explains, "we are eliminating entirely the brief middle commercial previously employed and are reducing to an almost irreducible minimum the brief opening and closing announcements. In other words, we are going just about as far as can be gone to achieve the noncommercial in radio.

"We think it can be done, and that while seemingly the height of altruism, such a program can create sufficient good will and listener interest to offset the usual commercials."

Thus, this sponsor is stepping off into that avenue of good taste in advertising in which the General Motors and Ford Sunday evening concerts and the Wrigley Poetic Melodies, among others, already have gone far.

These programs and others that follow a similar course have had wide public acceptance. Probably they are just as effective in attention calling and spreading good will as the blatant daytime advertisers who must have half of every 15 minutess to put over their message.

Studio Applause Cut Out.

Another item which ought to put listeners in a grateful mood is the announcement that the Magic Key has decided to eliminate all studio applause except the natural reaction at the end of the hour.

There has been a great deal of public reaction to the "inspired" studio applause. In the east announcers just hoist a big placard bearing the command "Applause" whenever they wish. Chicago has not gone as far as that, but applause has been too much controled hereabouts also. Announcers start the handclapping themselves and check it with a downward sweep of palms, turning it off as one might a shower or the gas jet. Such tactics are perfectly apparent to listeners in their homes and they resent it.

In Hollywood they have another device, a claque of laughing announcers and other stooges, who burst into guffaws [usually a split second too soon] to create the impression that the show is terribly funny. The idea is, of course, that this will be infectious, sweeping first the studio audience and then listeners from coast to coast. It is a device that might well be abandoned.

Steals Car, Orders Repairs, Can't Pay; Owner Wins

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 24.—An automobile belonging to Charles Mynatt was stolen from in front of his hotel, but Mynatt isn't complaining much. The thief drove it less than a mile to a garage, had the gas line repaired, the battery charged, the brakes relined, and several other repairs made. Then the thief couldn't pay and detectives recovered the car.

DIES AS RESULT OF FALL.

Mode of Life Blamed for Rise in Divorces

New Orleans, La., Nov. 24. — Sweeping changes in manners of living are offered by Judge Hugh C. Cage, 78 years old, as the reasons for disappearance from America of the old fashioned idea of the sanctity of marriage. Cage, the presiding judge of the civil district court and dean of the local judiciary, estimated that divorces had increased "100 to 1" during the past half century. An action for divorce was a sensation when he began to practice law in 1882, Cage said, but at present such a suit is merely a perfunctory court proceeding.

CHICAGO OPERA SEASON CALLED BEST IN YEARS

Many Important Singers from Abroad on Program.

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Thanksgiving day falls this year almost in the exact middle of the brightest opera season Chicago has enjoyed since pre-depression days. The management has introduced a number of important singers who have never before been heard in the United States and has continued its policy of bringing to Chicago a generous selection of artists from New York's Metropolitan Opera association.

Chief among the newcomers to America is Galliano Masini, tenor of La Scala in Milan. In a performance of "Lucia di Lammermoor" early in the season he proved himself the possessor of a genuinely remarkable voice—rich, vibrant, compelling. In "Tosca," a little later, he strengthened the original impression of his vocal art and gave, in addition, a movingly dramatic performance.

Burdino Another Newcomer.

André Burdino, tenor of the Paris Opera Comique, is another newcomer who has won extravagant praise. Far less gifted vocally than Masini, he is possessed of a patrician style admirably suited to French opera. He has been heard in "Manon" twice and in one Italian work, Verdi's "La Traviata."

The tenor division has swelled notably this year. José Luccioni, likewise a new importation, gave a magnificent performance of the rôle of Avito in Montemezzi's "Love of Three Kings" when that work was revived last week.

The company introduced to America this year the German coloratura soprano, Erna Sack, but did not duplicate in her case the good fortune which attended its ventures in the tenor division. Mme. Sack had the bad luck to be preceded by too many tales of her extraordinarily high voice. When this turned out to be a musical disappointment, her undoubted good qualities—the open, pleasant quality of her natural voice—were obscured and not given adequate attention.

Elen Dosia Hailed.

A tremendous success attended the debut in this country of Elen Dosia, Greek soprano and wife of André Burdino, which took place in the title rôle of "Manon" the first Friday night of the season. Hers is a delicately lovely voice. She has also the benefit of great charm of person and ability as an actress.

Other newcomers to the company this year include George Czaplicki, Polish baritone. He made an excellent impression the opening night as Amonasro in "Aida" and earned a triumph a week ago Saturday for his enactment of the part of Scarpia in "Tosca."

Grace Moore, known here only as a concert, movie, and radio singer, made a successful Chicago operatic debut last week in "Manon." Charles Hackett returned the second Saturday of the season for the part of Almaviva in "The Barber of Seville."

Metropolitan artists who have appeared here in other years and who have already graced the present season include Elisabeth Rethberg and Helen Jepson, sopranos; Gertrud Wettergren, contralto; Giovanni Martinelli, tenor, and John Charles Thomas, baritone. Lily Pons and Lawrence Tibbett are still to come. The season opened Oct. 30 and will close Dec. 18.

N. Y. WORKING GIRLS NEED NICE CLOTHES, DIRECTOR ASSERTS

New York, Nov. 24.—[Special.]—New York working girls are entitled to nice clothes. Official recognition of the feminine taste for finery comes from the state labor department in the announcement that an important phase of its survey to determine the living costs for employed women is the clothing budget.

Miss Friedmiller, director of the women's division of the department, said:

"Girls have a real need for companionship. Even though friends cannot be bought, they can be acquired by social contacts which proper clothing helps to assure and maintain.

FLIGHT OF FOES SIGNAL FOR COUP BY BRAZIL'S CHIEF

Revolt of Minor State's Army Balked.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Nov. 24.—The state of war established about five weeks before President Getulio Vargas on Nov. 10 assumed dictatorial powers in Brazil, resulted in at least two important developments which preceded the president's coup.

The state of war was declared on Oct. 2. It was to last for ninety days and the announced purpose was to combat communism.

The first development was that many politicians left Rio de Janeiro suddenly and others applied for protection in foreign embassies and legations during early days of the state of war. Among them were several deputies and one senator known for their leftist ideas and propaganda against the government. Several of them had been arrested in 1936 and tried by the Special National Safety court. All but two were acquitted, and they got light sentences.

Governor's Revolt Balked.

The second result of the state of war was to give an opportunity to clear up a situation in the south where, as was charged for months and now assertedly has been proved, Gen. Flores da Cunha, governor of Rio Grande do Sul province, was preparing for a revolution.

Pressed by the federal government to give an account of the status of his state's militia, Gen. Flores da Cunha resigned his governorship, crossed the border, and set up headquarters at Rivera, a Uruguayan town which is separated from Brazilian territory by only a street.

The town of Riveria, therefore, has become the center of Bra-zilian political refugees.

Munitions Bought Abroad.

Col. Canabarro da Cunha, former commander of the militia of Rio Grande do Sul, has been arrested. It was asserted he was implicated in the purchase abroad of war equipment amounting to $180,000. Federal authorities are reported to have seized the equipment, which was said to have been purchased in Europe. Included are Skoda machine guns, anti-aircraft guns, and light artillery weapons.

Officials indicated the arms were smuggled into Rio Grande do Sul and unloaded from German steamers. When the state of war was declared some military equipment was assertedly en route to Brazil or waiting to be loaded at Amsterdam.

Since President Vargas dissolved all legislative bodies when he assumed dictatorial power and proclaimed a new constitution with corporative features, there is speculation now as to what action, if any, will be taken in lieu of an alien registration which had been discussed in the senate and chamber of deputies.

Would Make Aliens Register.

The proposed registration bill would have compelled every foreign resident in Brazil to register within the next twelve months following the passage of the bill, and would have made registration compulsory and automatic for aliens entering the country.

Brazil is the only country in South America which so far has permitted the entrance of aliens without obligation. The nation allowed them to fix their abode here, establish businesses and obtain jobs, and has tolerated their widespread political ideas without police interference. As a result communists, white slave traders, and pernicious elements of many nationalities have, since the end of the world war, invaded Brazil.

NEW ANTI-NOISE RULES PROPOSED ON BRITISH ROADS

LONDON, Nov. 24.—New anti-noise rules for England's highways have been proposed by the committee on vehicle noise of the British ministry of transport. In 1936 this committee recommended that no new motor vehicle be licensed if it emitted a noise above a level of ninety phons, roughly equivalent to the same number of American noise units or decibels.

Since then the committee has measured some 600 motor cars actually in use, including some as old as thirteen years. In agreement with American measurements, these used cars turn out to be noisier than new cars by an average of four or five phons. The committee now proposes a new regulation that no motor vehicle, old or new, shall be allowed to use the British roads if it emits noise louder than ninety-five phons.

This noise is to be measured eighteen feet on either side of the car or twenty-five feet behind the car's exhaust. The highway surveys also have shown that the chief offenders are motorcycles, largely because of poor silencing of the exhaust. Ordinary automobiles emit more noise from the engine and car itself than from the exhaust. With motorcycles this rule is reversed.

Confronted with these measurements, the British motorcycle industry has provided a fund of $5,000 for an investigation by the national physical laboratory of better methods of motorcycle silencing. The anti-noise committee now proposes to make a study of British automobile horns, with the idea of deciding on restrictions for loudness and, perhaps, also for the annoying character of the sound.

Train Fails to Stop; Two Comedians Given Special

LANCESTER, England, Nov. 24.—Two passengers were given a free trip from Preston to Lancaster on a special train. The railway company provided them with an engineer, a fireman, a conductor, one coach and a baggage car. At Lancaster they were met by company officials who apologized because the regular train had failed to stop for them.

ENGLAND'S 'CIVIL WAR' MANEUVERS IMPRESS REDS

Soviet Writer Tells of Military Steps.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Nov. 24.—Krasnaija Svesda, official newspaper of the Red army, is impressed by the fact the autumn maneuvers of the British army this year was not the usual military problem of dealing with an invading army, but military exercises based on the possibility of civil war in England.

Quoting a British military authority who wrote that "1937 will be remembered because the army for the first time was completely mechanized," the soviet newspaper believes it also will be remembered because the general staf also revealed it is planning to cope with civil war.

"It is clear from the maneuvers of the 1st and 2d divisions of the British army near London that the general staf has been studying the war in Spain," says the Red army paper.

Deals with Problem.

"The problem was as follows: In England civil war has been proceeding a year. The government army was defending London, east England and part of Scotland. The remainder of the country was in the hands of the rebels. The seat of government had been transferred from London to Norwich.

"The rebels had surrounded London and the government forces could only approach from the northeast. The loyal garrison was preparing a counterattack in the southwest and was awaiting reinforcements from Norwich.

"The second division of the government army was dispatched on machines from Norwich to prepare the march of the 2d division to London. When the commanders of the rebels learn of this move they sent two brigades to seize the mountain pass at Buntingford. Their task was to delay or prevent this movement until fresh forces could arrive."

Defeat for Loyalist Army.

After giving military details the soviet observer reported that although the government army was better equipped and slightly larger than the rebel force, it was defeated in a "battle" when it attacked the defensive position of the rebel force.

"The mechanized transport functioned splendidly," he continues. "Only part of the infantry was moved by foot. An English division has a reserve auto transport squad which can move a brigade at a time and in 24 hours it can move two brigades a distance of 30 miles leaving the third in reserve to be transported to the most threatened point.

"The maneuvers revealed the commanding staf of the British army is not yet free from the 'traditions' of the world war. The preparation of the attack and the attack itself against the rebels was carried out too slowly. Infantry and tanks remained behind a mobile cover of artillery fire and suffered large losses. Through mines and antitank weapons the attackers lost 75 per cent of their machines while infantry losses were reckoned 25 per cent."

Impressed by French Army.

While the Russian observer found the British staf not yet used to handle their new mechanized equipment, he reported the autumn maneuvers of the French army were more impressive. Whereas in England no horses were used by the army, in France the forces consisted of 45,000 men, 6,000 horses and 4,000 automobiles. War conditions were more faithfully observed and an entire mechanized machine gun battalion impressed the Russian.

An experiment with a parachute descent of a squad of 50 picked fighters in the rear of the attacking forces proved a failure and the Krasnaija Svesda notes that to be successful such a descent should consist of an entire division rather than a few companies of men. The mobility of the French forces also were found to have been superior to the British.

Views About Red Army.

In connection with the soviet opinion of the maneuvers in western Europe the impressions of one of the Baltic generals who attended the similar maneuvers of the Red army in White Russia also is interesting.

He found that the Red army was well trained and equipped in the field, but weak in the rear. Bad roads which delayed motorized transport and railroads which could not be depended upon to bring up necessary supplies, in his belief, would seriously handicap the Red army in either a defensive or offensive campaign.

The Red army, he declared, still was far from being the overwhelming force which the soviet government pretends it is.

CLEAR BROADWAY'S SIDEWALKS OF FRUIT STANDS AND PEDDLERS

New York, Nov. 24.—The Broadway association, ever anxious to keep Broadway a center of attraction, has coöperated in the last few weeks with city departments in a movement to rid the street of various kinds of nuisances.

Through the coöperation of Sanitary Commissioner Carey, more than 100 summonses were issued for violations of the sanitary code.

The bureau of incumbrance, under Capt. Paul A. Gilgar, removed fruit and vegetable stands from in front of stores on upper Broadway for violation of the sidewalk display ordinance.

Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine has conducted a drive against peddlers, beggars, and street photographers, in which the magistrates have coöperated by assessing fines of $5 and $10.

A. F. OF L. PUSHES UNIONIZATION OF GRAIN WORKERS

Membership of 25,000 Is Claimed.

The grain processing industry has been 50 per cent unionized by the American Federation of Labor since an organization drive was started in July, 1936, federation officials here assert.

The A. F. of L. is carrying on its organization drive through the National Council of Grain Processors and Allied Industries. The council has jurisdiction over flour, cereal and feed workers, corn processors, grain elevator employés, and sirup and dextrine workers. It has 72 locals throughout the country, organized under federal union charters.

Charters Will Be Sought.

William Schoenberg, regional representative of the A. F. of L. for Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, and Missouri, declared yesterday that the council now has more than 25,000 members. By the time of the next federation convention in the fall of 1938, he said, the council will be ready for chartering as an international union.

The A. F. of L. now has 105 internationals. The requirements for obtaining an international charter, accorning to Schoenberg, are that a union be on a self-sustaining basis and have experienced leadership.

Headquarters in Minneapolis.

Schoenberg began the organization drive in the grain processing industry and was the first president of the council. The present head is Meyer L. Lewis of Minneapolis, general representative of the A. F. of L. in that district. The union headquarters are in Minneapolis.

Members joining the processors' union are required to pay an initiation fee of $2 and monthly dues of $1 to the local union.

The local, from this income, pays an initiation fee of $15 on joining the council. From each $1 membership dues collected by the local 5 cents is paid each month to the national council and 35 cents a month to the A. F. of L.

CLAIMS WE MAY BECOME A RACE WITHOUT TEETH

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 24. — The human race eventually may become toothless unless people learn to take better care of their teeth, according to Dr. Leroy M. S. Miner, head of the Harvard university college of dentistry, and president of the American Dental association.

"Over a period of centuries nature sloughs off unused organs," Dr. Miner said. He cited the eyeless fish which live in dark cavern pools.

"Some scientists believe that man at one time had 36 teeth instead of 32," Dr. Miner said. "Through disuse, four of them were sloughed off. Monkeys still have 36 teeth.

"Body muscles and organs remain healthy only if they are used. The human race now eats many soft foods and some believe that teeth do not get enough exercise to remain healthy."

Dr. Miner said that in recent years there has been more attention paid to oral health and that it is getting favorable results.

"And yet," he said, "only between 20 and 25 per cent of the American people get regular dental treatment.

"Eventually, with more attention given to oral health, we may reach the goal for which dentistry is striving—the time when there will be no more false teeth.

"It is possible that there may come a time when proper care may make our teeth last a lifetime."

CHANGE OF NAME NOW A PASTIME FOR LONDONERS

Take New Ones at Least Provocation.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Changing names has become a popular pastime here. Every few days the Times carries announcements of such changes, but not even that formality is necessary. There are 50 times as many changes as there were ten years ago.

If Matilda Scroggins thinks she would be more attractive or more prosperous as Marie Vere de Vere she has only to inform her friends that she is henceforth to be known as Marie Vere de Vere. There is no need to go before a court as in most parts of the United States to make the change legal.

Those who want to do the thing in style and be sure there will be no legal difficulties over proof of identity may do it by "deed poll."

Total Cost About $30.

They buy a form for sixpence—twelve cents—fill it out, and have it stamped by the revenue department. They then have the change registered at the high court and advertise it in the official London Gazette. To make the change in this way they also must have a birth certificate and a declaration signed by a householder identifying the applicant. The total cost with all those formalities is roughly $20.

Deed poll changing of names has become so popular that the first law stationer asked for one at hazard said he was sold out, that there was a constant demand for them.

The Ethiopian war is blamed for starting the recent rush. Italians wanted English sounding names. Now all sorts of people are changing to all sorts of names.

Editor Changes Name.

It is fairly common for the owner of an old and distinguished name to try to keep it alive by requiring his heir—a nephew, perhaps, or cousin—to adopt that name. Geoffrey Dawson, editor of the Times and one of England's most influential men, changed his name from Robinson in 1917.

But there is no need to have any reason for changing. Londoners chuckled recently when a woman who had been mercilessly cross-examined by a widely known lawyer changed her name to resemble his.

Forced on the witness stand to admit various unsavory details of her past life that previously had been brought out in a divorce suit, she said she never would forget the incident "nor would he."

Woman Turns Tables.

A few days later it was announced that she had changed her name by deed poll to "Kurtisbennet." The lawyer was Derek Curtis-Bennet, scion of a distinguished legal family here.

Though the British indulge in lawsuits much more freely than Americans and will sue at the slightest hint of possible libel or other offense, there was nothing he could do in this case, even if he wanted to. She was entirely within her rights.

GROCER'S KNIFE ENDS TRAVELS OF INFANT BOA

The Nicaragua-born snake embarked on a tour of the western hemisphere by attaching itself to a stalk of bananas. When the banana plantation harvested its crop, the boa went with the banana stalk. It was stowed away on a fruit boat, shipped to New Orleans, and then taken to Ruston aboard a produce truck. The snake was enjoying a snooze when discovered by R. C. Lyons, grocer. Lyons promptly whacked the boa into pieces with a butcher knife.

Identification of the snake was not established at first. Dr. John R. Fowler, head of the zoölogy department at Louisiana Technological college, first expressed the opinion that the snake was a bushmaster, one of the most poisonous of all snakes.

Closer examination revealed the snake to be a young boa constrictor.

Dr. Fowler said that the snake probably had been with the stalk of bananas since it was cut on the plantation. Refrigeration, under which the bananas were placed to prevent ripening too quickly, apparently had caused the snake to go into hibernation, from which it aroused only after having been placed in the higher temperature of the grocery.

BRITISH MINES REOPENED WITH RISE IN METALS

LONDON, Nov. 24.—The boom in metals is bringing a new lease of life to many mines in Great Britain abandoned as derelict.

Britain is producing gold, silver, tin, and lead. Gold is being produced on a commercial scale in the old Roman mines in Wales, which were uneconomical to work a few years ago. The jump in the price of gold has made all the difference.

So long as the gold price remains high the mines can be worked at a handsome profit. Modern mining machinery is being laid down on the assumption that there can now be regular work for many years.

Tin is being produced in fairly large quantities in Cornwall in mines which have been worked on and off for centuries. It was thought they would have to be abandoned once again, but now that tin has risen in value from $750 to $1,140 a ton, they are making good profits.

Lead, at its present high price, also has become worth mining again in Britain. Old Cumberland mines are being reopened, and the owners of derelict mines in the Peak district are arranging to reopen them.

Silver is found in small quantities in some of these mines, and the rising price of the metal is making its marketing more profitable.

FOREIGN LOTTERY PRICES JACKED UP FOR NEW YORKERS

Tickets Being Sold for Triple Their Cost.

New York, Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Enterprising foreign agents are soliciting New Yorkers by mail to buy tickets in the French and Cuban national lotteries at approximately three times their original price.

Their offer is a ticket in the French national lottery which would cost 100 francs or about $3.40 in Paris, for an even $10, or a ticket in the Cuban national lottery which wouldn't cost a penny more than $18 in Havana, for exactly $50.

Of course the whole lottery business is illegal in the United States, but the innovation of jacking up the selling price of the tickets 300 per cent is regarded as distinctly unsportsmanlike in informed gambling circles. Every one knows there is a phenomenal sale of Irish sweepstakes tickets in this country, but a ticket costs approximately $2.50, whether you buy it in New York or Dublin.

Premium Added to Risk.

Even on the most established lotteries, American purchasers must run the risk they are buying spurious tickets because they are unable to check up on the sellers, but the French and Cuban agents have injected a new note by adding to this risk a premium which amounts to twice the original purchase price of the tickets, the difference going, presumably, into the pockets of the enterprising agents themselves.

Since the purchase of tickets must be carried on under cover no accurate estimate is possible on how many thousand New Yorkers have been solicited in the last few weeks or how many thousand dollars have been sent out of the country, but the totals must be considerable as the consulates of both countries have received numerous inquiries about the lotteries and several complaints have been forwarded to postoffice inspectors.

Consuls Give No Data.

For fear of giving the impression they are promoting their national lotteries in violation of American laws, however, the consuls are merely replying that they can give no information about the lotteries because they are illegal here. The question of an overcharge is immaterial to the postoffice inspectors. They are anxious to prosecute any one who sells lottery tickets, regardless of price.

The letters in which New Yorkers are being solicited are masterpieces of persuasiveness and caution. Both Armand Fonticoba, who operates from a postoffice in Havana, and a M. Gaboury of Fougeres, France urge their correspondents to address their remittances in plain envelopes.

Says Fonticoba [if that is his name]: "Nothing more than the address outlined above should be written on outside of envelope containing your returns or other communications.

Gaboury has the same idea. He suggests that his customers write "nothing more" than the address on the envelope.

CHARGES CHURCH OF ENGLAND OWNS 'TAINTED' HOUSES

Argues It Should Not Receive Rents.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 24.—The archbishop of Canterbury recently declared his satisfaction with the recall to religion of G. W. Currie, former member of parliament. Currie, it has been disclosed, intends to introduce a resolution aimed at the Church of England at the church's autumn assembly.

In it he will demand that the church no longer receive ground rents on houses of "dubious moral reputation" in Maida Vale and of homes "infested with vermin" on the ecclesiastical commissioners' Walworth estate near Lambeth palace.

The subject of the allegations is contained in a report prepared by Miss Marion Fitzgerald on the instructions of the Church union with the assistance of the ecclesiastical commissioners.

Property Is Described.

Currie's motion specially refers to the "ground rents of houses of dubious reputation morally in part of the London bishopric estate, described as Maida Vale proper, in Paddington."

It further says "that on the ecclesiastical commissioners' Walworth No. 1 estate near Lambeth palace every house in one bad patch of property from which ground rents are drawn seems to be infested with vermin."

The disclosure of the allegations drew a reply from Sir George Middleton, First Church estates commissioner. The answer again served to expose the large number of persons who are drawing rents from housing properties.

"The position," says the commissioner, "is that under the ecclesiastical commissioners as ground landlords are lessees, under whom are sublessees, and under them are tenants and subtenants."

Wonders About Evidence.

In regard to ground rents from houses of "dubious reputation morally" he says that "may mean several things—some would apply it to the drink trade—but there can be no doubt what it means here."

"I do not know what evidence the mover of the motion has obtained," he adds. "However, I do know that the police have fully adequate powers as soon as they have evidence, and that it is a principle of English justice to hold an accused person innocent until proved guilty.

"I think Christian charity need not be ashamed to go as far."

Sir George Middleton's conclusions are that Currie is not making any charge against the church, but against the police administration and the policy of the housing authority of London.

He does, however, admit that "there is a danger this sort of ill-considered motion is to be published to the church assembly itself."

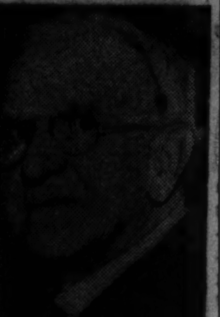
G. W. BARNES, 70, ENDS 56 YEARS AS TELEGRAPHER

Tribune Operator More than 30 Years Retires.



George Barnes.

After fifty-six years of continuous service with his company, George W. [Gravy] Barnes, Western Union telegraph operator assigned to handle messages for THE TRIBUNE, is to be retired on a pension Nov. 30.

"I'm 70," said Mr. Barnes last night, "but I'm not quitting because I'm tired. I just want to cultivate a garden with nothing else on my mind."

When he became a messenger for the company in Kalamazoo, Mich., in 1881 the boys didn't have bicycles. They had to run their errands on foot. On their off time they could study telegraphy and in two years Mr. Barnes was a full-fledged operator.

Worked in Texas Cities.

From 1887 to 1890, Mr. Barnes worked in El Paso, Galveston, Houston, San Antonio, and other Texan cities. He was a skilled baseball player and while in El Paso played, as an amateur, against the old St. Louis Browns, then managed by the late Charles A. Comiskey. Some of his diamond opponents were Kid Baldwin, Tony Malone, Arlie Latham, King Boyle, Jack Crooks, and Tip O'Neill, who died recently. From Texas Mr. Barnes went to Detroit, and came from there, in 1891, to Chicago, wher he has lived since.

"Our office then was at La Salle and Washington streets," said Mr. Barnes, "near the old newspaper row. It wasn't long before I was taking press reports. One of the first for THE TRIBUNE was that on the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight at Carson City, Nev. I always liked newspaper work, and I still do. I can remember now the kick I got out of working on big stories like the Eastland disaster and the Iroquois fire. It's been more than thirty years since I was assigned as regular operator to THE TRIBUNE and I've enjoyed every one of them."

Improvements Are Noted.

There has been steady improvement over a half century in telegraph equipment and working conditions for operators, Mr. Barnes asserted. He recalled that in Galveston, when extra copies of messages were desired, the man receiving had to use a heavy hand when he wrote with a stylus. Operators' working hours are strictly regulated now, while in his early days a 12 to 14 hour stretch was regarded as nothing unusual.

To many friends, Mr. Barnes was known as "Gravy," a nickname conferred upon him 30 years ago because of a hearty burst of laughter. At that time several professional boxers were offering prizes to challengers who could remain upright three or more rounds with them. A poster of the time depicted a colored youth gazing admiringly at a gigantic Negro challenger, and saying, "Gravy, Starlight, Gravy"—meaning the challenger would easily win a prize. Barnes laughed so heartily at the picture he was thereafter called "Gravy."

Mr. Barnes and his wife, who lived for many years at 6218 University avenue, have purchased a home at Schoolcraft, Mich., and Mrs. Barnes is already there.

"I won't be lonesome," said the veteran operator. "The only thing I'll miss will be the friends who drop in to the office every night to say 'Howdy, George.'"

CLIFFS OF IRON ARE PERIL TO SHIPPING ON BRITISH COAST

BRIDLINGTON, Nov. 24. — Cliffs that are ironbound in fact instead of metaphor are making trouble for ships east of Great Britain, according to theories advanced by G. H. Gray, agent of Lloyd's to explain the wreck on Flamborough Head of the fishing steamer Lord Ernil, fourth vessel to have been wrecked there in a year.

Flamborough Head is the sharp point of land projecting nearly ten miles from the coast line of eastern England between Scarborough and the River Humber. Vessels traveling along this coast must swing out to sea to pass the Head, but naturally swing as little as possible. More ships than would be expected seem to be miscalculating their distance and piling up on shore. In addition to this year's four actual wrecks, Mr. Gray reports numerous near wrecks when ships almost in trouble managed to stop or get away in time. His theory is that so many iron ships already have been wrecked at this point that there exists a virtual band of iron around the Head, including sunken iron hulls, an assortment of boilers and engines, and at least one complete iron submarine lost during the war.

The mass of iron is believed to distort the lines of earth magnetism so that ships' compasses are swung out of the proper position and thus deceive the navigating officers.

BRITISH TOTAL OF EMPLOYED DROPS 47,000 IN MONTH

Number at Work Still Above 1936.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Returns for the period Sept. 14 to Oct. 18, just issued by the ministry of labor, disclosed another increase in the numbers out of work and a corresponding decline in employment.

It was estimated that on Oct. 18 the number of insured persons in employment [exclusive of personnel within the agricultural scheme] was approximately 11,659,000. This was 47,000 less than the revised figure of Sept. 13, 1937. On a comparable basis there was, however, an increase of approximately 464,000 employed as compared with Oct. 26, 1936.

Decline in Shipping Work.

There was a decline in employment between Sept. 13 and Oct. 18 in the distributive trades, the hotel, boarding house, shipping and road transport services, in building and public works contracting, and in the wool textile, printing and bookbinding, and general engineering industries. There was also a slight decline in agriculture and horticulture.

On the other hand, employment improved in the cotton and tailoring industries and in coal mining, shipbuilding and repairing, and dock and harbor service.

On Oct. 18 the numbers of unemployed persons on the registers of employment exchanges were 1,159,613 wholly unemployed, 176,337 temporarily stopped, and 54,299 normally in casual employment, making a total of 1,390,249. This was 51,045 more than the number on the registers Sept. 13. On a comparable basis there was a decrease of about 166,400 as compared with Oct. 26, 1936.

Most Apply for Relief.

The 1,390,249 registered unemployed included 1,261,155 persons who were applying for benefit or unemployment allowances. An analysis of these applicants according to the length of the last spell of registered unemployment is as follows:

581,000, or 46%—less than 6 weeks.
862,000, or 68%—less than 6 months.
280,000, or 22%—12 months or more.

Of the persons on the registers on Oct. 18, about 50 per cent were applicants for insurance benefit and about 41 per cent for unemployment allowances, while about 9 per cent had no application for benefit or unemployment allowances.

LIVE STOCKDOM'S FINEST ARRIVES FOR WORLD SHOW

Animals Come from All Parts of Continent.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Farmers and ranchmen from all parts of the continent have been arriving during the last twenty-four hours with train loads of cattle, hogs, sheep and horses entered in the thirty-eighth annual International Live Stock exposition which is to open here Saturday and continue through to Dec. 4. By midnight more than half the 12,864 show animals will be reposing on soft straw mattresses in the grand hotel of live stockdom, the International amphitheater, at 43d and Halsted streets.

From Toronto a special train, loaded with 300 of the finest farm animals in the dominion, is due to arrive here this evening. The consignment includes champions of the Royal Winter show which closed in Toronto yesterday. Canadians will be here with approximately 500 head of cattle, horses and sheep.

British Judge Due Today.

Alexander Ritchie, British judge who is coming with the special permission of King George VI. to select the champion steers and the 1937 grand champion beef animal, is expected to arrive today in time to eat turkey in Chicago. He arrived in New York on the Berengaria yesterday. Ritchie was met by Alvin H. Sanders, vice president of the exposition, and was to come directly to Chicago.

In succeeding Walter Biggar of Delbeattie, Scotland, who has picked the beef animal at the last twelve shows, Ritchie will begin his work by judging the junior live stock feeding contest beeves Saturday, the opening day. The contest is reserved for farm boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 20.

Next week Ritchie will award prizes in the open fat cattle competition, concluding his judging by selecting the grand champion steer or hefer of the show.

Preliminary Judging Contest.

Preliminary to the opening Saturday, which has been proclaimed Chicago day by Mayor Kelly, the annual noncollegiate judging contest will be held tomorrow. Teams from twenty-three states are to compete. Ruth Eaton, one of the three members of the team representing Wyoming, is the only girl competing. Agricultural college scholarships, the main prizes, are offered to the winners by the Chicago Association of Commerce.

In addition to the Wyoming trio there will be teams from Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

26 Colleges to Compete.

The intercollegiate live stock judging contest, which has been a feature of the International since it was started in 1900, will be held Saturday. Teams from twenty-five agricultural colleges in the United States, and one from Canada, representing the Ontario Agricultural college at Guelph, will compete in this event.

Most of the fat animals entered in the exposition will be slaughtered and their meat sold soon after the close of the show. Breeding animals in the various breed classes will be taken back by the exhibitors or sold for use in improving herds and flocks on other farms and ranches.

Some of the animals to be exhibited have been recently imported. For example, there wil be Clydesdale, Percheron and Belgian horses that have just arrived from Europe.

Canadian Entries Larger.

Canadian entries in both the live stock and the hay and grain shows are larger than in any of the previous Internationals, according to B. H. Heide, manager of the exposition. Entries in the farm crop competitions have been received from thirty-five states, six Canadian provinces and Australia. There are also corn exhibits from twelve foreign countries including China, the Union of South Africa, and South America.

O. T. Henkle, head of the horse show, a nightly feature of the International, said yesterday that all the leading stables in the middle west, and many in the east, south and far west, are represented on the entry list. Matinees are announced for Sunday, Wednesday, Friday and the closing Saturday. Competition in the opening program for Saturday night will be limited to entries from Chicago and its suburbs.

QUEZON REVIVES CALL FOR EARLY ISLAND FREEDOM

May Hope to Be the First President.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—At the outset of the second year of the Philippine commonwealth the issue of earlier independence for the "little brown brothers" again is ringing in the national capital.

President Manuel Quezon of the commonwealth revived what had been considered a question settled by that commonwealth's creation. The revival came in his proposal to President Roosevelt that congress be asked to grant the islands complete independence on Dec. 30, 1938, or July 4, 1939.

Selects Patriotic Days.

The former date is that set aside in the islands to commemorate the memory of Joze Rizal, Philippine hero and martyr. In offering the alternative date as the American Independence day, President Quezon made a gesture intended to bring sympathy for complete freedom for his people.

Quezon recently announced he will not seek to amend the Philippine constitution so that he may run for another six year term. Therefore, unless the islands are given complete independence by Nov. 15, 1941, his successor will become the first president of the Philippine republic. Under the present act the islands do not get full freedom until July 4, 1946.

It is believed here Quezon is pressing for earlier independence because he wishes to become the first president of the republic. However, Quezon never has admitted that his reasons are personal. He insists that if there are any objections to complete freedom now, they will exist in 1946 and that there is no necessity of waiting until that time.

Finds Business Opposition.

Opposition to earlier independence has grown tremendously within the last two years. Sugar and coconut planters and others whose business depends on free trade between the United States and the islands are united against it. A poll, recently conducted by the American edited Philippine Free Press, showed 55.46 per cent of the people against earlier freedom.

The joint preparatory commission on Philippine affairs, composed of American and Filipino experts appointed by President Roosevelt and Quezon, ended a three months' study of island economic affairs two weeks ago. The American experts are en route to Washington. The Philippine experts refused to join them. It was reported that the two factions split over various questions.

Leading Problems Told.

The main problems given consideration by the committee were:

The character of the trade preferences which should exist for a specified period between the United States and the Philippines.

The precise arrangements for governing the trade relations between the two countries after termination of preferential trade relations.

Economic adjustments that could be undertaken in the Philippines and methods of executing and financing them.

The need or appropriateness of changes in the Philippine currency and banking system, and in the provisions for servicing Philippine bonded indebtedness that may be required to implement the plan for economic adjustment recommended by the joint commission.

Adequate protection of the rights and interests of the United States and its citizens in the Philippines and of the Philippines and its citizens in the United States after the attainment of independence.

The bearing which the possible negotiation of the neutralization agreement provided for in the Philippine independence act would have on the problems studied by the committee.

McNutt Coming to United States.

The committee gave no consideration to the political relations between the two countries, but took cognizance of the bearing which the advancing of the date of Philippine independence would have on the chances of the Philippine economic structure to survive. The committee's report will be presented to President Roosevelt next month or early in January. High Commissioner McNutt will fly to Washington to discuss the report with the President before the President makes recommendation to congress.

Despite the uncertainty created by the revival of the independent issue, general prosperity exists in the Philippines. Although government expenditures have grown considerably, no new taxes have been imposed. On the other hand, one of the main sources of government revenue, the poll tax, was abolished recently.

Pays 50 Cents Fine for Offense of His Father

DANNES, France, Nov. 24.—For an offense committed by his father, A. Gourlain has been fined 50 cents, although his parent has been dead twenty-six years. A policeman stopped Pierre Gourlain thirty-one years ago an dtook copious notes because this otherwise good citizen had his dog out for a walk without a leash. The offender passed away in 1911 and soon afterward the dog died. Recently, the police decided to clear their docket, and among the unsettled cases they found the one against Pierre Gourlain.

Basque Freighter Pauses After Trip Up Hudson

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 24.—The Basque freighter Bizarkgi Mendi, exiled from its home port of Bilbao since rebels captured the city, paused in its Odyssey at the Port of Albany. The ship slipped through a rebel blockade five months ago and has not been in Spanish waters since, its master, Capt. N. de Beitia, said. Members of the 35-man crew are homesick.

POPULATION SET AT 7½ MILLION FOR AUSTRALIA

MELBOURNE, Nov. 24.—As a result of a steady decline in immigration and also in birth rate, Australia is destined to have a fixed population of only about 7,750,000, according to official studies which have been completed here.

Geographically, the country is almost as large as the United States, but the tendency toward immigration in the past decade has steadily decreased. The decrease in the birth rate is attributed largely to the depression, but little hope is held out that it will ever increase to such an extent as to affect materially the population as a whole.

In fact, the birth rate has decreased so alarmingly that at present it has fallen to 16.6 for every thousand of population as against its former rate of 27.4 per thousand.

It is also estimated that Australia cannot hope further for more than an average of 50,000 immigrants per year, which likewise will never affect seriously the total population.

Canadian Liquor Flow to U. S. Remains Steady

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 24.—Reopening of American distilleries has had little effect on the exports of Canadian liquor to the United States, it is revealed. Trade figures available here show that Canada has exported 12,000,000 gallons of liquor to the United States since the Volstead act was repealed, and the movement is continuing at the rate of approximately 500,000 gallons per month.

On November 5 we advertised velvet dresses at 22.95.

The material should have been described as "silk and rayon velvet."

On November 21 we advertised Hudson Seal Coats. These should have been described as Hudson Seal Dyed Muskrat.

We regret these errors and pledge they will not recur.

"THANKS A MILLION" FOR ANOTHER MILLION IN 1937!

Again in 1937, for the second consecutive year, motorists will have purchased more than one million Chevrolets; and they are now giving an even greater measure of friendship and favor to Chevrolet for 1938.

Again this year, at Thanksgiving time, we of Chevrolet wish to express our deep and sincere appreciation for the loyal friendship of motor car buyers in 1937 and, in fact, throughout more than a quarter-century.

You who motor have always been exceedingly generous in your response to Chevrolet products, and this year you have been particularly generous, as is clearly indicated by the following facts:

You have displayed such keen and enthusiastic favor for Chevrolet that this is the second consecutive year in which you will have purchased more than one million new Chevrolets!

You have shown the same eager liking for Chevrolet trucks and commercial cars, with the result that they have become known as the thrift-carriers for the nation!

You have paid Chevrolet dealers an overwhelming tribute of confidence by purchasing more than 1,750,000 used cars from the only men who sell used cars bearing the famous Guaranteed OK tag!

And now you are giving still further evidence of your friendship by awarding the new Chevrolet for 1938 the most enthusiastic endorsement any new Chevrolet has ever received!

Thank you for your friendship . . . "thanks a million" for another million in 1937 . . . and you may rest assured that Chevrolet will also express its appreciation in deeds by continuing to serve you faithfully and by continuing to build the kind of car you'll always prefer to own.

HUNTERS THRILL TO DAWN FORAYS ON WILD TURKEYS

Easy to Shoot—If You Can Call Them Out.

BY BOB BECKER.

Although there will be turkey dinners in many homes today only a few lucky people will have the opportunity to eat real wild turkey. When America was discovered the wild turkey was plentiful along the Atlantic coast from Massachusetts down through Florida, and in the woodlands of the Mississippi valley as far north as Ontario and southwest through New Mexico, Arizona and Mexico, the country that today still has lots of wild turkeys.

Wild turkeys and people do not thrive in the same neighborhood so this game bird has either been exterminated or become very scarce in the forests where they once were abundant.

An Early Morning Thrill.

Although there is no particular skill required to shoot a wild turkey once it has been decoyed within range, the game of calling big gobblers is about as fascinating as any outdoor sport.

The thrill of prowling around dense timber in the hushed darkness at 4 o'clock in the morning . . . the stealth that attends the approach to the roosting birds . . . the uncanny skill of a good caller when he imitates the notes of a wild turkey and tries to fool the gobbler into thinking there is a hen turkey nearby . . . the wariness of the big bronze birds . . . all these factors make the decoying of wild turkeys an outdoor sport that takes lots of skill.

And once a hunter has hiked through the dark woods before dawn and has seen big gobblers fooled by a good caller, he is a turkey hunter for life!

On the plantation of the late Charles Evans, near Columbia, Mississippi, Ack, his colored hunting boy carried a trained, tame gobbler into the woods at 3 a. m. when we went turkey hunting. When it was time to call the birds the tame gobbler would be placed in front of us, tied by a short cord on one leg.

The Decoy Is Arrogant.

The bird was a real broadcaster and challenged his wild cousins on command. A low hiss made the bird strut and call. When wild gobblers heard this stranger they'd come to fight. One morning this unusual live decoy put on a good show and our party bagged three gobblers.

The decoy was so arrogant that he had every gobbler excited . . . an air foreign to the softness of the March morning.

A Novel Way to Hunt Wild Turkeys

This bird, a trained decoy, was carried into a Mississippi swamp by a colored hunting boy, Ack (left), before dawn. Ack first located the wild birds by an imitation of their call, then released his decoy. Its gobbling brought the wild birds in range for the hunter, the late Charles Evans (right).

PAPOOSE BIRTH RATE PUTS LOAD ON TRIBAL LANDS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—The Indian service has reported American Indians increasing faster than resources can be developed to support them.

Commissioner John Collier, in his annual report to Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, said the Indian birth rate—22.3 per thousand—had been going up at a rate exceeding 1 per cent a year for the last seven years.

"This increase has not been accompanied by a corresponding increase in the land and other resources upon which the Indian population depends for livelihood," Collier said. He praised the tribesmen for "astonishing progress" in application of conservation principles to their land and water resources.

MOVE TO ABOLISH ROUND FISH BOWL GAINS STRENGTH

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—The movement for abolition of round fish bowls gained a powerful new recruit today in the person of Fred Orsinger, director of the bureau of fisheries aquarium.

"It has been said," he explained, "that curved aquaria make the occupants dizzy physically and lopsided mentally. I don't know about that, but I do know they make me cross-eyed."

The movement has taken form in the association for the abolition of round fish bowls, of Wellesley, Mass. Orsinger concluded:

"Psychologists have pointed out that the round bowls distort a small, harmless fish into a ferocious denizen of the deep, producing a bad effect on children."

BOY, 18, GIRL, 13, ELOPE AND ARE WED IN KENTUCKY

Whitesburg, Ky., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Traveling through six inches of snow and across twelve miles of mountain trails Billie Madden, 18 years old, and Jessie Maggard, 13, eloped to Whitesburg and were married.

Shortly after the ceremony the child bride telephoned her parents that she was married and happy and would return to ask their blessings.

"We've had a pretty tough time of it—coming through snow and ice, but I'm happy anyway, the bride said. "It could not be otherwise with me. I wanted Bill and I've got him now. He's mine forever, as long as life lasts." And she smiled.

Marseilles Subway Will Be Second in France

MARSEILLES, Nov. 24.—The beginning of a subway in Marseilles is planned by the city with seven miles of track and 25 stations the first step. Marseilles will be the first city in France outside of Paris to instal underground transportation. The cost of the subway is estimated at more than $3,000,000 per mile, the original output to exceed $22,000,000, and a commercial speed of fourteen miles per hour is expected.

EPIDEMIC HITS NAZI SOURCE OF MEAT AND MILK

Hoof, Mouth Disease Spreads on Border.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 24.—An epidemic of hoof and mouth disease which has spread along the entire western border of Germany from the Palatinate to Oldenburg threatens Nazis with further increase of serious shortage of meat and milk products. To battle the danger, German officials have ordered a quarantine affecting numerous districts of western Germany with the population being forbidden to go from village to village, since they might be germ carriers. Authorities also have ordered vaccination of all cattle in the affected areas.

Creeping across the border from Alsace-Lorraine, where it already has caused losses of more than five million dollars, the disease first attacked the Saar and Palatinate districts. More than 2,000 farms have been stricken in the strip of land along the border, and despite the desperate measures being taken to confine the disease within its present limits, veterinary experts fear that "a further spread of the sickness must be expected."

Tell Fight on Disease.

In a recent interview, Dr. Weber of the ministry of the interior and Dr. Moritz of the ministry for food supply, told of the steps being taken to suppress the disease, which last year was extinct in Germany.

"We have closed the schools and canceled public meetings in villages in the Saar and Palatinate," they said. "After a ten year battle against this disease, we succeeded last year in eliminating it from Germany. At present, we are using every legal measure to keep it within its present bounds, for, while it is not yet serious, we remember the epizoötic of 1920, which cost more than a hundred million dollars damages in Prussia alone."

Calves and young pigs have been the chief sufferers so far, according to Dr. Weber and Dr. Moritz. For this reason losses to date have not been severe enough to have any great effect on the food supply of the nation. "However," said Dr. Weber, "we will not be able to get milk from these areas for a long time."

Vaccination Best Weapon.

The chief weapon in the hands of the government is vaccination. Areas surrounding the infected districts are marked and all animals in a wide circle around them vaccinated. This process of "ring vaccination" has checked the spread of the disease to a certain extent, and considerably lessened the speed with which it spreads. The animals remain immune for two weeks, and the serum weakens the violence of the infection for a prolonged period after innoculation.

The winter season, when animals are confined in their stables, also has come to the aid of the disease fighters. A more thorough system of inspection and treatment is possible when the animals are stabled, and it is easy to quarantine a farm if traces of the disease are found.

Niagara Falls Reports Big Postcard Business

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Nov. 24.—Honeymooners at this famed mecca of brides and grooms are spending more money than ever before. As an indication of the return of prosperity, postal officials cite record breaking movement of postcards, letters, curios, and souvenirs. More than 150,000 pieces were handled during a recent week-end, for an all time record. Most of the mail was picture postcards bearing the familiar courtesy, "Wish you were here."

24,000 Foot Mountain Sealed by Educator

LONDON, Nov. 24.—S. Chapman, a British schoolmaster, has made the first ascent of Chomulhari, one of the sacred mountains of the Himalayas, which rises 24,000 feet. He accomplished this feat with but one porter. Author of two books, ornithologist and explorer, he taught at St. John's college, Cambridge, and at other schools. A first-rate photographer, he suddenly quit his post in 1935 as an assistant master to cross Lapland on a sledge and take pictures.

British Find Increase in Small Investors

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Small investors of Britain are rich in the mass, if not individually, according to the figures revealed by Sir Kingsley Wood, minister of health. At a Mansion house meeting in London he stated that Britain has 18,000,000 small investors with $15,000,000,000 to their credit. More than 1,000,000 persons are buying homes. Since the world war the building societies have lent more than $5,000,000,000.

UNCLE BILL IS DEAD AT AGE 101 WITHOUT EVER SEEING TRAIN

Whitesburg, Ky., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—William [Uncle Bill] Hoskins of Wooton's Creek in Leslie county is dead at his home after a ten day illness at the age of 101, being the oldest man in that section of the mountains.

Uncle Bill had lived on Wooton's creek all his life and was never out of Leslie county. Since there are no railroads in the county, Uncle Bill had never beheld a railroad train.

He had seen automobiles, however, as a good road reaches Hyden, the county seat of Leslie, and he walked to Hyden less than a year ago to behold his first auto. The centenarian took a ride on the new-fangled car, as he expressed it. His wife died two years ago at 99.

Uncle Bill leaves seven or eight hundred descendents of the old Hoskins family in Leslie and Perry counties. H ewas the father of seventeen children, fifteen still living. All these had large families.

FATHER'S FIERY IDEA FOR BABY BUGGY COOLED

At 2 a. m., while eighteen families slept in a west side apartment house, he went into the first floor hallway and set fire to his child's shabby old perambulator. In a moment, flames crackled. Fire engines raced up.

"Why did you do it?" Erickson was asked in the police lineup after his arrest on suspicion of arson.

"Well, the baby carriage belonged to me and I thought the fire department would buy me a new one if it was burned up," he said.

"Didn't you know there were eighteen families living in your apartment house?"

"Yes, but I woke them all up and told them there was a fire," Erickson replied, without emotion.

He was sent to the workhouse.

FIREMAN MUST LOSE 7 POUNDS OR LOSE HIS JOB

Millburn, N. J., Nov. 24.—Edward J. O'Brien, probationary fireman, must lose at least seven pounds by Jan. 14 or join the unemployed.

A week ago the township committee gave O'Brien 60 days to reduce frof 212 pounds to the 205 pound maximum stipulated for his height in eligibility requirements for permanent appointment to the department. When O'Brien got his probationary appointment a year ago, he weighed 196 pounds. Twelve months of playing checkers and reading pulp magazines added 16 pounds.

O'Brien would not discuss his dietary plans today.

Canada's Mounties Adopt Autos and Discard Horses

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Nov. 24.—The famous "mounties" of Canada have abandoned horses in favor of swift automobiles to trail rustlers in southern Alberta. The Royal Canadian Mounted police are patroling the ranges along the Alberta-Montana border in an effort to trap an organized gang of rustlers.

Succeeds Dead Friend as Pastor; Then as Husband

Houston, Tex., Nov. 24.—The Rev. Robert Lee Grundy, 86 years old, Negro, applied for a marriage license. "I'm taking over the pastorate of my late friend, the Rev. William Gillian, and I'm taking it over lock, stock and barrel," he explained. He got a license to wed Ella Gillian, 70, his friend's widow.

DRIVERS WARNED TO USE CAUTION ON ICY STREETS

Simple Tricks of Control Prevent Accidents.

BY HAL FOUST.

Judging from a recent tour over ice covered streets in THE TRIBUNE roadster, there were many Chicago motorists who can thank their luck rather than their driving skill for their well being today. After eight months without snow on the pavements, many drivers seemed to have lost, at least temporarily, those simple tricks of control essential to safe automobile operation in the winter.

With the season's first ice on the streets last week, garages had a rush of business in their repair departments. Bumpers were broken, wheels were cracked, and fenders were creased from power skids, brake skids, and turn skids. Most of these accidents could have been prevented with a bit more skill at the controls.

3 Operations Affected.

The essential difference between driving on a dry and on an icy street is one of traction—the friction between tire treads and the pavement. This affects the three elemental operations of an automobile—acceleration, deceleration, and change of course.

Almost all motorists reduce their speeds, obeying the first rule for safety under these conditions. The survey tour about the city found, however, that other important rules were overlooked by many car operators in their first experiences with ice this season.

Some motorist spun the rear wheels of their cars, racing the engines, in trying to start from a slick pavement. This has a tendency to swing the rear end of the car sideways, in the direction away from the rear wheel that is getting more of the scarce friction. A slow turn of the drive wheels lessens this tendency. This type of side push, other than that of momentum, can be eliminated by synchronizing engine revolutions with the car's movement.

Slide Perils Braking.

In braking on slippery pavement there are several common causes of side slide. An unequal adjustment will lock a wheel. One side of the pavement will offer more friction than the other. The greater weight in the front of the car may tend to throw the rear end around.

In decelerating on ice, expertes advise the use of the engine compression, which holds back on the car from the rear. In applying the brakes, try to keep all four wheels turning until the automobile is stopped. Ease the pressure on the pedal if the car swings sideways.

In taking a curve or turn, the front wheels must be kept revolving if they are to guide the automobile in a new direction. They won't revolve if the brakes are applied. They may stop revolving if they are cramped to the left while momentum is pushing the vehicle sideways to the right, or vice versa.

To stop a side swing due to any of these three causes, turn the front wheels in the direction of the skid. This is to get the car headed in the direction it is moving. Don't become panic stricken and tramp the brakes. Release the brakes if brakes are causing the skid, and ease the accelerator if the engine is driving the vehicle into the skid.

RECORD NUMBER OF TURKEYS CONSUMED BY U. S. THIS YEAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—American consumers are eating more turkey this year than ever before. The 1936 crop was the largest on record; nevertheless, the remaining stocks in storage have been reduced almost to normal size, according to B. H. Bennett in the November issue of "The Agricultural Situation," published by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Until recent years the production of turkeys had been a minor part of the regular farm enterprise, Bennett says. Now turkey production is frequently referred to as a $50,000,000 industry. The first big crop was in 1929—about 17,000,000 birds. Last year the production was more than 20,000,000 birds.

Australian Judge Raises Umbrella in Courtroom

SYDNEY, Nov. 25.—Sydney's law-courts are famed for their age, their discomfort, and their bad roof. Recently rain, finding an entrance to a court where Judge Swift was hearing a complicated property case, forced the judge to say: "Well, there's nothing for it, gentlemen, but to put up an umbrella." He promptly did so.

CLOSING FOREIGN GIFT MAIL DATES NEAR IN CHICAGO

Postmaster Urges That Parcels Be Sent Early.

Chicagoans who intend to send Christmas parcels, cards, and letters to foreign countries were urged yesterday by Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen to mail them early. He announced the approximate closing dates when such mail will be received at the Chicago postoffice.

"It is not possible to tell exactly when parcel post packages to foreign lands will be delivered, due to customs formalities and possible congestion of the mails during the peak period," said the postmaster. "Therefore they should be mailed as early as possible to insure arrival before Christmas."

Final Dates Listed.

The list of closing dates in Chicago for mail to foreign countries and certain United States possessions follows: British, French, and Dutch Guiana, Dec. 1; Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Paraguay, and Uruguay, Dec. 2; Bulgaria, Finland, Greece, Madeira, Malta, Portugal, Palestine, Rumania, Turkey, Soviet Russia, and Yugoslavia, Dec. 6; Bolivia, Columbia, Ecuador, Nicaragua, Dec. 8; Guatemala, and Salvador, Dec. 11; Austria, Belgium, Denmark, England, Estonia, France, Germany, Hungary, Latvia, Luxemburg, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Scotland, Sweden, and Switzerland, Dec. 13; Virgin Island, Panama, Haiti, and Canal Zone, Dec. 14.

Others include: Bahamas, Barbados, Bermuda, Newfoundland, Porto Rico, Trinidad, and Venezuela, Dec. 16. Parcel post service has been suspended to Spain and to Jehol province in China and to Manchuria because of warfare.

Pacific Closing Dates.

Closing dates in Chicago for trans-Pacific mails are: Japan and Hawaii, Dec. 8. The deadline for mail to the Philippine Islands was Nov. 24. Mail for Canada and Mexico must be sent by Dec. 19.

The postmaster urged that all parcels be heavily wrapped and deposited at carrier or finance stations, at the general postoffice, Canal and Van Buren streets, or at the old postoffice annex in the United States courthouse.

So You Didn't Raise Your Boy To Be a Soldier....?

WELL, it might be better if you had! . . . Although the War to end War ended November 11, 1918, the world has never been free of war since. War ravaged Ireland and Russia years after the World War. Revolutions shed blood in Germany and Italy, long before the civil war in Spain. French soldiers fought the Riff, Syrians and Algerians to cement colonies to France. American troops were under arms in Haiti and Nicaragua. Japan found new battles to fight in Manchukuo before Shanghai became a shambles. Italy, fired with Imperial enterprise, waged a war in Ethiopia. In the nineteenth year of "the peace", the world groans under the heaviest armaments in history, adds more men to standing armies. New inventions promise sickening possibilities. New wars do not exempt civilian population! Even the United States and Britain are spending billions on new armaments. And the common people of all countries pay the bills!

Public Interest in Electric Cooking Spreading Rapidly

Learn How Little It Costs to Cook with Electricity

AT your first opportunity visit one of the many stores now featuring modern automatic electric ranges—they are located in the principal shopping centers throughout the city as well as downtown. Learn just why Chicago kitchens are now "going electric" in rapidly increasing numbers.

Under Chicago's low electric rates, cooking with an electric range is actually cheap. All electricity in excess of 100 kilowatt hours a month costs only two cents a kilowatt hour. If you are now using this amount of electricity, the 100 to 125 additional kilowatt hours a month used by the average electric range will cost you only $2 to $2.50.

Electric ranges are made in many sizes, models and styles by many different manufacturers. You are sure to find just the right range for your kitchen.

Ranges may be purchased on easy terms. Visit your electric range dealer and find out how easy it is to have the range of your choice in your kitchen. Ask your dealer to explain in detail the many advantages of electric cooking . . . and tell you just why an automatic electric range will contribute to Better Living in your home.

MODERN ELECTRIC RANGES OFFER MANY COOKING ADVANTAGES

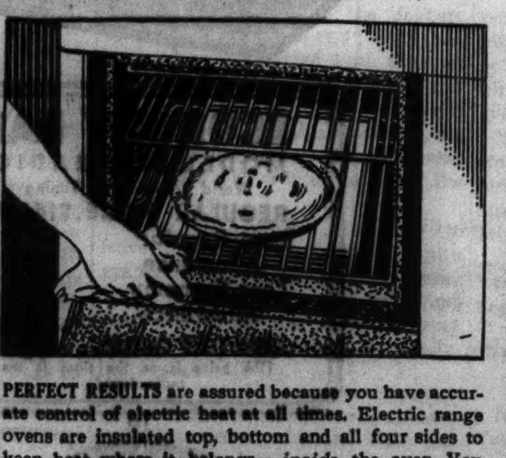
AUTOMATIC CONTROL of oven cooking means that when you intend to be away for the day, you can place your meal in the oven before you leave, then "set it and forget it". Your automatic time and temperature controls do all the tedious "watching and waiting" for you.

AN ECONOMY FEATURE of all modern electric ranges is the deep well cooker. In it you can make delicious soups, stews, roasts or other dishes and even prepare an entire meal. Only a short high-heat period is necessary, then the cooking is finished on "low" or "simmer" using only a fractional amount of electricity.



PERFECT RESULTS are assured because you have accurate control of electric heat at all times. Electric range ovens are insulated top, bottom and all four sides to keep heat where it belongs—inside the oven. You know you will always have even cooking temperatures and even distribution of heat in the electric range oven.

It's so Clean! Fast! Automatic! Cheap! and so MODERN!

The automatic electric range of today takes time and trouble out of cooking—makes meal preparation faster, cleaner, easier. Foods are always so tasty and deliciously cooked.

Minutes instead of Hours in the Kitchen

You'll welcome the simplicity and ease of operation. You'll be delighted with the cleanliness—your pots and pans will stay shiny without scouring. The automatic controls will give you hours of extra time away from the kitchen, because electric cooking needs no watching.
